NEW NOTE SENT BY BERLIN

France Informed She Will Be Held Responsible for Loss from Frankfort Violence.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, April 9.—The British Government has notified the French Government that if it persists in acting alone in measures to enforce the treaty, Great Britain will withdraw her representative from the Committee of Ambassadors, which is the official body charged with the enforcement of the Versailles Treaty.

This warning came at the end of a note from the British Cabinet, handed to Premier Millerand today by Lord Derby, the British Ambassador. This note, following closely up to the last two paragraphs the analysis given out in London last night, stated that while the good faith of France was not doubted, she had acted hastily in taking a measure which should have been used only as a last resort.

It recalled that the Allies and America had made known their opposition to the French plan and that, therefore, England disavowed responsibility for France's action and would not take part in the extension of the occupation. Then it added that the peace of Europe demanded the maintenance of good relations between France and England and expressed the hope for their continuance in the enforcement of the treaty.

The final paragraph of the statement, however, said that if France chose to act independently, England would have to continue to disclaim responsibility and no longer have a member on the Committee of Ambassadors.

This note produced a very serious impression in French officialdom. The fact that its intent had been made known at London before it was sent to M. Millerand was presented. That Belgium came out openly in support of France's action served to emphasize the British refusal to do so.

I understand that the session of the French Cabinet at which the British statement was made known was a stormy one. The fact that the British note created the impression that it spoke the view of America as well as Italy was not pleasing to the French Ministers.

Settlement of Rhine Difficulty.

However, despite the ugly aspects of the situation, it looks brighter tonight. Premier Millerand is preparing a reply to the British note. It is understood that he will agree with Lloyd George that the Entente should be preserved and that France ardently desires that it shall be. At the same time he will insist that France stands for strict enforcement of the treaty.

I understand that a way is about to be opened to amicable settlement of the whole Rhine situation. It may be that this will come through the good offices of England in making certain representations to France and Germany which may result in the withdrawal of German troops, at least to a large extent, in compliance with France's demands, and the subsequent evacuation of Frankfort and Darmstadt by French troops.

Neutrals Seek to Make Russia Pay Her State and Trade Debts

"LIE," REPLIES PROSECUTOR

Court Accepts Statement and Refuses Demand for Contempt Action.

Charging that Assistant District Attorney James E. Smith had used the Grand Jury subpoena solely to get material for an attack on Inspector Dominick Henry through the newspapers and that he had misrepresented grossly the stock transactions of Inspector Henry, W. Bourke Cockran applied yesterday to Judge Malone in Special Sessions for a warrant for Mr. Smith for contempt. The motion was refused by Judge Malone on a vehement denial by Mr. Smith.

This allegation against the Assistant District Attorney was made at the arraignment of Inspector Henry, who pleaded not guilty, and asked for an immediate trial on the indictment for neglect of duty. The trial was fixed for April 22. In the meantime he has been suspended by Police Commissioner Enright.

Mr. Cockran asserted that Mr. Smith had obtained the Henry accounts from the Stock Exchange firm of Billings, Olcott & Winsmore of 10 Wall Street through a Grand Jury subpoena; that he had not placed them before the Grand Jury at all; that he called the reporters from evening newspapers into his office and exhibited the accounts to them as incriminating material against Inspector Henry, and that he had suppressed the fact that Inspector Henry voluntarily had placed the same documents before the Extraordinary Grand Jury, with a full explanation that he had received the money with which he bought stocks from Bridget Rowan, an aunt, who had made over an estate of between $40,000 and $50,000 to him before her death.

Stock Deals Put at $10,000.

It was declared that a close analysis of the Stock Exchange account made yesterday greatly reduced the proportions of Inspector Henry's Wall Street operations, indicating that the total amount of cash involved in his transactions with this firm was about $10,000, instead of $50,000, the estimate which came from the District Attorney's office.

"I charge him with the abuse of your Honor's process in the exhibition of papers obtained under subpoena of this court," said Mr. Cockran in arguing the motion, "which papers he exhibited to newspaper reporters, and did not present them to the Grand Jury, as the subpoena required.

"This comes directly within the provisions of the law. It is also a circulation of a deliberate misstatement of facts. My client disclosed before the Extraordinary Grand Jury and to Attorneys Rand and Smyth the existence of this stock brokerage account, and I charge that Smith obtained this information only through that one source. He could not have got it from any other source.

"He gave it out because of personal spite. I am not now discussing the propriety of the act. This is not the place to discuss that. I will discuss that before the Bar Association. Here is a plain breach of the law. You are in charge of the Grand Jury processes, which processes, I charge, have been openly violated to satisfy a private vengeance."

After Mr. Cockran had read from the Penal Code on the subject of Grand Jury evidence, Judge Malone said:

"Mr. District Attorney, what have you to say in answer to that?"

Gives Cockran the Lie.

"The statement of counsel for the defense is absolutely false," shouted Mr. Smith. Walking toward Mr. Cockran and Inspector Henry and shaking his fist at them, he added:

"Or, in short, it is a lie. I received no information, Mr. Cockran," he continued, "from the Extraordinary Grand Jury or any one connected with it."

"Where did you get it?" demanded Mr. Cockran.

"I am not obliged to tell you or your client anything about where I got my information. The man who brought the papers here talked to the newspaper men and gave them the information."

Judge Malone thereupon denied the motion and refused to hear anything further on the subject from either side.

Mr. Cockran's demand for a warrant for the arrest of Assistant District At-

PEACE RESOLUTION PASSES, 242-150; 50 SPEECHES MADE

22 House Democrats Swing Over to Majority, Including 12 from This City.

TWO REPUBLICANS BOLT

KITCHIN, ILL, COLLAPSES

Stricken with Paralysis After Speech—Kelley (Rep.) Assails His Party's Stand.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The House tonight passed, by a vote of 242 to 150, the joint resolution to declare war with Germany at an end, and sent it to the Senate, where Republican leaders propose to force consideration at once.

This action came after the House, sitting as a Committee of the Whole, had rejected by a vote of 222 to 171, a motion by Representative Flood to recommit the resolution and substitute an amendment, which provided for annulment of war-time regulations.

In the final vote two Republicans—Fuller of Massachusetts and Kelley of Michigan—opposed the resolution, while twenty-two Democrats voted with the Republicans.

Twelve New York Democrats Bolt.

Twelve of the nineteen New York City Democrats bolted the party. Representatives Longworth of Ohio and Bell of Georgia voted present, but both were paired, the former with Representative Kitchin, who suffered a stroke of paralysis a short time before the vote came.

Democrats who supported the resolution were Ashbrook and O'Connor of Louisiana, Caldwell, Carew, Cullen, Ganly, Goldfogle, Maher, O'Connell, Pell, Meade, Sullivan and McKiniry of New York, Huddleston of Alabama, Hamill of New Jersey, McLean of Pennsylvania, Evans of Nevada, Olney, Gallivan and Teague of Massachusetts, and Sherwood of Ohio.

The Democratic motion to recommit read, in part:

> That in the interpretation of any provision relating to the date of the termination of the present war or of the present existing emergency, the date when this resolution becomes effective shall be construed and treated as the date of the termination of the war or of the present existing emergency and of the proclamations of the President, notwithstanding any provisions in any act of Congress or joint resolutions providing the date of the termination of the war or of the present emergency.
> Provided that all acts, joint resolutions or parts of acts or joint resolutions, fixed by the terms of the same to expire or terminate upon the expiration or the termination of the war, the present or existing emergency, are hereby repealed.

The Republicans received little encouragement from the victory, as the resolution obtained twenty votes fewer than the necessary two-thirds to pass it over a Presidential veto. Despite this Senator Lodge stated tonight that the Senate Foreign Relations Committee would promptly consider the resolution with the purpose of reporting it to the Senate within ten days.

Kitchin Collapses After Speech.

The debate was sharp and partisan and was marked by the collapse of Claude Kitchin, former Democratic leader, after a passionate appeal to his colleagues to defeat the resolution because of its "unconstitutionality and hypocrisy."

Mr. Kitchin, in leading the fight for the Administration forces, started his speech in his characteristically robust style, but as he closed he showed signs of faintness and soon afterward left the floor, collapsing. His physician, who was summoned, ordered him to his home, saying that he had suffered a slight stroke of paralysis, the second in two months.

Representative P. J. Kelley of Michigan, who bolted his party, made a powerful speech in opposition. He excoriated his party as attempting to force a separate peace with Germany, and for seriously considering the resolution, which he said was unconstitutional and proposed a treaty with Germany without terms.

His desertion was offset by the acquisition of Representative James A. Gallivan of Massachusetts, who denounced the attitude of the President as delaying the conclusion of peace because he "could not have his own way as to the League of Nations."

Ex-Speaker Clark, the Democratic leader, said that while he was in favor of peace, he did not intend to fight for peace along unconstitutional lines.

More than fifty speeches were made, many of them for the coming campaign.

Full Newberry Investigation Ordered by Senate Committee

WASHINGTON, April 9. — The Senate Elections Committee today ordered a full and immediate investigation of the Ford-Newberry election by the sub-committee of which Senator Watson, Republican, of Indiana is Chairman and which was appointed for the purpose of recounting the ballots cast in Michigan for both candidates.

The motion to extend the sub-committee's authority was offered by Senator Kenyon, Republican, of Iowa. It directs "a full investigation of all the charges, counter-charges, matters and things" involved in the contest.

HOOVER SAYS 'NO' TO THE DEMOCRATS

Wires C. M. Wood of Boston That He Would Not Accept Their Nomination.

THIRD-PARTY IDEA DENIED

Will Not Run Independently if Rejected by Republicans, Friends Declare.

Herbert Hoover declared definitely yesterday that he would not accept the Democratic nomination for President. In reply to a letter from Chandler M. Wood of Boston, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Democratic State Committee of Massachusetts, asking if he would accept the Democratic nomination if offered, Mr. Hoover sent the following telegram, which was made public by the Hoover National Republican Club:

> April 9, 1920.
> 40 State Street, Boston, Mass.
> Your published letter asking if I would accept the Democratic nomination has been received by me this morning, and I do appreciate the implied compliment. I gather that it was written prior to a statement of mine last Saturday which appeared in Boston and other papers. You will no doubt, therefore, now appreciate that the answer to your inquiry is "No."

Cites Support of Wilson.

Mr. Wood, who is President of the Metropolitan Trust Company of Boston, was instrumental, with Edward A. Filene of that city, in forming the Hoover Democratic Club of Massachusetts. In his letter to Mr. Hoover, Mr. Wood stated that the former's appeal for the election of a Democratic Congress two years ago and his support of President Wilson made his friends in the Democratic Party believe that he should be the Democratic nominee for President, despite his announcement that he would accept the Republican nomination.

In his previous statements Mr. Hoover has never said definitely that he would not accept the Democratic nomination, although he has implied it. In his letter to Captain J. F. Lucey, Chairman of the Hoover National Republican Club, to which he refers in his telegram, Mr. Hoover expressed the hope that his friends would not embarrass him by suggesting him for any other nomination than the Republican.

Mr. Hoover's decision to make his position clear was said to have been brought about in part by the representations of those prominent in the Hoover National Republican Club that they were somewhat embarrassed by a belief that circumstances might arise which might make him a possibility as the Democratic nominee, an embarrassment which was increased by Mr. Hoover carrying the Democratic primaries in Michigan.

Clearing Way for Sharp Campaign.

Mr. Hoover was said to have been advised that this was not a year in which a man could "pussyfoot" into the White House, and the way is now thought to have been cleared for a more aggressive campaign by Mr. Hoover's Republican supporters.

It was said at the headquarters of the Hoover National Republican Club that Mr. Hoover had no thought of the possibility of his heading a third party movement. The New York World, which put Mr. Hoover forward for the Presidency, published an editorial yesterday indicating its belief that Mr. Hoover should head such a movement as a matter of principle, if the "reactionaries" should control the Republican National Convention and adopt a platform opposed to those principles in which Mr. Hoover has said he believes. It was said that Mr. Hoover already had indicated his attitude on the point raised by the World, and the following sentence was quoted from his message to the Hoover California Club:

"No one should be able to dictate the policies of the great parties, yet every man and woman has a right to decide what issues and measures he will support."

The headquarters of the Hoover National Republican Club will be moved

BREAK IN CHICAGO STRIKE

INSURGENT LEADER DEFIANT

He Asserts That He Gains Strength and That Issue Is Death of Old Organization.

WALKOUT SPREADS IN WEST

Switchmen in Portland, Ore., Omaha, Salt Lake and Other Points Leave Their Work.

CHICAGO, April 9.—A break in the unauthorized strike of switchmen and enginemen at Chicago, where it started nine days ago with a subsequent spread to a number of railroad centres, was announced today by A. A. Whitney, Vice President of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, who conferred with a committee of strikers from the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad.

The delegation was said to have told Mr. Whitney that a vote would be taken within twenty-four hours with a view to ending the strike on that railroad by Saturday night. Brotherhood officers said that a number of strikers returned to work today, and predicted that the movement of freight in the Chicago area would be near normal by next week. Another group of strikers requested the Mayor of Chicago today to take steps to settle the strike by addressing a mass meeting of yard employes.

Leaders of the insurgents, however, said the strike was not only not broken but would be carried on until a new union was completed.

Reports from railroad centres throughout the country indicated that nearly 30,000 men are on strike. Freight embargoes were declared today in a number of cities by railroads affected by the walkout. Breaks in the strike were reported in a few places. Switchmen and brakemen on the Missouri Pacific Railroad at Sedalia, Mo., who walked out this morning, returned to work this afternoon.

Points throughout the Southwest reported embargoes had been placed on freight and cattle shipments to St. Louis, Kansas City and Chicago, and freight traffic between New Orleans and Chicago was suspended.

Switchmen in the Oregon, Washington Railroad & Navigation Company's yards at Albbina, Ore., near Portland, struck late today. About one-half the night shift failed to report for work.

Men also quit at the Southern Pacific yards at the Union Station in Portland, and they were reported out at the Union Pacific yards.

	Men Out.		Men Out.
Chicago	8,000	Salt Lake City	200
St. Louis	5,000	Saginaw, Mich.	200
Toledo	4,000	Ogden, Utah	150
Detroit	1,500	Decatur, Ill.	107
Los Angeles	1,400	Pueblo, Col.	102
Buffalo	1,300	Springfield, Ill.	50
Pittsburgh	1,000	Joliet, Ill.	50

One thousand switchmen at Omaha and Council Bluffs voted to support the striking switchmen.

Railroad employes of the Valley Junction yards of the Rock Island near Des Moines voted not to strike.

More time in which to break the strike was asked in a letter addressed to the Western Association of Railways by the railroad brotherhoods.

Brotherhoods Ask for Patience.

"We wish to assure the railroads with whom we have contracts," the letter said, "that it is our purpose to support the integrity of these contracts by endeavoring to protect them to the fullest extent, in order that the public may not be seriously inconvenienced.

"We appreciate, however, that owing to present economic conditions, over which we have no control, and the fact that the situation has been grossly misrepresented by irresponsible persons, who have assumed dictatorship of an unorganized body of men, that it will be difficult for us to entirely relieve the situation until we have had further opportunity to meet and talk with our members. We believe the railroads will co-operate with us to that end."

W. G. Lee, President of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, announced today that the brotherhood would oppose any attempt to settle the walkout by mediation.

"We will resist every effort to settle this illegal strike by mediation," Mr. Lee said. "There is nothing to mediate with the insurgents and the fight now is to preserve the recognized labor organization."

Grunau Threatens Old Union.

The question of wages and hours has become of secondary importance, according to John Grunau, President of the Chicago Yardmen's Association, which called the original walkout.

"The fight has become one of supremacy between the new and the old unions," Grunau said. "We railroad men are tired of receiving nothing but promises from our leaders. We demand results."

An optimistic statement was issued today by the Western General Manag-

Chiefs Assert Strikers Aim to Kill Brotherhoods And to Replace Old Organizations With "One Union"

CLEVELAND, April 9.—A signed statement was issued here tonight by the chiefs of the four big transportation brotherhoods saying that the present strike of the switchmen was originated for the purpose of destroying the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Switchmen's Union of North America, and that the wage demand was later injected for the purpose of deceiving yardmen throughout the country and promoting the "One Big Union" idea. The statement reads:

> The present strike of men engaged in switching service was originated in Chicago by a new organization that has for its purpose the destruction of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Switchmen's Union and in its inception had nothing to do with the wage question, but was a demand for the reinstatement of the leader of this opposition organization.
> After this strike was instituted for this purpose, the leaders of the new organization then injected the wage question for the sole purpose of deceiving the yardmen throughout the United States and to promote the "One Big Union" idea.
> There can be no settlement of pending wage questions while this illegal action continues. We insist that every member of these Brotherhoods do everything within their power to preserve their existing contracts, which if abrogated may take years to rebuild. The laws of all of these organizations provide penalties for members engaging in illegal strikes, and these penalties will be enforced.

LEE WANTS LAW ON REBEL STRIKERS

SENATE ORDERS INQUIRY

President Is Expected to Name the Arbitration Board at Once.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Virtually admitting that the strike of railroad trainmen and switchmen over the country had got beyond the control of union officials W. G. Lee, President of the Brotherhood of Trainmen, telegraphed Representative Cooper, Republican, of Ohio today asking whether present laws "apply to renegade organizations or those inciting illegal strikes."

Mr. Cooper, who is a member of the trainmen's union, took the matter up with Acting Attorney General Ames and was told that while the Department of Justice was watching the situation it had no statement to make at this time. Mr. Lee's telegram reads:

> The illegal strike of the switchmen is spreading all over the country regardless of the efforts of the officers of the Brotherhood and the Switchmen's Union, the only bona fide organizations entitled to represent the yardmen. It seems strange that the present laws against strikes of railroad employes can be threatened or used only against bona fide labor organizations that have supported the Government at all times and made good their contracts with railroads. Must we understand that such laws do not apply to renegade organizations or those inciting illegal strikes?

Before this telegram was received the Senate had adopted, without a record vote, Senator McCormick's resolution directing the Interstate Commerce Committee to investigate all strikes of railroad employes not sanctioned by the responsible officers of the railroad unions. Chairman Cummins of the Interstate Commerce Committee announced late today that the investigation would begin Tuesday, but that he had not decided whether it would be conducted by a full committee or a sub-committee.

Meantime the Senator has telegraphed to Mr. Lee asking for the names and addresses of the labor leaders in Chicago connected with the strike, with a view to summoning them before the committee.

Administration officers are giving close attention to the strike, but they indicated tonight that the Government would not intervene at this time, leaving the matter to the union officials to handle. They would not indicate in what manner the Government could proceed should final decision be reached that the situation was one calling for Federal action. It was suggested, however, that before any other step was taken an appeal would probably be made to the men to return to work pending a settlement of their wage demands through the machinery provided by the Transportation act.

Blames Strike on President's Delay.

In calling up his resolution Senator McCormick said that President Wilson's delay in appointing the members of the Railroad Labor Board, which is to handle wage and other disputes under the provisions of the Transportation act, made the Senate investigation necessary, for in no other way could the public be given the facts. White House officials said today the President was selecting the members of the board and that the nominations could be looked for at any time.

Senator Kellogg of Minnesota, in the discussion on the resolution, said he did

STRIKE ON PENNSYLVANIA

Men Vote to Go Out on Suburban Passenger Service as Far as Rahway.

The employes of the Hudson & Manhattan Railroad Company voted to quit work in the Hudson tubes at 5 o'clock this morning. The vote was almost unanimous, according to men who left the meeting shortly after midnight.

Word was received at the meeting in Jersey City last night that the trainmen on suburban passenger trains of the Pennsylvania Railroad had voted, 104 to 1, to quite work this morning at 5 o'clock, simultaneously with the walkout of the tube men. The two strikes would cripple the local commuting strike out of Jersey City, affecting among other towns Rahway, Linden, Millsville and Colonia.

The strike order of the Hudson tube workers, it was learned, was voted on condition that the employes of the Pennsylvania in Local 592 join the strike. The object was to tie up all the trains within the area covered by the tubes.

The police are making preparations to police the tube entrances and platforms this morning. Police Chief Battersby of Jersey City said this morning that his men would guard the tube stations and see that no disorder prevails. He was not able to say whether the company would make any attempt to operate trains should all the employes refuse to report for work.

Officials of the Hudson and Manhattan were in communication with the police of Newark this morning and notified them that the men had voted to go on strike at 5 o'clock. The information was that the last "tube" train would leave Newark at 3:20 this morning, make a trip to New York and return to Newark about 5 o'clock. The police were informed by the railroad officials that the 5:46 "tube" train from Newark would in all probability not start out.

Police reserves were to be sent to the Newark terminal about 4 o'clock this morning to protect any men who may be selected by the company to man any cars sent out. The police from the present outlook do not believe that any "tube" trains will leave from Newark today.

Several hours of discussion came first, in which it was stated that some of the officials of Local No. 879 of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen urged postponement of the strike until the latter part of the week, but that the men themselves insisted on going out.

The vote at midnight was taken by the employes of the morning shift. The hall started to fill immediately with employes of the later shift, who were reported to be voting almost unanimously to follow the others in striking.

About 2,000 employes will be affected by the strike order, and President I. G. Hunt of the local, who presided at the meeting, predicted that the strike would be practically unanimous. He said that the main purpose of the strike was to get wage increases, advancing the wage of conductors from $4.50 to $6; collectors from $4.16 to $4.80, and trainmen and flagmen from $3.67 to $4.

While the wage question was generally put forward as the grievance actuating those who called for the strike some of those in attendance said that the fundamental purpose was to produce a revolution in the "Big Four" and overthrow the present officers on the ground that they had misrepresented the men.

"The intention is," one man said, "to

EMBARGO ON ALL FREIGHT

If the Strike Lasts New Means to Bring In Food Must Be Sought

ERIE TIED UP ENTIRELY

UNIONS DISAVOW STRIKE

Commuters Face Severe Trials —Mystery as to Leaders of Strike.

Railroad service in and about New York reached a state of complete confusion last night as a result of the unauthorized strike of insurgent railroad workers, which had spread here Thursday from Chicago.

Freight transportation was completely halted, passenger service on all the roads was crippled, all trains, both freight and passenger, on the Erie have been stopped by a strike of firemen, and, with the ferries running irregularly as a result of the strike of railroad harbormen, and the vote of the Hudson and Manhattan Tube employes to strike at 5 o'clock this morning, commuters are facing a serious crisis in transportation.

An embargo in all freight has been issued by every road running into New York or the surrounding territory. The railroads are, however, making valiant efforts to transport enough milk for invalids and babies. Perishable foods, however, are under the ban, and if the strike lasts, all outside supplies will be entirely cut off within a few days.

Erie Completely Tied Up.

The first serious blow to the passenger traffic came shortly before midnight last night, when the locomotive firemen of the Erie started to walk out, holding up all outgoing trains. J. J. Mantell, General Manager of the road, said that the service was completely halted.

"It looks pretty bad," he said. "I am afraid that the commuters' trains cannot be run in the morning. I can't tell what will happen. We can't find out the men's grievances."

The employes of the Hudson and Manhattan tubes at a meeting in Jersey City, which ended at midnight, voted to strike at 5 o'clock this morning.

Union Men Avert Shopmen's Strike.

The radical element among the railroad shopcrafts attempted last night to arouse the Allied Shop Crafts to join the yardmen in their strike. They called a secret meeting, without the sanction of the officers of the organization, in Hantman's Hall, Harrison, N. J., and in radical speeches called upon the shopmen to desert their jobs. The walkout was prevented by John C. Rattigan, Grand Lodge President of the Brotherhood of Railroad Carmen, and Benjamin C. McWatters, President of District 40 of the Brotherhood of Machinists, who had heard of the meeting and attended.

McWatters told the men that the agreement of the Allied Shop Crafts with the Government did not expire until Sept. 1. He urged that all of the men in each craft stick to his work, regardless of the switchmen's strike.

Violent speeches followed McWatters's address. Many of the men declared for an immediate walkout. For more than two hours the meeting was in tumult. McWatters found many supporters, however, among the shopmen and after a long discussion his counsel prevailed.

The shop workers included representatives from the International Association of Machinists, the Brotherhood of Boilermakers, the Brotherhood of Blacksmiths' Helpers, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, and the Brotherhood of Railroad Carmen.

Passenger services on all the roads was reported "irregular but adequate" at midnight. It was said that there were no signs of the strike's spreading beyond the yardmen. Striking yardmen, however, declared last night that all of the passenger crews were to join them.

Car inspectors, galvanizers, steamfitters, pipefitters and other mechanics in the Greenville yard of the Pennsylvania Railroad walked out late last night. They asserted that the passenger yard mechanics would soon join them.

All railroads running into the city are now involved in the strike. Up to last night the Long Island yards in Long Island City had not been affected. At 10 o'clock, however, the strike call came, and four crews of switchmen and trainmen, representing 50 per cent. of the shift, quit work an hour before their time was up. At midnight, one hour after the night crews were due to report, not a single man had appeared for duty, thus tying up the movement of freight completely. Long Island officials estimated that 400 cars of freight, both incoming and outgoing, were brought to a standstill by the walkout. This consisted largely of raw materials and finished products for and from Long Island industries. There was little perishable stuff, it was said.

While railroad officials estimate the total number of striking workmen as 4,000, it is believed that twice that number are involved. They include nearly every class of worker.

Railroad officials styled the strike "a revolution of workers, pure and simple." The members of the railroad brotherhoods are opposed to the walkout and have sent representatives here to attempt to get the workers to return. The names of the unions involved have not been made clear, nor are the names of the strike leaders known by the railroad officials. The strikers have adopted an attitude of hostility to the press, and reporters are not allowed at their meetings, and all of the strikers have been cautioned not to give out any information, even their names.

Strikers Meet in Secret.

The strikers met behind closed doors in Jersey City yesterday and adjourned without giving out any statement regarding the action they had taken. After hours of confusion a temporary Chairman was appointed, and then followed speeches by strikers, whose names were not disclosed. It was said that the strikers were composed for the most part of members of fourteen locals of the Switchmen's Union of North America.

The meeting continued all through the afternoon. Finally a committee was appointed to arrange demands to present to the employers. It is said that they are as follows: Switch crews, paid $5.42 a day, demand $8; firemen, trainmen and switchmen, paid $4.08 a day, demand $7.50.

The places of the strikers were partially filled yesterday by loyal workers, members of the brotherhoods who are opposing the strike, clerks and officials of the companies. They were able to maintain only a curtailed service. Most of the cars moved were milk and passenger cars.

The Sunnyside yards of the Pennsylvania Railroad in Long Island City, devoted entirely to handling passenger traffic in connection with the terminal in New York, were normal last night. Officials said the strike had not touched them.

Railroad officials predicted serious conditions early in the day. J. J. Mantell, who is Chairman of the Railroad Managers' Association, said: "The heart of New York is threatened with a serious food shortage."

"We were just getting transportation back to normal as a result of the harbor strike, when this strike hit us," said another official. "This strike puts the freight situation even further back than it was a week ago."

Officials of the Marine Workers' Affiliation, whose members deserted their posts on the railroad boats several days ago, declared that the strike was really an outgrowth of the harbor strike.

Thomas B. Healey, President of the Marine Workers, and Joseph B. Stanton, President of the Port and Terminal Workers, attended the striking switchmen's meeting in Jersey City yesterday.

"The railroads are beaten," said Mr. Healey. "Conditions show that the unions will win a complete victory."

Early in the day the switchmen in the Mott Haven yards of the New York Central and the New York, New Haven & Hartford and the Old Oak Stations, freight terminals of the same roads in the Bronx, quit their jobs. Later activities were suspended at the St. John's Park freight house at Hudson and Laight Streets, which is a receiving point for shipments of butter, eggs and meats for commission merchants.

P. E. Crowley, operating Vice President of the New York Central, arrived from Buffalo early in the day and took personal charge of the situation.

No engineers or firemen are on strike. The men who have gone out are yard conductors, brakemen and switch tenders. There has been no violence on any of the Central lines.

New York Central Men Out.

An official of the New York Central said last night that between 150 and 200 men on both sides of the river had gone out. A few of these returned during the day. The Grand Central Terminal and the passenger yards were not affected in any manner late last night.

To relieve congestion on account of the harbor strike three trains were run into the Erie terminal, and an extra ferryboat was placed in service. The Weehawken terminal still has some men handling the switches in the passenger yards.

The Harlem River yards of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad were also tied up. All the yardmen went out yesterday morning, suspending all traffic. A total of 105 men are on strike.

The strike reached all of the Jersey City railroad yards yesterday morning. The yardmen of the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the Lehigh Valley, who had gone back last night after walking out earlier in the day quit again. Some loyal men remained at their posts and they were sufficient to move the passenger trains.

Officials of the Erie, including J. J. Mantell, the General Manager, worked all Thursday night shifting freight, turning switches, and even running engines in the Erie yards. The force that remained loyal, with the officials, kept the passenger service moving on schedule. Mr. Mantell said that 20,000 commuters were brought over to New York yesterday without any serious delay. Normally, 225 men are employed in the Erie yards at Jersey City.

Confusion Among Commuters.

The West Shore trains between Jersey City and Weehawken, which have been running for about a week as a result of the strike of harbormen, were discontinued between those points during the rush hour last night. Passengers bound for Weehawken were told by the guards at the Manhattan end of the Hudson tubes to take the tube to Hoboken and there take a Union Hill car to their destination. West Shore trains continue to operate westward from Weehawken, it was said. Two ferries of the West Shore were running from Forty-second Street to Weehawken up to 7 o'clock, when they suspended for the night on account of crew shortage due to the harbor strike.

The workers in the Waverly yards of the Pennsylvania had not joined the strike late last night. A large percentage of the yardmen at other points deserted, however, and freight service was practically abandoned. It was reported yesterday afternoon that the special policemen of the Pennsylvania had gone out in sympathy with the yardmen, but this was denied last night by officials of the road.

The walkout of the Lackawanna yard men was more general than on any of the other railroads. They left in a body without any warning. The Lackawanna's service was badly crippled, although passenger trains were being dispatched irregularly. No freight was moving.

2,000 Strikers Meet.

Striking railroad yard workers numbering almost two thousand from the railways running into Jersey City and Hoboken held mass meetings in the former place all through the day yesterday. The first gathering in Odd Fellows' Hall adjourned to the Fourth Regiment Armory for lack of room, but was forced for the same reason to move to Grand View Hall, near the West Shore tracks, where stormy discussion went on through the afternoon. No reporters were allowed inside the hall, but a press committee after the close of the meeting at 5 o'clock made the following statement:

"This is not an outlaw strike, and there has been no protest from Washington [referring to the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen's headquarters]. The men are asking for a living wage and have taken the law into their own hands. No outside radical influence is behind the strike."

No explanation of this statement was given, nor were the claims of the striking switchmen explained in more detail. The Press Committee, however, added the prophecy that by 6 o'clock this morning every railway on both sides of the Hudson would be completely tied up. The meeting adjourned to 9 o'clock this morning.

The Hudson & Manhattan Railway had its representatives at the meeting, and the following groups of railway workers gathered there: Yard conductors, yard brakemen and switch tenders, all belonging to the general class of "yard men." It was said that engineers and firemen were there also, but this could not be confirmed.

The strikers gathered in groups near the doors after the session closed, and there was much protesting against the term "outlaw strike" applied to the movement by various newspapers. The Jersey City Journal was assailed for its editorial on "The Illegal Strike," and THE NEW YORK TIMES, The New York Sun and other newspapers were derided as "capitalistic."

The strikers showed pronounced hostility to newspaper men. A reporter for The Jersey City Journal who was discovered in the meeting was beaten up by the strikers, who went through his pockets and destroyed the notes he had taken of the proceedings. While the meeting was in session a "Vigilance Committee" patrolled the nearby streets, and whenever a newspaper man attempted to speak to a striker a member of the committee would come up and order the striker to keep his mouth shut.

Mayor Frank Hague, who arrived in an automobile with City Commissioner J. Harry Moore, talked to the men and told them he had tried to get the hall of the Fourth Regiment Armory for them, but a misunderstanding had arisen with the Colonel of the regiment. He told them he had arranged for the use of Grand View Hall, on Ogden Avenue.

"My sympathy and that of the other officials of Jersey City is with you," he said. "We will do everything we can to aid you."

Brotherhood Against Strike.

The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen stood loyally by the railroads yesterday and attempted to get the dissatisfied workers to return to work. W. J. Welch, General Chairman of the Brotherhood, arrived here yesterday to direct the fight of the organization against the "outlaw" strike. He established headquarters in the Continental Hotel at Forty-first Street and Broadway. Later in the day he visited Jersey City and circulated among the strikers. Mr. Welch said last night that he believed many of the strikers would return.

A letter from W. G. Lee, President of the Brotherhood, summing up the organization's attitude on the strike, was made public yesterday by E. M. Rine, President and General Manager of the Lackawanna. The letter, which was dated Cleveland, April 7, follows:

E. M. Rine, Vice President and General Manager of the Lackawanna.

Dear Sir: Regardless of the report issued by John Granu of the illegal strike of switchmen of Chicago, such strike is illegal and members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and others will be fully protected in accepting positions as switchmen or switch tenders made vacant by such illegal strike.

The brotherhood will co-operate in the fullest extent with operating officials of the railroad and with the Government in performing usual and regular work covered by contract made by the authorized committee of the brotherhood.

The question of increased wages has nothing to do with the present trouble, but the removal of John Granau from the position of yard conductor wrongfully held by him was the cause of a few switchmen in Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul yards, who are members of the renegade organization headed by Granau, quitting work.

The question of increased wages was later injected for the purpose of playing upon the sympathies of other train and yard men, who naturally felt that the Federal Railroad Administration did not grant them equitable wages during the Government control.

Vice Presidents Whitney and Farquharson of the brotherhood are on the ground and have both sides of the situation, and the loyal members of the brotherhood who believe in protecting agreements made by their organization, and who believe in law and order, should willingly assist in making good the terms of the present contract with the railroad companies, especially since the question of increased wage for train, engine and yard men is now being prepared for presentation to the Federal Labor Board at Washington, recently created by law. W. G. LEE

President Brotherhood Railway Trainmen.

Asked to Keep Trains Moving.

At the end of the letter was a "supplemental statement," which said:

Under no circumstances must there be any compromise with the striking element in Chicago and the Brotherhood will use all its resources to keep things moving. W. G. LEE.

President Brotherhood Railroad Trainmen.

Grand President L. E. Sheppard of the Order of Railway Conductors sent the following telegram to M. C. Flattery, Chairman of the General Adjustment Committee of the order:

The existence of the order is threatened by an illegal strike. Every member working in the yards should remain at work. Roadmen would be justified in going in yards under the circumsances. L. E. SHEPPARD.

Mystery as to Strike Leaders.

The strike order, it developed yesterday, was spread by a squadron of unknown men, who went down the river from yard to yard telling the men to quit. None of the workers could be found who knew the name of any of the strangers who called the strike.

According to railroad officials, when the men were asked what their grievances were, they either framed evasive answers or said the railroads would learn later. Many of the men asserted that they did not know what the grievances were, but there were muttered complaints of "starvation wages" and "unsatisfactory conditions."

Representatives of the Marine Workers' Affiliation, the union of harbor workers employed by the railroads, are said to have been among those who talked to the yardmen. It is said that they were trying to take advantage of the situation due to the spread of the Chicago strike and capitalize it to further their own strike on the railroad ferries, tugs and lighters.

Mr. Mantell estimated that between 3,500 and 4,000 men were on strike. This estimate was said to be conservative. About 1,500 quit in the Lackawanna yards alone, Mr. Mantell asserted.

"I am positive, after turning this situation over in my mind, that the radicals are responsible for the strike," said Mr. Mantell. "These men got hold of our workmen and fairly dragged them out of our yard, not even giving them a reason for the strike. The strikers have violated the rules of their own brotherhood. When they think the matter over they will realize they have made a mistake."

Mr. Mantell asserted that the brotherhood officers realize the great danger to unionism as well as to the railroads by this strike. He characterized it as a blow at collective bargaining by the disloyalty of the strikers to their union leaders and their lack of regard for the law. He called the strike leaderless, unlawful and unwarranted, and an attempt by radical elements to gain control of the brotherhood.

Guarding Central Yards.

Patrolmen from the Twenty-second Precinct, assisted by railroad detectives, were on duty at the Thirty-third Street yards of the New York Central. Detectives and men from the Twenty-eighth Precinct were doing the same at the entrance to the Seventy-second Street yards, at Sixty-second Street and Eleventh Avenue. Not a thing was moving at 11:45 last night in any of these yards. No milk trains had entered the city, although it was reported that one was waiting near 100th Street and Hudson River.

A long line of automobiles bearing heavy freight was lined up at the Forty-fifth Street entrance to the Grand Central Terminal last night. Owing to congestion in the yards the drivers said it was impossible to deliver their goods.

Several troops which had halted at Forty-fifth Street and Park Avenue last night caused a commotion near the terminal. It was later learned that these were machine gunners from the Provisional Regiment, New York Guard, on a hike from the 71st Regiment Armory to the 7th Regiment Armory. They had stopped half way between Thirty-fourth and Sixty-sixth Streets for a rest.

F. A. Doggett of the business manager's office, New York Central, said at 11 o'clock last night that the situation was unchanged and that he expected little trouble. He said he thought the switchmen would let the milk trains and some cattle trains into the city in the early hours of the morning.

The Central Federated Union last night gave its approval to the strike of marine workers and pledged support. After the adoption of this resolution Captain William A. Maher, Vice President and Secretary of the Marine Workers' Affiliation of the Port of New York, made a short speech in which he said that affairs were progressing satisfactorily.

Some Kansas Switchmen Out.

TOPEKA, April 9.—Upon receipt of information that the switchmen on the St. Louis & San Francisco road in Rosedale, a Kansas City (Kan.) suburb, went on strike tonight, Governor Henry J. Allen directed Richard J. Hopkins, Attorney General, to proceed thither at once, and use all the powers of the State to enforce the Industrial Court law. Mr. Hopkins will take charge of the Rosedale situation tomorrow.

ers' Association, composed of managers of all roads entering Chicago.

One switchman was shot and several slugged a meetings of the striking railroad men last night, police learned today. John Klintz, a striker, who proposed that the men return to work, was shot, it was reported. He was spirited away in an automobile by friends.

Sabotage was advocated by one of the speakers, E. C. Esty, a C. Y. A. organizer who participated in the Gary steel strike and several labor disturbances here.

"They call me a rebel," Esty told the strikers. "I'm proud to be a rebel. In 1910 I had charge of a railroad strike in Minneapolis and St. Paul. The men all went out and stayed out.

"I went down to the I. W. W. headquarters and got some help. Then one day four passenger trains were wrecked. The next day seven freight trains were wrecked. Then we sent word to the railroads that if they didn't come across we would tear down the round-house. They didn't answer—we did. The round-house was torn down.

"Then the railroads begged for mercy and asked to meet us. We told them to come to us. There was a meeting. The union drew up a contract and the railroad refused it. The next day we blew up a bridge. That night an ice-jam formed in the river and tore down the rest of the bridge, so they don't know to this day who did the job. But we won the strike.

"I did ninety days in jail for blocking the mails. I got off light because I told the Judge I didn't know the law. But, of course, I knew it then as well as I do now."

Wage demands of five groups of employes, numbering 980,000, will be pushed immediately as the result of the spread of unauthoried strikes of switchmen and enginemen. G. A. Worrell, General Chairman of the railway clerks' organization of the Chicago & Northwestern system, said today.

Railway clerks, telegraphers, signal men, maintenance of way employes and stationary firemen and oilers, the groups involved, will present demands to every railroad in the United States within a week, Worrell said. Wage increases of 20 cents an hour and restitution of the pre-war differential wage scale will be demanded, and fifteen days of grace granted for compliance of the companies, he said.

BUFFALO STRIKERS BARRED.

Railroad Officials Refuse to Receive Yardmen's Committees or Demands.

Special to The New York Times.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 9.—Striking yardmen here met rebuffs today when they tried to present to officials of the railroads their demands for increased wages. Except in the case of the Lackawanna Railroad, the committees of strikers were refused recognition. The Lackawanna received the demands without comment, it was said.

Officials of the new union claimed that it had enrolled more than 8,000 yardmen working in the territory between East Buffalo and Suspension Bridge. The association retained a lawyer today and announced that it would take no further steps without his advice.

The New York Central asserted tonight that its freight business in the Buffalo yards showed a substantial increase over the 50 per cent. of normal reported yesterday. Officials of other roads admitted that it had fallen off. Yard masters showed disinclination to perform the duties of switchmen, it was said, and some of them left their jobs.

Wholesale food dealers said there was a three weeks' supply of food in the city. Flour men met this afternoon and discussed plans to meet a possible suspension of shipments. There was plenty of grain in the elevators to offset any effects of a railroad blockade, they said.

ALBANY, April 9.—The New York Central Railroad today embargoed all freight, carload and less than carload, from all stations on its lines and from all connections. Shipments will be accepted only when covered by special permits, and those will be subject to delay.

ELMIRA, N. Y., April 9.—Erie Railroad switchmen and yardmen, meeting this morning, voted to go on strike at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. Fifty men are affected.

UTICA, N. Y., April 9.—Switchmen of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad in this city numbering sixteen men, quit work this morning.

HORNELL, N. Y., April 9.—Following a secret meeting tonight, switchmen and yardmen of the Erie Railroad voted to quit work tomorrow morning. The action affects about 178 men.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., April 9.—Forty Erie yardmen struck here at midnight.

ST. LOUIS FREIGHT HALTED.

Passenger Service Kept Going by Work of Railroad Office Employes.

Special to The New York Times.

ST. LOUIS, April 9.—Executive heads of the twenty-six railroads operating in St. Louis and the terminal decided at a meeting today to take no steps toward settlement of the switching yards strike, which has completely tied up the handling of freight cars in the St. Louis switching district.

The switchmen's strike has tied up thousands of dollars' worth of goods usually shipped out of St. Louis each day. At the same time it has prevented the shipment of raw material into the city. Manufacturers and shippers said that if the strike continued shutdowns would be necessary, throwing thousands out of work.

Seventy office men of the terminal railroad, controlling all railroads in St. Louis, have been at work as switchmen in the yards since the strike was called yesterday afternoon. They have managed to keep passenger service, including suburban trains, on the move. The men worked all night in shifts. Their efforts are aimed at keeping passenger trains moving.

J. F. Eubank, switchman, President of the St. Louis Yardmen's Association, which called the strike, said that the number of strikers had passed 10,000 at noon today, including 2,500 railroad clerks, several hundred car repair men, and 3,000 yard engineers and firemen. By Saturday night, he said, there would be more than 20,000 men out, representing the fourteen crafts of employes in the railroad yards.

TOLEDO SHORT OF FOOD.

Only One of Twenty-three Roads Entering City Now Operating.

TOLEDO, Ohio, April 9.—Toledo was brought face to face today with a serious shortage of foodstuffs because of the strike of several hundred switchmen, resulting in the tying up of all except one of the twenty-three railroads entering the city. The Wabash was the only road operating, it was said. Nearly 4,000 men were idle because of the strike.

Another dilemma appeared in the form of a fuel shortage, some of the larger manufacturing plants having only a small supply on hand. It was announced that several of these will be forced to close Monday if the strike extends to that time.

Unrest became evident among railroad shopmen, and threats of a sympathetic walkout were heard, according to railroad officials.

Ten railroads gave notice today of embargoes on freigh

KANSAS CITY YARDS TIED UP.

State Plans to Prosecute 1,500 Strikers Under New Law.

Special to The New York Times.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 9.—All the 1,500 switchmen employed in Kansas City yards are on strike today. No freight of any kind is being moved except on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, where only four freight engines were operating. An embargo has been placed on all classes of freight.

Strikers shortly before noon today presented demands for an increased wage to the general managers of all railroads entering Kansas City, and declared that they will not return to work until their demands are met.

Following a conference with railroad officials today, Richard J. Hopkins, Attorney General of Kansas, is preparing blanket informations to file in the Wyandotte County District Court against the persons who are responsible for the switchmen's strike here.

INDIANAPOLIS SWITCHMEN OUT

Big Four and Pennsylvania Roads Order Embargo on Freight.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 9.—Freight and express shipments from Indianapolis are at a standstill as a result of the walkout of more than 350 switchmen late this afternoon from the yards of the Big Four and Pennsylvania Railroads. An embargo on everything except perishable products was put into effect immediately by both railroads and the express companies.

The switchmen denied that the walkout of Chicago switchmen and the formation of an insurgent union there had anything to do with the strike here. They did not quit work in sympathy with any one, they said, but solely because they want an increase in pay.

DETROIT YARDS IDLE.

Only Passenger, Mail and Milk Trains Moving After 2,000 Strike.

DETROIT, April 9.—The number of striking switchmen in Detroit yards tonight was about 2,000, according to estimates of railroad officials and officers of the newly formed Yardmen's Union. About 1,500 enginemen, it was said, had been thrown out of work by the walkout, which, with the exception of passenger, mail and milk trains, completely tied up all local yards.

No move has been made by either side to compose the differences, although a committee representing employes of each road affected was appointed this afternoon to present demands to the railroad heads.

With transportation at a standstill and immediate relief apparently remote, the food supply and possibility of industrial suspension on a large scale received serious consideration here today. Officers of the Michigan Manufacturers' Association believed factories would be able to forestall a suspension of operations for not more than a week. Several wholesale food dealers announced they had contracted for motor trains to Chicago at $500 the round trip to provide perishable foodstuffs.

YOUNGSTOWN MILLS HARD HIT

Railroad Strike May Force 35,000 Steel Workers Into Idleness.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, April 9.—With switching yards of five railroads here tied up by an unauthorized strike of switchmen and engine crews, steel mills of the Youngstown district are preparing tonight to close because of a lack of coal. Thirty-five thousand steel workers will be idle by tomorrow night if the strike continues, steel company officials announced.

The local waterworks has coal enough on hand to operate for only four days more, city officials said.

ULTIMATUM TO STRIKERS.

California Companies Allow Them Until 4 P. M. Today to Return.

Special to The New York Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—Striking yardmen on railroads in California have until 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon to return to work, according to an ultimatum posted tonight in all railroad yards of the State. At the same time, officials of the lines announced that they had taken steps to secure the necessary men to take the places of the strikers in the event that they refused to return to work.

Bay cities suffered a complete paralysis of freight traffic today. Passenger schedules were maintained with only slight delays, yard masters and officials of the companies dispatching the passenger trains through the yards.

The switching crews of the Western Pacific joined the strike this morning. According to railroad officials practically all switchmen, yard engineers and yard firemen employed by the Southern Pacific, Sante Fe and Western Pacific have left their work..

Railroad brotherhood officials said that the strike was illegal and that every effort was being made to end it speedily.

Attempts by the strikers to open negotiations with railroad officials were blocked by the refusal of the companies to treat with their representatives.

'get' President Lee, because he misrepresented us in Washington."

It was stated that Local 879 had held a secret meeting three weeks ago at which it was voted to act in sympathy with any insurgent movement in the "Big Four."

Some of the men who left the meeting early in the evening said that the opposition to an immediate strike vote had come mainly from one union official, who wanted to set the date of the strike a little later and give more warning to the public.

Before the meeting broke up speakers admonished the men to keep the proceedings of the meeting an entire secret and to say nothing about the hour set for the strike. As they left the hall men scattered in all directions, some going back to the tubes to finish their work, others going home and others hurrying to spread the strike order.

A mass meeting was called for 9 o'clock this morning in Grand View Hall, in Jersey City, where the men expected to be on strike will consider further plans.

PHONE GIRLS TO STAY IN CITY

Company Engages 400 Hotel Rooms for Operators.

The New York Telephone Company, which for many months has been handicapped by a shortage in its operating forces, announced last night that it would take no chances on having its forces still further diminished by the railroad tieup which may make it impossible for many of its employes living out of the city to get into their places of business. For the convenience of these out-of-town operators the company last night engaged 400 rooms in the hotels of the city, and that many employes were persuaded to remain here so as to be able to go on duty today.

If it is seen that the demoralization of the transportation systems is to continue for any length of time the company will make additional provisions for all other out-of-town operators who were not put up in the city last night.

Strike Halts Freight Near Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, April 9.—Less than a dozen men were working today in the Conway yards of the Pennsylvania Railroad and little freight was being moved. At strike headquarters it was said that fully 1,000 switchmen and trainmen had struck last night and several hundred shopmen were taking a strike vote today.

FOOD PRICES RAISED BY RAILROAD STRIKE

MILK RECEIPTS DELAYED

Federal Flying Squadron Ordered to Take "Vigorous Action" Against Profiteers.

Wholesale prices of foods showed advances yesterday as the result of the switchmen's strike, according to a number of retail dealers. One large dealer said he had to pay 50 cents to $1 a package more for all vegetables he purchased, and he predicted there would be further advances today if the strike continues. Prices have been advancing steadily for the last several weeks in nearly all foodstuffs, the increases being attributed, in part at least, to the strike of the coastwise longshoremen and the harbor workers.

Health Commissioner Copeland declared that a survey of the situation by representatives of his department indicated that the strikes had not caused a scarcity of food, though, if they continued, the food shortage might become a menace to health. He said most residents lived from hand to mouth, and had only a limited amount of food in their homes. Dr. Copeland intimated that in an emergency he might use his police power and commandeer food if necessary.

Milk Delayed Several Hours.

Ole Salthe, Acting Director of the Bureau of Food and Drugs of the Health Department, said the normal supply of milk was received yesterday, but some of it was delayed several hours. The Fruit Auction Company, he said, reported that it had no sales yesterday, as only one float containing fruit was brought across the river from New Jersey. Mr. Salthe said virtually no vegetables were brought into the city yesterday from New Jersey. Friday and Saturday were light meat days, he said, but in the event the strike continues into next week the shortage will become serious.

On the other hand, William Minder, President of the Washington Market Merchants' Association, said last night that there is no adequate reason for an advance in the prices of foodstuffs. "Close New York to the outside world and open the warehouses here and we can live well for six months," Mr. Minder said. He added that the warehouses are packed with commodities.

The flying squadron of the Department of Justice is watching the strike situation very closely to see that there is no profiteering in foodstuffs. A. W. Riley, chief of the squadron, has ordered "vigorous action wherever necessary."

"There has been no embargo on milk at the point of shipment," Patrick D. Fox, President of the Borden's Farm Products Company, said last night. He added that if the city's milk supply is held up it would be because of the refusal of the freight handlers at the yards to work.

Profiteering Is Defined.

Investigators were told that a merchant who attempts to advance the price of any foodstuffs he has on hand to the level charged by another dealer who has bought at a higher price is guilty of profiteering under the Lever act. Any dealers found to be advancing prices in this manner will be arrested, it was said.

President Minder of the Washington Market Merchants' Association said ham had gone up 3 cents a pound since last week and that bacon probably is the only meat that has not been advanced. Leg of lamb was selling for 48 cents a pound in Washington Market yesterday, and leg of mutton at 35 cents. They usually sell at 18 to 20 cents a pound, Mr. Minder said. Sirloin steak was 40 cents and up; round steak, 40 cents; shoulder of lamb, 25 to 28 cents; rib lamb chops, 45 cents; loins, 45 to 48 cents; leg of veal, 32 to 35 cents; breast of veal, 20 to 25 cents; shoulder of veal, 22 to 28 cents; veal chops, 32 to 40 cents; stew lamb, 22 to 25 cents; stew beef, 18 to 20 cents; corned beef, plate, 16 cents; corned beef, brisket, 20 cents; corned beef, round, 32 to 38 cents. 'OUTLAW' RAIL UNION FORMED IN CLEVELAND

Workers of All Kinds Organize and Decide to Affiliate with Chicago Switchmen.

CLEVELAND, April 9.—Between 1,500 and 1,800 workers, from all branches of the service, employed on the nine railroads entering Cleveland, voted tonight to form a new organization to be called the Cleveland Yardmen's Association and to affiliate with the striking switchmen in Chicago.

Fear of a food famine in a few days as a result of the strike was expressed today by dealers who declared that only four or five days' meat supplies are on hand. Impending danger was emphasized today when the New York Central and Nickel Plate Railroads reported a decrease of nearly 50 per cent. in freight movement in the local yards. Freight movement to Chicago and western points has been stopped.

PUT MINE LEADERS INTO KANSAS JAIL

Judge Commits Howat and Other Officials Who Defy Industrial Relations Court.

WOULD NOT OBEY SUMMONS

Workers in Coal Fields May Go On a Sympathy Strike as a Protest.

Special to The New York Times.

PITTSBURG, Kan., April 9.—Alexander Howat, leader of the Kansas miners' organization, President of District 14, United Mine Workers of America, was sent to the Crawford County Jail this morning by Judge Andrew J. Curran for contempt of court for his refusal to appear before the new Court of Industrial Relations after he had been summoned as a witness. Howat will have to stay in jail until he consents to appear as a witness before the court and answer questions, or until he is released on bond if an appeal is taken to the Kansas Supreme Court.

Howat and the other officials were allowed to go to the union's headquarters until time to take a car for Girard, the county seat, at noon. Scores of his friends surrounded him as he went from the Court House to the headquarters. After he reached his office Howat made this statement:

"Our position is unchanged. We stand where we stood. We refuse to testify before this court because we do not recognize the court. It is an institution founded to enslave the workingman."

Sentenced with Howat were his associate officers of the district organization, Thomas Harvey, Secretary-Treasurer; August Dorchy, Vice President, and Robert B. Foster, Auditor. Each received the same sentence as that given to Howat, and must pay the costs of the case.

Howat refused to appear before the Court of Industrial Relations because of his enmity to the new law. He has notified the miners throughout the country that the law will be ignored and opposed. When the court invited him to appear last Tuesday and give testimony in an investigation which the court is conducting in the coal fields he refused.

Attorney General Hopkins applied to Judge Curren for an order to compel his attendance and Howat refused to obey the order of the District Court.

With the sending of Howat and his fellow union officers to jail speculation in Pittsburgh turns to the probability of a general strike through sympathy for them. The city is full of miners who came in to attend the trial this morning. They stand around the street corner adjacent to the union headquarters discussing the Howat incident, just as they stood on that corner every day during the strike last Winter.

The opinion of the majority is that the men will strike tomorrow, or at least a large number of them will do so, in sympathy with Howat, but that they will not long remain out of the mines. It is the general belief that the strike will be only a protest which will not be called by any official and will lack organized effort.

LLOYD GEORGE LEAVING; CRISIS THOUGHT ENDED

Premier Departs Today for San Remo—Further Talks Said to Have Brought Accord.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, April 9.—Premier Lloyd George, accompanied by his daughter Megan, his private secretaries and Sir Maurice Hankey, Secretary of the War Cabinet, sails from Milbury tomorrow taking the sea route to Marseilles and thence by train to San Remo, where the Supreme Council meets on Monday week.

Until this evening there was much uncertainty regarding the Premier's trip owing to the possible need of further communications between the British and French Governments on the difference of view over French action.

G. H. Perris, writing in The Chronicle, says:

"The fact that Lloyd George is taking this sea voyage is a welcome sign that a full understanding is now assured, if not in every detail established."

LONDON, April 9 (Associated Press).—Paul Cambon, the French Ambassador, has formally given such explanations to Lord Curzon, the Foreign Minister, regarding the policy to be pursued by France in connection with the German situation as to lead to the expectation that matters will be speedily smoothed over between France and Great Britain, the diplomatic correspondent of The Evening Standard states today.

Italy's attitude respecting the French occupation of Frankfort concurs fully with that expressed in behalf of Great Britain in the statement issued last evening, Vittorio Scialoia, the Italian Foreign Minister, stated today.

El Paso Excited by an Unverified Rumor from Mexico City.

EL PASO, Texas, April 8.—An unverified report from Mexico City that General Obregon had been imprisoned there caused excitement in the Mexican quarter here tonight.

Acting Consul General Sandoval discredited the report. He said his latest official information from Mexico City was that General Obregon appeared before a court-martial on Wednesday as a witness in the case against the rebel leader General Roberto Cejedo.

torney Smith closely paralleled a dramatic scene seven years ago, when on the first day of the second Becker trial Mr. Cockran called for the punishment of ex-Governor Charles S. Whitman, then District Attorney, for contempt. Mr. Cockran asserted that Mr. Whitman had been responsible for a sensational story about a new witness whose testimony was damaging to Becker, which appeared in the newspapers on the morning of the first day of the trial. On Mr. Whitman's denial Justice Seabury dismissed the motion and Mr. Cockran left the courtroom, exclaiming:

"This is not a trial but an assassination!"

Following his statement in court that the Bar Association was the proper place for an investigation of the propriety of the alleged acts of Mr. Smith, Mr. Cockran said last night that he intended to follow up the matter most vigorously. In making public a statement on the matter, he said:

"I do not like to try cases in the newspapers, but I will meet the accusers of my client in the tribunal before which they have haled him."

Mr. Cockran's Statement.

Mr. Cockran's statement in part follows:

"The prosecution of Dominick Henry began this morning by a deliberate untruth on the part of Mr. Smith to the court before which the defendant was arraigned. He denied, on the responsibility of his official oath and position, that he had given to the newspapers a statement about certain stock transactions of Mr. Henry. He could not have done otherwise without exposing himself to conviction for contempt. All the reporters of the evening newspapers who were in the office of Mr. Smith about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Thursday, April 8, know that statement to be untrue.

"That this publication was a deliberate effort to prejudice the defendant in the community from which the jurors to try him must be drawn by means which the law forbids and which, therefore, a District Attorney should be the last to invoke, is shown by the fact that the explanation given to the Extraordinary Grand Jury by Henry was withheld from the newspapers by Smith. Henry had voluntarily disclosed to that body the existence of these accounts. At the same time he explained that he had obtained from an aunt who brought him to this country from Ireland at 13 years of age and with whom he had lived some thirty-five years down to her death approximately $50,000, the transfer of which to him was accomplished through the office of Ellery Anderson.

Calls Charge "Preposterous."

"The charge against Inspector Henry is preposterous on its face, but he is not willing to stand on any technical defenses. He cheerfully assumes the burden of showing that conditions throughout his inspection district in point of order, cleanliness, decency and safety are the highest in the world. By his specific direction I stated in open court that no appreciable number of disorderly houses could be found in his district—none, at least, that had been in operation more than a few days—the period necessary for their detection under the most vigilant surveillance.

"This statement is so astounding that for a long time I hesitated to make it. I could hardly bring myself to believe, and I find it difficult now to believe, that a locality so extensive and so peculiarly calculated to encourage all manner of vice could be absolutely free from establishments of commercialized vice. Yet he insists and undertakes to show that soliciting on Forty-second Street, on Broadway or on any of the streets or avenues is absolutely unknown.

"It is idle to say that these charges affect only the heads of the police. It is impossible for the head of any body to be corrupt and its members efficient. Either the administration of the Police Department is hopelessly corrupt or the District Attorney's office is recklessly undermining the foundation of that discipline on which the city must depend for safety of life and property, as well as for order and decorum in its highways.

"That is the issue that must be settled, and at once. It far transcends in importance any personal controversy between Henry and Smith, between Swann and Enright, or between the city administration and its critics. It affects vitally the welfare of every human being in the city."

Henry Rejects Caution.

Inspector Henry, who was at the office of Mr. Cockran yesterday afternoon, was eager to discuss his case, but was forbidden by his lawyer to say anything. He broke into the conversation, however, several times, over the lawyer's caution. Mr. Cockran would not discuss the alleged juggling of figures in the District Attorney's office, by means of which the cash deposits of Inspector Henry were represented as more than $50,000 in the last year and a half, when they were said to be in reality about $10,000. When Mr. Cockran's back was turned Inspector Henry nodded his head vigorously to confirm the suggestion that his stock transactions involved only about $10,000.

"I would not let any client of mine discuss figures from memory," said Mr. Cockran, "even if they were figures relating to transactions of the day before. Errors and disinterpretations are bound to result. It is enough for me, even taking the allegation that his deposits amounted to $50,000, that the estate received from his aunt was worth between $40,000 and $50,000."

Inspector Henry was allowed by his lawyer to confirm the fact that he had been suspended by Police Commissioner Enright. The suspension took place late Thursday night, following his transfer to Police Headquarters, which came immediately after his indictment.

Assistant District Attorney James E. Smith said last night in reply to Mr. Cockran:

"This man Cockran appeared as attorney for Becker on the second trial before Justice Seabury, made an insulting speech, was threatened with contempt proceedings, disappeared and has never been heard of from that day until he appeared for Henry in court today. His specialty seems to be to defend policemen charged with violations of law.

"It comes with bad grace from such a man to criticise anybody. He has been on every side of every question, from the Huckleberry Road days up to the present time.

"Cockran himself was guilty of contempt in making false statements today. Every word that he uttered in court today was an absolute falsehood, and he knew them to be false at the time that he uttered them.

"With blatant mendacity he tried to becloud the issue. The issue is to clean the Police Department of the grafters. We are going to do it, and we will protect and assist the 90 per cent. of the honest, conscientious policemen who are faithfully doing their duty."

LEE WANTS THE LAW ON REBEL STRIKERS

not know how the Interstate Commerce Committee could conduct such an inquiry at this session on account of other business. He called attention to the fact that Congress had received the results of months of investigation by the committee of the labor question in the form of anti-strike provisions of the Railroad bill and had declined to accept them.

Senator McCormick replied that he did not expect the investigation to be as thorough as a sociological survey, and added:

"But what is needed now in default of appointment of the wage board by the President is some body of men that will bring the facts to public attention. There is no other possible means of mobilizing that public opinion which may induce the men to return to work pending the ultimate arbitration of the dispute."

Lee Opposes Any Arbitration.

CLEVELAND, April 9.—W. G. Lee, President of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, is strongly opposed to any attempt of the Federal Board of Mediation and Conciliation or any other department to recognize the insurgent element in any effort to settle the strike of Chicago railroad yard employes in the fight of the Brotherhood and the Switchmen's Union of North America against the insurgents.

"We will resist every effort to settle this illegal strike by mediation," said Lee. "There is nothing to mediate with the insurgents, and the fight now is to preserve the recognized labor organizations."

Mr. Lee today received a letter from W. L. Chambers, Commissioner of the United States Board of Mediation and Conciliation, who said that if a situation should arise in which the services of the board should be desired he could be reached in New York. The letter did not tender the services of the board, but said they would be available if requested.

The reply from Mr. Lee to Mr. Chambers said the illegal strike would be jointly disposed of by the railroad companies and the legitimate labor organizations, and any attempt to recognize the insurgent element would meet with strenuous opposition from the membership of all recognized labor organizations.

Mr. Lee also wired Vice President Whitney, in charge of the brotherhood's interest at Chicago, to make no request for Governmental mediation and to decline to permit arbitration.

Insists Chiefs Must Retract.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 9.—Request for a retraction of demands made on members of the Brotherhood Trainmen by Grand Lodge officers in connection with the strike of switchmen at Chicago and elsewhere is to be considered by trainmen here at a meeting called for tomorrow night. The call for the meeting was signed by G. A. Landers, President of the local lodge of Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, representing the Pennsylvania lines' employes. Union officials said the 2,500 local railroad employes representing the six roads would be present.

The purpose of the meeting as stated in the posters put up in all the yards is "to request a retraction of demands made on members by Grand Lodge officers in regard to the strike in Chicago and other places and also to consider questions pertaining to calling a strike legally."

MILKVIEWSIGNORED, CHARGES COPELAND

Says Assembly Agricultural Committee Did Not Call Fair Price Commission.

SWEET DENIES NEGLECT

Puts Blame on Health Commissioner's Organization for Failure to be Heard.

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, Health Commissioner, last night made public an exchange of communications between Speaker Thaddeus C. Sweet of the Assembly and himself in regard to several bills now before the Agricultural Committee of the Assembly, which seek to place control of the distribution of milk in this city in the hands of a committee appointed by the Governor. Last Sunday Commissioner Copeland sent a telegram to Speaker Sweet, in which he complained that no opportunity had been afforded the members of the Fair Price Milk Commission, of which he is Chairman, to explain to the Assembly the need of the fixing of milk prices by a State body.

"I can see no reason for such a statement," Speaker Sweet declared in a letter received yesterday by Dr. Copeland, "for, as far as I know, no committee of the Assembly has denied any committee of the public an opportunity to present its views on any question.

Speaker Sweet then stated that if Dr. Copeland's committee had failed to avail itself of an opportunity to present their views to the Agricultural Committee it was not his fault nor the fault of the members of that committee.

In his reply, which he immediately sent to Speaker Sweet at Albany, Dr. Copeland declared that he had endeavored to receive some word from the Speaker on the milk bills before the Assembly since last Fall, and that his letter received yesterday morning was the first communication Mr. Sweet had sent him on the matter.

Dr. Copeland then continued:

"Until I hear from you to the contrary, I shall feel it was neglect on the part of your committees that no opportunity has been afforded the citizens of the City of New York to present their burdens and difficulties to the Assembly.

"The Governor's Fair Price Milk Committee, which invited you to appear before it or to advise it, and which offered even to go to your home if need be for the purpose of consultation, has carefully studied the milk problem, and it feels that it has presented a plan that will bring about real, permanent relief. It is my opinion, Mr. Sweet, that the careful work done by this committee is entitled to consideration and review by the Assembly."

'CAMELS' IN CHICAGO PARADE FOR LIQUOR

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, April 9.—The first invasion of Chicago by the Order of Camels, a new anti-prohibition organization, which is gaining hundreds of recruits in the Middle West daily, was greeted with considerable enthusiasm in the business section here today.

The camels in the parade were immediately accepted by the Chicago public as an excellent mascot for the new order, the aim of which is the amending of the prohibition law and the restoration of the use of beer and light wines. Crowds lined the sidewalks or craned from office windows to see the parade pass.

Handclapping, whistles and cheers marked the progress of the anti-prohibition caravan. The purpose of today's demonstration was to launch a campaign for more members and the formation of new "caravans."

The Camels expect to recruit 100,000 members in Chicago. They will oppose the Eighteenth Amendment, the Volstead act, the anti-cigarette movement and the Sunday closing of theatres and ball parks.

ARMY ORDER HITS GERMAN RADICALS

Volunteer Corps They Have Demanded Are to be Dissolved on Allies' Instructions.

BERLIN ASKS MORE TIME

Copyright, 1920, by The New York Times Company.
By Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, April 8.—The news that France insists that the local volunteer corps be dissolved has caused great anxiety in labor circles, which only yesterday, in a sort of ultimatum, demanded that public safety in the Ruhr district be immediately intrusted to such forces in command of workmen. If this is true of the regular Socialists and trade unions, the Independent Socialists and Communists are even more dismayed because they regard the present mercenary army as their special enemy, whom they hoped to destroy by just such an armed rabble as that which under the name of labor forces composed the Red army in the Ruhr district.

THE NEW YORK TIMES correspondent, who spoke to the Independent Leader Daumig and the Communist Leader Levy about it, could not induce them to make any statement except that they did not believe the French demand was correctly interpreted or that perhaps the French were laboring under a false conception regarding the military labor volunteers.

The former Reichstag member and Secretary General of the Independent Socialist Party, Wilhelm Dittmann, was equally uncommunicative on the French demand, but very outspoken in his criticism of the German Government, which he thought could easily have avoided the present troubles if it had intrusted the maintenance of law and order to the armed labor forces.

"Was not the Red army composed of such forces?" he was asked.

"Undoubtedly," he replied. "They were intended to keep law and order and did so until compelled to defend themselves against the military invasion."

"What is the cause of the French occupation?"

"It was provoked by the Government's massing more troops in the neutral zone than the Peace Treaty justified. The French could not tolerate this invasion of an army equipped as if a new war had broken out. This military show was absolutely unnecessary, but Noske's Generals were anxious to revenge themselves on the Ruhr district laborers because in their encounter only a few months ago the laborers got decidedly the best of them. They are now seeking to restore the prestige lost then and by the Kapp revolution."

"How does your party view the encounters at Frankfort?"

"Unfortunately the Frankfort events doubtless have embittered the German masses against the French and, what is even more deplorable, will be instrumental in strengthening the Government's hands considerably because all parties except the Independents and Communists will unite in resentment. Even the Kapp putsch may temporarily be forgotten and the Generals will continue to swashbuckle and conspire against the people."

Asks More Time to Reduce Troops.

PARIS, April 9.—Dr. Göppert, head of the German peace delegation, has addressed to Premier Millerand, as President of the Peace Conference, a note asking an extension of three months after April 10 for the reduction of German military effectives. This reduction is provided for in the protocol of Aug. 8, 1919.

BERLIN, April 8 (Associated Press).—Informing the State Governments of the note of General Nollet, President of the Interallied Commission of Control, in which he complained to the German Government that civil guard formations in Germany frequently engaged in military exercises and could therefore be no longer permitted, the Minister of Interior, Herr Koch, said today:

"Though the observations in the note are mostly based on incorrect suppositions, the Imperial Government is forced regretfully to abstain from purposeless counter-proposals and requests the State Governments to carry out the demands in the note as soon as possible.

"In places where sufficient protection cannot be assured by the Reichswehr, Security Troops, other police organizations and substitute organizations should be formed, but care must be taken to avoid any breach of the Peace Treaty conditions."

PRESS COMMENT RESTRAINED.

Northcliffe Papers Alone Criticise Government's Attitude to France.

Copyright, 1920, by The New York Times Company
Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, April 9.—A desire not to aggravate the difficult diplomatic situation or to violate the susceptibilities of the French is characteristic of most of the newspaper comment on the Frankfort situation.

With the exception of the Northcliffe press, little disposition is shown to criticise the policy of the British Government. The Pall Mall Gazette, indeed, warns the Government against trusting German good faith, and the Star, in calling for sympathy and loyalty as the essentials of a successful alliance, insist on the dangers of the French position. But there is a widespread disposition to condemn the levity of the Daily Mail's suggestion that Lloyd George deliberately shape the British policy with the idea of increasing the chances of his personal following in elections for the National Liberal Club's committee.

In fact, the hope expressed in The Daily Telegraph's statement that "our friendship for France has stood many rough tests and remains a strong and living force" describes far more accurately the general feeling than The London Times's declaration that "we have seldom read a more lamentable or more shameful exposition of British policy."

Inquiries in authoritative quarters, in fact, showed today that the Government has been reckoning on Paris understanding that all it has been doing is to play the part of a candid friend. It knows its action has been unwelcome, but it believes it was necessary for the sake of all parties to the alliance.

"After all, we are members of an alliance," said a man in a position to know the view of Downing Street, "and we must act together. Directly individual governments begin to act independently the alliance will begin to dissolve. There has really been nothing sensational in what has been done. France has known for weeks from our communications to her that we did not agree with her forward policy. The only thing new is that our lack of agreement has been announced publicly."

A good deal is being made here of the "note" that has been sent from London to Paris, but the use of that term is deprecated in official circles. It is admitted that a communication of the British views, quite explicitly worded, has gone across the Channel but this, it is protested, should not be considered to have all the gravity that a "note" denotes.

In diplomatic language, it was just one of a series of communications, THE NEW YORK TIMES was informed, which are continually passing between these Governments and should not be considered in any other light.

Moreover, it was not to be supposed that Downing Street was not taking into full account the natural nervousness of France concerning the German approach to her borders, and the strain she was under, and it was possible to give assurances that on all other questions between the two countries the prospects of reaching satisfactory agreements were very good.

The Evening Standard asserts that it is a mistake to consider the British action the result "of a reluctant or puzzled Cabinet being dragged in the wake of an imperious Prime Minister." The decision, it says, was made by Bonar Law, and Lloyd George merely approved it, and, moreover, it was indorsed by the whole Cabinet and the United States and Italian Governments.

The Standard also sees in the French forward move the hand of Marshal Foch, whose policy it differentiates sharply from that of Clemenceau. It suggests that it was affected by the Marshal's well-known belief that the proper rampart of France is the left bank of the Rhine, and that consequently it was natural that the British Cabinet should consider with care what that forward move might lead to.

A similar view is put forward by The Westminster Gazette, which says: "We have no doubt that the French sincerely intend to withdraw; but it is much easier to go forward than to go back." So it fears that advances by the Allies for punitive purposes might result in throwing the whole European situation into solution.

Apart from the main question as to whether the Government should have publicly announced its disapproval of the French action, there is considerable criticism here of the use of Moroccan troops in the occupation of the German cities. Even The London Times terms it a "serious lack of judgment," and fears that it has given the Germans just such an opportunity for indignant protestations as they know how to exploit. The Evening Standard thinks it a blunder that is likely to rankle in German minds for years, to France's own detriment.

On the other hand, the conduct of the Reichswehr in subduing the Red districts, and especially the treatment of two British newspaper correspondents at the hands of a Prussian officer, has produced a denunciation of the "white terror," and may arouse support for the French activity in quarters usually far more prone to advocate pacific than drastic methods.

New Citizens Increase in Bronx.

Applications for naturalization in the Bronx now are 50 per cent. more than at any other time in the history of the borough, Thomas F. Ryan, Federal examiner of the Naturalization Bureau, said yesterday, ascribing the increase to a desire of hundreds of foreign-born residents to qualify as voters in the Presidential election. Several hundred foreigners subscribed to the oath of citizenship before Justice Giegerich in the Bronx Supreme Court yesterday.

BRITISH UNWILLING TO POLICE THE RUHR

FAVORED GIVING EBERT TIME

Even Now They Believe the Ruhr Crisis is Waning and French Will Soon Retire.

By G. H. PERRIS.

Copyright, 1920, by The New York Times Company
Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, April 8.—The Cabinet today considered the German situation in general and the French advance in particular, and I am now able to state clearly the British attitude with regard to the events of the last few days.

Not only the British, but the Italian, Belgian and United States Governments are opposed to the policy of incurring responsibilities in the neutral zone except under extreme provocation. The British view throughout has been that the suppression of social disorders is quite different from action to deal with organized military forces and is essentially a matter for the German Government. These Governments hold that in the neutral zone either the Allies should take the real responsibility for the restoration of order—a thing not to be contemplated without dire cause—or if the German Government asks leave to pass over the letter of the treaty in order to fulfill this duty, it should be allowed to do so under guarantees that will secure the real execution of its treaty obligations.

The British Government has no relish for the task of using its troops and their machine guns anywhere against civil populations, and it is sufficiently engaged, unless there be unmistakable cause, in its own zone of occupation. When the German Army occupying the Paris region in 1871 offered to help the French Government against the Communists Thiers replied that such foreign intervention would be likely to hamper him and strengthen the revolutionists. That is still held to be sound advice.

The Ruhr Valley being opposite the British and Belgian zones, not the French, the British have, naturally, watched the Red outbreak with anxiety and are now watching its decline with relief. The possibility of its becoming necessary to intervene has been kept steadily in view. Indeed, the French Government proposed the occupation of Frankfort and Darmstadt more than a fortnight ago. The allied and associated powers, however, did not think sufficient cause had arisen.

It was then that the German Government asked leave to send troops to the Ruhr region, and for the moment Premier Millerand seemed to be willing to grant it. Two suggestions were put forward, namely, that it should be made a condition that the German troops be withdrawn as soon as the disorders were over, and that a time limit should be named of, say, a fortnight, after which, if the withdrawal had not been effected, the Allies jointly, or France alone, should advance into the neutral zone as a disciplinary measure. France did not favor either of these alternatives and presently acted on her own account.

Technically the French view that there has been a breach of the treaty is, of course, correct. It is doubtful, however, whether such an emergency as this was ever contemplated by the framers of the treaty. It is also to be noted that for some days Berlin did not send into the neutral zone more than 17,000 troops she was entitled to send, although that number has probably been exceeded since.

Great Britain would have preferred that the German Government should have been asked to give an undertaking to withdraw by a certain date, and, failing this, that joint action should have been taken by the Allies. The Entente with and sympathy for France are so strong and vital in England that it is felt that this passing difference of view may be frankly stated, not only without offense but with advantage. Had any aggravation of the problem appeared it might have been otherwise; but all signs point to the early withdrawal of the German forces. Premier Millerand has assured the Allies not only that this will be the end of the French occupation, but that he is anxious to co-operate economically with the German Government for the general benefit.

MORE FRENCH TROOPS IN FRANKFORT AREA

BERLIN, April 9 (Associated Press).—The arrival of fresh French forces in the Frankfort area throughout the day is reported. Railway communication between the occupied area and the rest of Germany is still suspended. Strasbourg dispatches say new troops are steadily crossing the Rhine.

Advices from the Rhineland say that the French Commander in Chief has ordered all Germans to salute the French flag and French officers, and that he threatens reprisals in the event there are fresh outbreaks.

GEN. ALLEN WATCHES EVENTS.

Our Rhine Commander Has No Special Orders.

By WALTER DURANTY.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MAYENCE, April 9.—General Allen, commanding the American troops on the Rhine, and M. Tirard, head of the Interallied Rhineland Commission, had luncheon here today with General Dégoutte. General Allen told me that the rumor of an American ultimatum to France to leave Frankfort within twenty-four hours was absolutely ridiculous. He added that he had received no instructions in view of the French advance and consequently maintained an attitude of watchfulness only.

I asked what steps he would take in the event of workmen refugees from the Ruhr entering the American zone. He replied that so far that had not occurred, but that if it did the workers would doubtless be disarmed and kept pending a decision by the home authorities.

I was afterward received by General Dégoutte and M. Tirard, who both declined to make any statement for publication. I learn, however, from excellent sources that the French General and High Commissioner are of the opinion that the German Government is really acting under control of the militarists, despite the presence in the Ruhr of Commissioner Severing, who, they say, is there simply for camouflage and has greatly exaggerated the ill-doings of the insurgent workers.

Koester Enters Cabinet.

BERLIN, April 9.—The appointment of Dr. Adolf Köster as Minister of Foreign Affairs was announced today. Dr. Köster was the special representative of Germany in Slesvig in connection with the recent plebiscite.

IF FRANCE PERSISTS BRITAIN MAY QUIT

lies' Ambassadors today a note asking for extension to July 10 of the permission given the Germans in the Aug. 10 protocol to maintain twenty batteries in the Ruhr district. This permission expires tomorrow. France has heretofore expressed herself as opposed to this extension. But should the Germans withdraw the supplementary troops and ask the Allies to help in formulating plans for the maintenance of order in the Ruhr situation, things might take on a different aspect, especially if England favored such an extension.

It is expected that tomorrow or next day a note will arrive from President Wilson in reply to the French note of Saturday. The French are inclined to believe Mr. Wilson will take some such view as England.

While it is true that the Entente has avoided the Ruhr rock, it is likely that there will be other difficulties of the same kind unless the French Government weakens in its determination to enforce the treaty or Lloyd George changes his reported desire to mitigate the terms of the treaty in favor of Germany. As Millerand's reply says, France wants the entente cordiale, but it believes the Entente owes France the fulfillment of the treaty.

As soon as the Ruhr difficulty is settled there looms up the great question of German disarmament, and right close behind it the problem of making Germany begin reparation payments. A close study of the French attitude in the last two days of strain shows no weakening toward Germany. If the Entente is maintained and does enforce the treaty, Millerand's coup will have won much for France. It will have served notice on London and Washington and Rome as well as upon Berlin.

The contest over the treaty is but begun. The Ruhr matter was the first serious engagment. Other questions will arise and they too will tax the strength of the Entente. It is France's idea that the Entente won the war and the Entente must win the peace. On any other basis France doubts the value of the Entente. For, after all, France is looking out for France, and although she does not fear the German fighting strength today, she believes that if Germany is not disarmed she will be in position to be feared five years from now. Those are almost the words of Marshal Foch, uttered to a friend last night.

New Note from Germany.

It is significant that on the heels of the English Government's saying France must shoulder the responsibility for her action on the Rhine Herr von Mayer handed to M. Millerand a note tonight saying that Germany would hold France responsible for all damages growing out of the occupation of the Rhine cities.

In some quarters here is voiced the opinion that Lloyd George is partly actuated by pique toward Millerand because the French Premier has tried to assume leadership in formulation of the allied policy toward Germany. Unlike Clemenceau, Millerand is a man of legal training and has an exact mind which is backed by native obstinacy. He is hard to move and Lloyd George has found that out without discovering how to move him.

French Press Bitter.

The comment in even most serious French papers is very bitter against Lloyd George. Through all the comment runs the thought, more or less openly expressed, that England has gotten her dues out of the war settlement and is going to let France rustle for hers. The decision of Belgium to join with France in the occupation task is the peg upon which caustic comment is hung.

The Journal des Débâts tonight says Lloyd George has gone back to his policy of August, 1914, when he opposed England's coming into the war. It adds:

"In declaring he is not in accord with France on the occupation of Frankfort and that he would have waited for an event equivalent to a catastrophe before taking coercive measures against Germany, Mr. Lloyd George creates a situation pregnant with catastrophies.

"In the face of the decision of Lloyd George we are happy to fnid that of faithful Belgium. As in 1914, Belgium his done her duty. Let Belgium be rewarded."

The Temps says that to secure her future safety France had to act, and adds:

"The English Government appears to believe it is in accord with all of the allies of France in disapproving the occupation of the German towns. If that were so France would find herself in a kind of isolation, but it is not correct that France is disapproved of by all her allies. And it would not be fair to consider the official opinion of London as representative of the British people.

"Among the Allies of France is one who ranges herself at our side with a fidelity at which we are not surprised but at which we are profoundly joyful. The Belgian Sovereign and his people remain as we knew them in August, 1914.

"On his side the President of the United States has not yet expressed his opinion. He is inclined to ask the French Government what are its intentions. That is not a question which ought to embarrass France. She has occupied the German towns only in order to prevent Germany from continuing to violate the treaty and she remains firmly resolved to withdraw her troops the moment German troops shall have completely evacuated the neutral zone."

"Germany shirks or systematically refuses to execute the treaty. The affair of the Ruhr is only one episode among many. These episodes follow each other with an increasing gravity. For how long still can and will the allied Governments allow such a state of things to continue? That is the real problem."

Holds French Had no Justification.

PARIS, April 9 (Associated Press).—A dispatch from the Woff Bureau asserts that the note handed the French Government by the German Government maintains that the occupation of German territory was unjustified and not anticipated by the Treaty of Versailles, and caused numerous incidents, including the killing of Germans and the wounding of others.

The German Government, the note declares, reserved the right to protest further, but from now on it would hold the French Government responsible for all damages caused or which could result from recent occurrences.

The note declares that the sending of German troops into the Ruhr was not an act inherited from the Kapp dictatorship. In supoprt of this statement the note quotes the instructions sent by Foreign Under Secretary von Haniel to Dr. von Mayer, the German Chargé d'Affaires in Paris, asking him to make it plain that the request for permission to send troops into the Ruhr emanated from the constitutional Government.

On April 5, the note asserts, there were 43,000 German soldiers, and not 160,000, in the Ruhr. The note also says that the rebels in the Ruhr region opposed serious resistance, but that the Reichswehr forces made moderate use of their strength.

Paul Cambon, the French Ambassador at London, has been instructed to present to the British Government the response of the French Government to the note sent to France by Great Britain yesterday with regard to the French invasion of Germany.

Why Britain Was Frank.

LONDON, April 9.—It is announced in authoritative quarters that Thursday's communication giving the British official view of the French advance into Germany was made chiefly to prevent any possible damage to the Anglo-French alliance, "on which the hope of the world is centred" and in no wise with the purpose of exciting public opinion here or in any other country. Moreover, it is said that the views expressed were those of the entire British Cabinet and not those of any individual Minister.

The Ministers, it is declared, feel that there is nothing to be gained in any alliance by glossing over or ignoring the seriousness of a situation engendered by one ally taking military action on its own initiative against the opinon of other allies.

Great Britain, it was said, is equally as concerned as any other signatory to secure the execution of the Peace Treaty, but holds that any violent action taken without unimpeachable reasons would only weaken the authority of the Allies.

The Peace Treaty, according to the British view, did not contemplate a situation such as now has arisen, which, it was stated, was one calling for police action against disorder, and not war. Great Britain is just as ready as France to insist on the execution of the treaty if the Germans show hesitation in fulfilling their guarantee to evacuate the neutral zone at the appointed time, and is willing to agree to any necessary action in such an event. The French Government had been fully informed of this view before troops were sent.

Faith in the Entente and friendliness for the French people, it was said, have been in no wise diminished, and the announcement that France acted on her own initiative and against the advice of the Allies was merely a statement of fact which was necessary in order to make clear that the Allies as a whole cannot possibly accept the position that they can be committed by the independent action of any one ally and to strengthen the alliance by insuring solidarity for the future.

BELGIAN BATTALION TO GO TO FRANKFORT

Government Will Thus Manifest Its Desire to Co-operate with the French.

COBLENZ, April 9 (Associated Press).—Notification was given today through the Belgian Military Mission here of the formal participation of Belgium in the French action in occupying Frankfort. Belgium is sending a detachment of troops with the French to mark its co-operation, it is announced.

Only a small Belgian unit, the strength of a battalion, will be sent, the soldiers probably going to Frankfort.

BRUSSELS, April 9.—The Dernière Heure says the Belgian Government has decided to place the Belgian roads and railways at the disposal of France for the eventual dispatch of troops to Germany.

The Nation Belge asserts the belief that the Belgian contingent which is to collaborate with the French will be a line regiment.

Virtually the entire Belgian press warmly approves the decision of the Government to act in union with France regarding German military action in the Ruhr district.

The Independence Belge says:

"We manifest our purpose to enforce respect for the treaty and to maintain the peace guarantees, and thus we recall to our other Allies how essential to the security of Europe and to peace is execution of the Versailles agreement."

The Nation Belge says:

"The necessity for a complete understanding between France and Belgium, which was rendered more evident by the recent events in Germany, emphasizes the urgency of a solution of all problems as to which the interests of the two nations are in opposition. The question of the Duchy of Luxemburg cannot be excepted from the category of those affected by these events. We are on the eve of an accord based on the concerted intervention of the two countries in all affairs where the common interest requires precautionary measures.

PARIS, April 9.—Baron de Gaiffier d'Hestroy, Belgian Ambassador, officially notified the French Government this morning of the decision of the Belgian Government to associate itself with the measures taken by France for the military occupation of German cities.

PEACE RESOLUTION PASSES, 242-150

Representative H. W. Temple of Pennsylvania discussed the intricate phases of the resolution, while Representative Longworth of Ohio attacked the President, insisting that he alone was responsible for the delay in effecting peace.

Kelley's Aggressive Attack.

"I am tremendously opposed to this resolution," said Representative Kelley. "It is a proposition to make a separate peace with Germany. If the President had come back to this country and said he was going to make a peace with Germany separate and distinct from the peace to be made in conjunction with the nations with whom we fought, he would not have had a vote of support or confidence on either side.

"If you pass this resolution today, the moral effect of it on the opinion of America will be not what is intended, but that this House has approved the course of those who stood against the treaty in the Senate, with or without reservations, and in favor of a separate peace.

"This is a resolution to make a separate peace with Germany without terms, without pledges, without guarantees of any kind, shape or description. The proposal is a new and strained attitude for us to take on this side of the Chamber. A distinguished Republican leader more than a year ago said it was our place to remain with the allied nations and not make a separate peace with Germany."

Mr. Kelley then read from the speeches of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts to substantiate his statement.

"I believe that for the present," Mr. Kelley continued, "and until the conditions of the world settle down, we must stand with the nations with whom we fought. Our record is perfectly clear. We stand for the treaty as it is written and approved by the Republican members of the Senate. When the time comes that a sufficient number of Democrats will join us in the ratification of that treaty we will be at peace with all the world, and then no man can accuse us of saying that within eighteen months after the armistice was signed, before the grass had grown a second time over the graves of our dead in France, we held out a friendly hand to Germany and said, 'Shake hands; call it square.' Never with my vote, gentlemen."

Kitchin Challenges Republicans.

Representative Kitchin said that he could not understand how "any red-blooded American can justify his vote for this resolution." He declared that it would prevent the United States from treating with Germany as a victor should treat with a vanquished foe in the negotiations of peace, and continued:

"The passage of this resolution would put America in the position of treating with Germany as an equal among the nations of the world. We would have to re-declare war to dictate terms. So it is absolutely necessary from a patriotic standpoint that the technical state of war should continue."

Mr. Kitchin contended that the responsibility of rejecting the treaty of Versailles with the Lodge reservations never had been "put up to President Wilson." The treaty, he said, never had been ratified and sent to the President.

"The President," he said, "had his finger on only twenty Democrats in the Senate. He could control them absolutely. But there are ninety-six Senators. How could the President's control over twenty prevent the other seventy-six from ratifying the treaty?

"The Democrats furnished the Republicans with 21 votes—enough not only to make the necessary two-thirds for ratification, but three-fourths of the Senate.

Declares Move Must Fail.

"I charge that every line of this resolution is full of false pretense and hypocrisy. Senator Lodge, the Republican leader in the Senate, knew it was demagoguery and hypocrisy when he conceived it and put the burden of passing it upon the House.

"Every Republican on this floor knows it is absolutely impossible for this resolution ever to become a law. They know that the President, under his oath, must veto it, and they know that it can't be passed over his veto."

Declaring that the Republicans held that the only thing they sought was to remove the war laws from the statute books and get the country back on a normal basis, Mr. Kitchin flung this challenge to them:

"Bring in a straight-out repeal measure, and I will guarantee you enough Democratic votes to pass it over the President's veto. But the Republicans don't want to repeal these laws. They know that if they repeal any of the war laws, the first one to come off the statute books must be the Lever Food and Fuel Control act, because that is the law that the little people, and farmers and the average business men want to get rid of.

"I'll tell you the reason why. Ask the big corporation interests. The Lever act is the only statute that gives power to the courts to issue injunctions against labor leaders and labor. It is the only law which permits contempt proceedings and jail sentences to be imposed.

"Big business has said to the Republicans 'let that be the last act repealed. It is the only act that can be held as a club over labor.'"

Declaring that the resolution could never accomplish the repeal of the war laws because it could not be passed over a Presidential veto, Mr. Kitchen said that a vote for it would be "a vote to deceive labor."

Representative Flood asserted that if the Republican majority in the Senate had not been "obtained by the purchase of a Senatorial seat in Michigan" the treaty would have been ratified. He also remarked that many Republicans had aided in the passage of the Volstead act over the President's veto, and continued:

"I am curious to know how they will reconcile their acts in voting to continue war-time prohibition on the ground that we were at war with the vote they are going to cast today for a resolution based upon a preamble which declares that the war had been at an end eight months before that vote was taken."

Representative Longworth reviewed the peace negotiations at Paris, and declared that the President had not followed the views of the American people, but had persisted in keeping the country at war because the Senate refused to accept the League of Nations.

"There is one insurmountable obstacle in our path toward peace," he said, "and that obstacle is the President of the United States. A treaty of peace might have been ratified more than a year ago if he had not included in the treaty, as he frequently boasted, the child of his brain, that un-American monstrosity known as the Wilson League of Nations.

"It still remains, though twice repudiated, an integral part of the treaty in the exact phraseology bargained for and brought back from Paris by the President."

After charging surrender by Wilson to Clemenceau and others, in order to obtain the League, Mr. Longworth continued:

"And so the League was bought and paid for at the expense of the American people, and the President returned to display his wares to his almost forgotten constituents. To his immense surprise they balked at the bargain.

"Reverse after reverse met his efforts. His auditors were respectfully unconvinced by his arguments and his persuasive eloquence fell upon dull ears. Furious at his failure, he raged at his opponents and coined epithets to fling at their devoted heads, but the more he raged the stronger grew the opposition, until finally one day during a paroxysm of fury something snapped, and he returned to Washington a broken man.

"The question simply is, 'Shall we, the chosen representatives of 110,000,000 people, sit supine and permit the will of a vast majority to be thwarted by the will of one man, elevated to office originally by a minority and since then repudiated by a great majority?'"

Representative Mondell closed the debate for the resolution in a fifteen-minute speech, in which he pleaded for support from both sides of the House, saying that the country wanted peace and that it was not a partisan issue.

The vote on the resolution was:

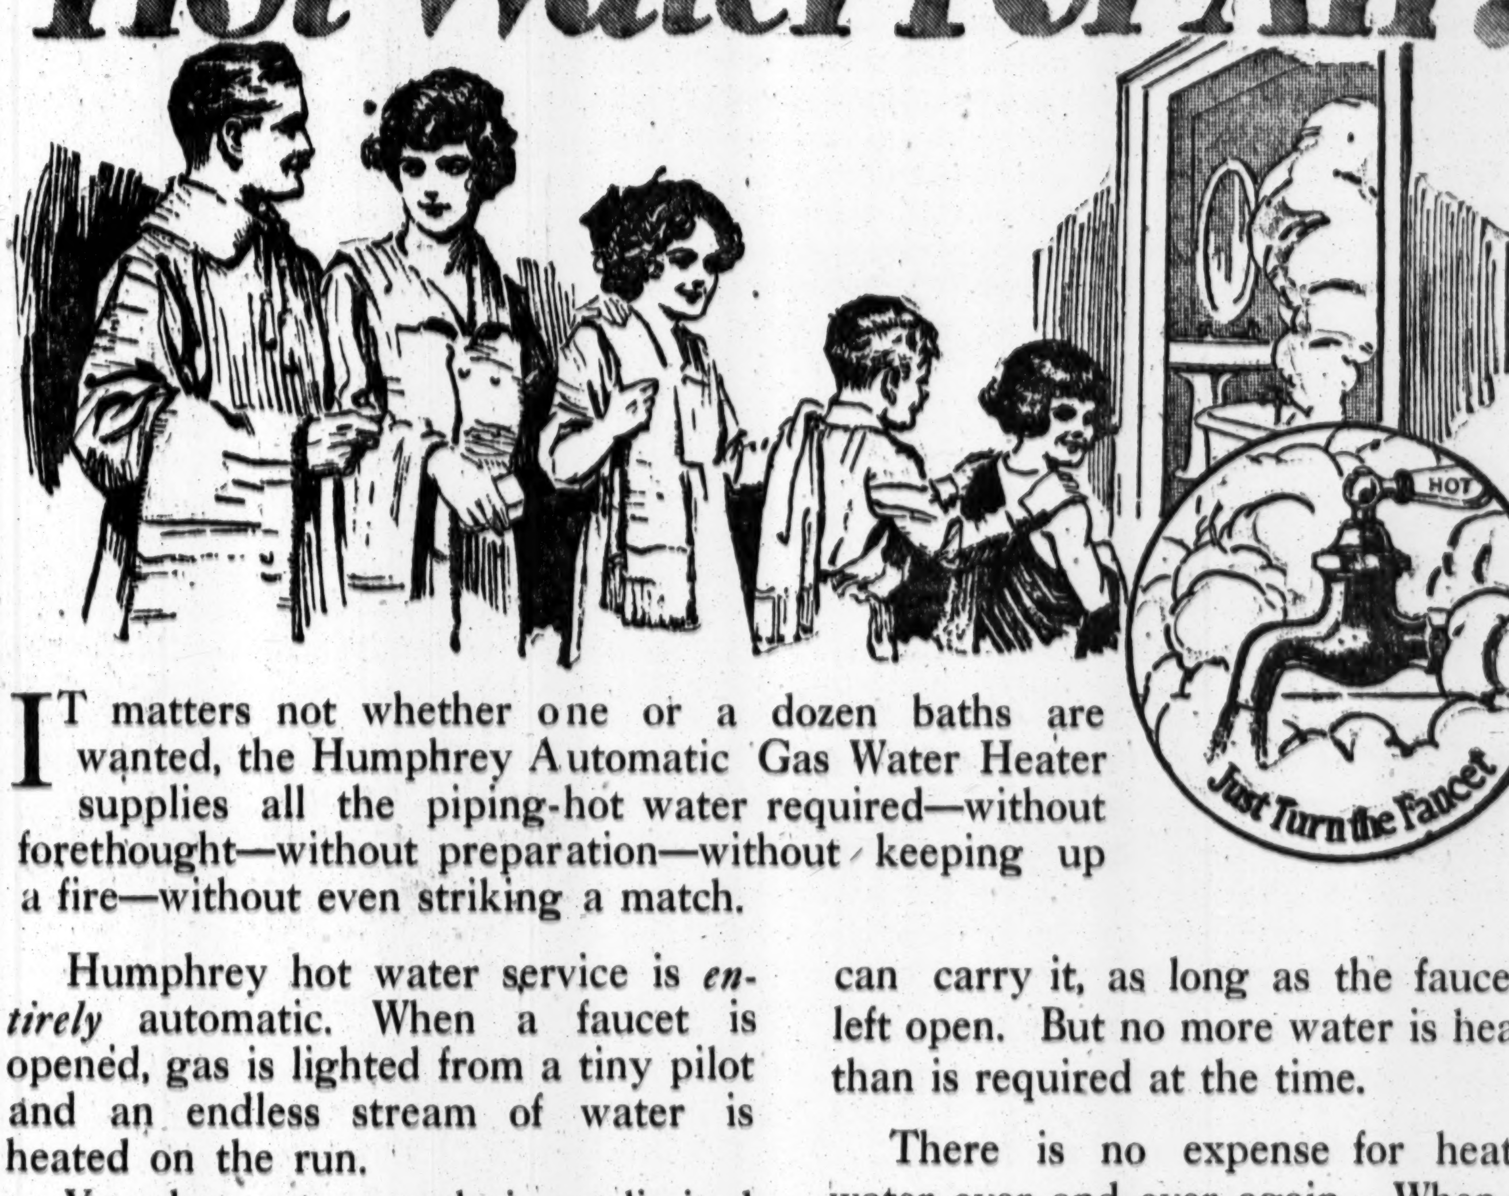
Hot Water For All!



It matters not whether one or a dozen baths are wanted, the Humphrey Automatic Gas Water Heater supplies all the piping-hot water required—without forethought—without preparation—without keeping up a fire—without even striking a match.

Humphrey hot water service is entirely automatic. When a faucet is opened, gas is lighted from a tiny pilot and an endless stream of water is heated on the run.

Your hot water supply is not limited to the capacity of a tank. Steaming hot water comes as fast as the faucet can carry it, as long as the faucet is left open. But no more water is heated than is required at the time.

There is no expense for heating water over and over again. When the faucet is closed, the gas shuts off—expense is stopped.

WOMEN WARN SWEET THEY WILL ORGANIZE

Plan to Enroll 500,000 Women Workers in Demand for an Eight-Hour Day.

LOSE FAITH IN LEGISLATURE

They Will No Longer Wait on Albany "Reactionaries" for Relief, Union Leader Says.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, April 9.—Organization of more than 500,000 women workers in the State into trade unions, to force the eight-hour day and minimum wage on the manufacturers, if the Legislature refuses enactment of the bills, will be attempted by the Women's Trade Union League. This ultimatum was served today on Speaker Sweet of the Assembly and other Legislators whom the women charge with holding up the social welfare program.

Writing to the Women's Joint Legislative Conference, Miss Rose Schneiderman, President of the Women's Trade Union League, today declared that the 75,000 trade union women in the State will no longer "dilly-dally around trying to have bills passed by a reactionary Legislature controlled by Speaker Sweet and the manufacturing interests of the State."

"Labor," she said, "has come to realize that it cannot expect any relief through legislation. Since the Legislature has persistently refused to pass these measures which the working women of the State have been demanding for six years, the time has come to rely entirely on trade unionism in forcing the eight-hour day and the minimum wage inside the factory itself."

Miss Mary E. Dreier, Chairman of the Women's Joint Legislative Conference, which has backed passage of the bills, and who is also a member of the Women's Trade Union League Executive Board, said today that no action had been taken by the conference on Miss Schneiderman's proposal, but that undoubtedly the conference would adopt the proposal.

Mrs. Frank A. Vanderlip and Mrs. George D. Pratt, of the New York State League of Women Voters, and Mrs. Bernard E. Pollak, President of the National League of Women Workers, have expressed their willingness to assist in such a movement.

SAYS THE STATE FACES A $200,000,000 BUDGET

Income Tax Will Be Doubled if Teachers' Rise and Soldiers' Bonus Pass, Sage Asserts.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, April 9.—Next year's State income tax rate will be doubled and next year's State budget reach the record breaking total of $200,000,000, if the Legislature lends willing ear to demands now being made for increases in teachers' salaries and bonuses for veterans of the World War, according to Henry M. Sage, Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

The budget total this year is approximately $117,000,000. Senator Sage said that all of $80,000,000 would be added if the teachers and veterans get what they want.

The salary increases for teachers, Senator Sage estimated, would render it necessary to raise by direct tax for that purpose $20,250,000, or at the rate of 1.5 mills on all the taxable real property in the State. War bonuses for the soldiers would mean an added expenditure of from $45,000,000 to $50,000,000, and to meet sinking fund charges $15,000,000 will be needed next year.

MEXICAN STATE SEIZES AMERICAN-OWNED ROAD

Sonora Authorities Take Over Southern Pacific Subsidiary Tied Up by Local Strike.

NOGALES, Ariz., April 9.—The Southern Pacific of Mexico Railroad, an American-owned line, was seized by the State Government of Sonora, Mexico, today. The railroad for some days had been tied up by a strike.

No formal notice of the intention of the Sonora authorities to seize and operate the line was given, officials here and at Tucson said. These officials said the strike soon would have been broken had not the State authorities acted.

The Southern Pacific of Mexico is a subsidiary of the Southern Pacific Company in the United States and 600,000 American stockholders are interested in the Mexican line.

With the seizure of the line the Mexican authorities started operating trains, employing the strikers with the announcement that their demands regarding hours and pay would be recognized.

REPORT 5TH AV. SITE BOUGHT BY SAKS & CO.

Hotel Buckingham at Southeast Corner of Fiftieth Street Withdrawn from Market.

ASSESSED VALUE $2,000,000

United Cigar Stores Co. Leased Present Home of Rumored Purchasers Last January.

The Hotel Buckingham at the southeast corner of Fiftieth Street and Fifth Avenue, was reported yesterday to have been sold to Saks & Co. of Thirty-fourth Street and Sixth Avenue. No confirmation of the report could be obtained except that the property had been withdrawn from the market.

The property, which is considered one of the most valuable in the Fifth Avenue section north of Forty-second Street, is owned by the George Kemp Real Estate Corporation. It has a frontage of 55 feet on Fifth Avenue and 208 feet on Fiftieth Street and runs through the block to Forty-ninth Street, where it has a frontage of 75 feet.

The Fiftieth Street corner and frontage is located directly opposite St. Patrick's Cathedral, and has the advantage of perpetual light and air afforded by the setback of the Cathedral, which is built some feet back from the curb line.

Assessed Value About $2,000,000.

According to the tax books, the hotel property has an assessed valuation of about $2,000,000. The land alone is assessed at about $1,750,000.

Horace Saks of Saks & Co. said that a statement regarding the future location of Saks & Co. would probably be made next week.

The present building occupied by Saks & Co., on Broadway, from Thirty-third to Thirty-fourth Street, was leased last January by the United Cigar Stores Company for a twenty-one-year term at $400,000 a year. The Saks lease still has four years to run, but they are known to have been seeking larger quarters for a long time.

KITCHIN'S COLLAPSE CAUSED BY STRAIN

Reported to be Resting Easy at Night—Physicians Uncertain as to Gravity of Stroke.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Representative Claude Kitchin of North Carolina, Democratic leader in the last Congress, who was stricken with a slight attack of paralysis on the left side today shortly after he had delivered a speech in the House opposing the peace resolution, was said tonight to be resting easy. His physicians said that the seriousness of his condition could not be determined for ten days.

The paralysis resulted from a clot on the right side of the brain, affecting the left side and producing a slight facial paralysis. It was caused by a high blood pressure and the unusual exertion incident to delivering his speech, his physicians said.

This is the second attack which Mr. Kitchin has suffered, the first having come in December, when his speech was affected for a short time.

During his address today Mr. Kitchin displayed his usual vigor. Frequently, however, calls of "louder" interrupted him and he appeared to have some difficulty in raising his voice to reach throughout the chamber.

His speech was extemporaneous, but he was armed with references to the Congressional Record, to which he turned with no indication at first that he was suffering from any impairment of faculties.

MRS. SHONTS WINS CONTROL OF ESTATE

Appellate Division Reverses Surrogate Fowler and Restores Widow as Administratrix.

HER COURSE IS UPHELD

Court Approves Move to Protect Property Claimed by Mrs. Amanda C. Thomas.

Mrs. Milla D. Shonts, widow of Theodore P. Shonts, at the time of his death several months ago President of the Interboro Rapid Transit Company, yesterday was restored as temporary administratrix of her husband's estate in a unanimous decision handed down by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court. The opinion of the court was written by Justice Edgar S. K. Merrill, and reversed the order of former Surrogate Robert Ludlow Fowler removing her as temporary administratrix at the request of De Lancy Nicoll, E. J. Berwind and the Guaranty Trust Company, executors named in the will, and appointing the trust company in her place.

The decision also ordered that letters of administration immediately be given to Mrs. Shonts so she might fulfill her duties as temporary administratrix in accordance with the original order signed by Surrogate Fowler before he removed her. It could not be learned last night whether Cornelius J. Sullivan, counsel for the executors, would carry the case to the Court of Appeals.

Mrs. Shonts applied in November last to Surrogate Fowler to be appointed temporary administratrix of her husband's estate. On March 16 following, by prearrangement, three wills were filed in the Surrogate's office, all of which were alleged to have been executed by Mr. Shonts. One will, dated July 20, 1905, made Mrs. Shonts residuary legatee, as well as one of the executors, and made liberal bequests to his daughters, the Duchess de Chaulnes of Paris and Mrs. Rutherford Bingham.

The two other wills, dated Aug. 10, 1916, and Jan. 16, 1917, gave most of the estate to Mrs. Amanda C. Thomas, whom Mr. Shonts described as "my friend," [illegible] Cornelius J. Sullivan, counsel for the executors, filed those two wills.

In his opinion setting aside the appointment of Mrs. Shonts as temporary administratrix Surrogate Fowler [illegible] that no will existed, and then Mrs. Shonts evidently knew a will existed.

In connection with the Surrogate's reference to that fact the opinion of the Appellate Division says in part:

"The learned Surrogate, in his opinion accompanying the order removing the widow as temporary administratrix, stated that she had been appointed, in a course of administration and on the judicial proof and assumption that there was no will, and that nothing further had been done in the proceeding based on alleged intestacy, but since an executed will in writing has made its appearance and had been filed with a petition for its probate.

"Such tremendous fact," in the opinion of the Surrogate, "entirely altered the situation existing when Mrs. Shonts was named as temporary administratrix. In the opinion of the learned Surrogate: 'When a will is produced in this court with a petition for probate, the jurisdictional requisite for an administration proceeding ceases ipso facto.'

"I think the Surrogate was in error, both as to his assumption of fact that the temporary administratrix was appointed upon the assumption that there was no will, and as to his conclusion of law that the production of an alleged will with a petition for its probate deprived the Surrogate's Court of jurisdiction to grant temporary administration.

"The appointment of Mrs. Shonts was not obtained by false suggestion of a material fact," the decision continues. "Other information as to the alleged will was frankly laid before the Surrogate. Nothing was concealed. She has the right to treat the alleged will as a nullity, and the most that the petitioning executor claims was that she had seen a copy of it."

COURT ENDS BROKER'S TRIAL

Directs Acquittal of Philip F. Kastel on Grand Larceny Charge.

Judge Crain in General Sessions yesterday stopped the trial of Philip F. Kastel, a broker, charged with grand larceny, and directed the jury to acquit him. Kastel, who lives at the Waldorf-Astoria and is a member of the brokerage firm of P. F. Kastel & Co., 20 Broad Street, was prosecuted by Adolph Kahn, an art dealer of 948 Amsterdam Avenue, who alleged that in June, 1918, he gave to Kastel $3,500 for the purchase of 10,000 shares of Tuxpam Oil Company, for which he had failed to get an accounting.

Kahn was testifying when Kastel's attorney, W. J. Fallon, submitted alleged testimony given by Kahn in September, 1918, at the bankruptcy proceedings of a brokerage firm at 44 Broad Street to the effect that the bankrupt concern and not Kastel's firm was custodian of and in possession of Kahn's stock.

An Invitation from Packard

METROPOLITAN men and women measure motor car comfort by their own high standards of living.

Perhaps that is why there are such a noticeable number of Packard cars to be seen in New York and the surrounding suburbs.

But there are many people who have never experienced perfect relaxation in motoring.

How are they going to know that first-class transportation is something that gives you more—not something that necessarily costs you more.

Judging from our experience—a ride in a Packard Twin-Six is all that is necessary.

Packard believes that comfort is a prime essential of modern transportation.

Whether the comfort of long, easy riding springs, deep upholstery, smooth Twin-Six performance—

Or the comfort of perfect weather protection in Packard closed cars—

Or the closed-in protection of Packard tailored side-curtains in open cars—a revelation to the motorist who knows only ordinary side curtains.

Packard comfort is a thing we can demonstrate and are glad to. It is inherent with the Packard Car—just as economy and safety and performance are inherent Packard qualities.

There are never quite enough Packards to meet the Metropolitan demand. To get Summer and Fall delivery it is necessary to order now.

The part that fine steels play
MAXWELL

There is a definite reason for the brilliant performance of a Maxwell car.

Lift the bonnet and you see the simplest of engines. Examine clutch and gears, and you see supreme simplicity.

The definite reason for Maxwell performance and endurance is the fine steels, those steels built to Maxwell's own formulas, that combine quality and rare strength, that defy time and the repairman.

This is the story of the Maxwell, the real cause for brilliant performance and long endurance. These steels do not burden the engine. They make its tasks easier. They flatten out a hill for the engine.

The combination of light weight and great strength—the ideal of Maxwell construction—is thus achieved.

And to obtain that rare combination of strength with quality means costly steels. So you will find that, pound for pound, the steels in a Maxwell equal those in any car built.

That is why the rise of Maxwell has been so marked; why nearly 400,000 have been built; why 100,000 are being constructed this year; why these will fill but 60% of the demand.

WILL DEPORT ONLY REAL COMMUNISTS

CRITICISES MANY ARRESTS

Declares Men Held as Suspects Are Not Anarchists, but Workers of Good Character.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Bona fide membership in the Communist Party and guilty knowledge of the precepts of that organization by alleged undesirable aliens will be made the basis of deportation, Acting Secretary Post ruled today in canceling the warrant issued in the case of Thomas Truss of Baltimore.

Appearance of a suspect's name in the membership list will not be accepted as proof of his connection with the party, it was held. Withdrawal from membership prior to the date of the ban against the organization will be taken, however, as indicating clean intent, and "where the accused appears to be a person of good general character, fit for American citizenship except for the accusation in hand, and there is reasonable doubt of his membership, the warrant will be canceled."

Mr. Post reviewed the case of Truss at length as typical of the thousands he will be called upon to decide. He criticised severely the apparent failure of local police and agents of the Department of Justice to protect the rights of aliens arrested, declaring in the case of Truss that no warrant was produced, that the prisoner was not informed of the reason or authority for his summary imprisonment and that he did not receive the privilege of obtaining counsel.

Examination of the records, Mr. Post said, showed that, far from being an anarchist, as charged, Truss was "a respected member and active worker for the St. Paul Polish Presbyterian Church in Baltimore."

"It is found in a large proportion of cases I have examined that there is no better reason for deportation than is disclosed in the present case," Mr. Post said. "As a rule the hearings show the aliens arrested to be working men of good character, who have never been arrested before, who are not anarchists or revolutionists, nor politically nor otherwise dangerous in any sense.

"It is pitiful to consider the hardship to which they and their families have been subjected during the past three or four months by arbitrary arrests, long detention in default of bail beyond the means of hard-working wage-earners to give, for nothing more dangerous than affiliating with friends of their own race, country and language, and without the slightest indication of sinister motive, or any unlawful act within their knowledge or intention.

"To permit aliens to violate the hospitality of this country by conspiring against it is something which no American can contemplate with patience. Equally impatient, however, must any patriotic American be with drastic proceedings on flimsy proof to deport aliens who are not conspiring against our laws, and do not intend to. Although these are not criminal proceedings, being wholly administrative in their character, in the effect on the innocent individual who in this summary way is found to be guilty is as distressing to him and his family, to his friend and his neighbors, as the effect of convictions for crime by regular judicial process."

BARNARD DEAN IS HONORED.

Alumnae Gives Dinner for Miss Virginia C. Gildersleeve.

The Alumnae of Barnard College gave a dinner last night at the Hotel Astor in honor of Miss Virginia C. Gildersleeve, Dean of Barnard College, in recognition of the tenth year of her service as Dean. Stephen P. Duggan, Director of the Institute of International Education, predicted that the total of 7,000 students from other countries soon will be increased surprisingly.

Other speakers were Nicholas Murray Butler, President of Columbia University; John Erskine, Alice Duer Miller, William P. Brewster, Frederick Paul Keppel and Miss Amy Jennings.

today from the Hotel Vanderbilt to the fourth floor of the Grand Central Palace. It was said that the removal was for reasons of economy, in view of Mr. Hoover's expressed wish that expenditures for his candidacy be kept as low as possible.

Mrs. Bass Disappointed.

Mrs. George Bass, Chairman of the women's department of the Democratic National Committee, said that Mr. Hoover had made an error in judgment in declaring himself a Republican if he seriously desired to be President. "Before his recent declaration that he would accept the Republican nomination," said Mrs. Bass, whose work has carried her from coast to coast, "Mr. Hoover made a strong appeal to the independent and politically unclassified women and to the women who were nominally Republican, but who were disgusted with the autocratic management of the Republican Party. I take it for granted that he also made a strong appeal to the independent male voters, the number of whom is growing constantly.

"But when Mr. Hoover says that he will only take a nomination from the Republican Party and indicates his willingness to run on a platform dictated by Murray Crane, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Senator P. C. Knox, Senator Boies Penrose and Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., the Republican management, he repels at once that independent element whose support he seeks.

"I think it was a great shock to the women of the country to find that Mr. Hoover was a partisan. Many women were dissatisfied with the boss rule of the Republican Party. They have looked with favor upon Mr. Hoover, either on the Democratic or a third ticket, because they believed him independent. In my opinion, the Democratic Party is the only fluid medium for the use of women wherein their ideas may find expression. It is not the fixed, reactionary mechanism that the Republican Party is."

DU PONT

Du Pont equipment aids Y. W. C. A. cafeteria

Restaurant equipment furnished on short notice averts delay in opening and saves Y.W.C.A. money

The Y. W. C. A. in a large eastern city recently completed the building of a beautiful restaurant on the main thorofare. A few days before the date set for the opening, they found they were without a steam table and trays. Unless they got this necessary equipment the cafeteria could not be opened. Restaurant supply houses could not promise delivery on this equipment.

It was then that one of the Y.W.C.A. members suggested that they try the Du Pont Chemical Co. We had just what they needed. Within two days their steam table and trays were installed and the opening of the restaurant took place on schedule time.

If you, too, need equipment in a hurry, no matter what kind, let us know. We may have just what you need and save you, as we saved the Y. W. C. A., time and money.

FRANCE AND THE ENTENTE.

There is nothing new in the substance of the precipitate and unhappily worded proclamation of difference between France and her allies which was made for Mr. Lloyd George by his subordinates. Our Government had assented to the German request to send troops to the Ruhr, and it was known that England and Italy disagreed with the French view. But in the announcement there was a fine disregard for mere accuracy, as well as a generous reluctance to consider expediency, which lends plausibility to the suggestion that the purpose was chiefly to obtain the support of the pacifists in Parliament for Mr. Lloyd George. The statement that Belgium was opposed to the French advance may have been true at one time, but certainly was not true at the time the announcement was made; Italy now takes her place beside England, but the language of Mr. Scialoja's statement on Thursday night makes it extremely improbable that his Government would have approved of the language of the British announcement, and doubtful if it would have seen the necessity of any announcement at all. Whatever Mr. Wilson thought about the French advance, he did not find it necessary to make public proclamation of his difference with France, and one may doubt if he expected Mr. Lloyd George to proclaim it in a manner which must bring great joy to the Germans.

The Allies, it appears, considered several temporizing measures in response to the German violation of the Treaty by the advance to the Ruhr. One proposal was to send allied officers to superintend the withdrawal of the Germans—a withdrawal which is by no means certain to occur. Another was to leave the whole matter to the honor of the German Government, with the warning that if it did not "sufficiently restore the status quo" the Allies would occupy other German cities. At any rate, the advance into Germany was to have been "only a last-resort method," and was to be undertaken, if at all, by all the Allies and not by any one of them.

Thus Mr. Lloyd George. The question seems to have lain in the definition of a last resort. The French, who had seen enough matters intrusted to the honor of the German Government, thought that this was the last resort; that it was time to show the Germans that they were expected to take the Treaty seriously. The other Allies disagreed with the French, and refused to co-operate in the advance—except the Belgians, who very sensibly sank their original doubts as to the expediency of the measure in consideration of "asserting the principle of the solidarity of the Allies before Germany and as a token of friendship to France."

The paramount issue could not have been better expressed. Is Germany already so thoroughly purified that we can ignore the principle of solidarity of the Allies and edify her with exhibitions of interallied disagreement? Mr. Lloyd George, who has only read about the Germans, thinks so; but the Belgians, who had the Germans on their backs for four years, do not think so; and Mr. Scialoja's statement on Thursday night indicates a desire to avoid any appearance of disapproval of the French course, even though Italy did not follow it. But Mr. Lloyd George announces to the Germans that they have the moral support of all France's allies against France; that everybody but France approves the violation of the Treaty. It was the rumor of such an announcement that excited the Frankfort populace to the point where they became embroiled with the French troops. If more riots do not follow the announcement itself it will be surprising.

The Germans who can be trusted support the French policy. Mr. Lloyd George has put the rest of the major Powers on the side of the Government which would rather go overboard than let go the hand of the Junker. What is the use of hoping for any change of heart in Germany when we prefer Ludendorff to Legien? What is the use of making a treaty if we at once encourage the enemy to break it?

THE OUTLAW STRIKE.

If Americans are to be subdued by foreign methods, which rest upon Bolshevist theories and practice and all the sanctions of dictation by the proletariat, the strike of the so-called "outlaw" societies of railway workers that began in Chicago a little over a week ago is the kind of strike to which they will submit. A Chicago & Northwestern Railway conductor, subsequently a yardmaster, is discharged. He is described as having been a pro-German in the war and removed from the Railway Trainmen's Brotherhood on that account. On his own hook and for his own purposes, or those of the trouble makers, he formed an "outlaw union." From the Pacific to the Atlantic a strike was begun, without knowledge of its reason, ignorantly, "on orders." No notice was given. Peremptorily, without the slightest regard to the interests of the railway employés of the country, a band of radicals in divers cities called this strike, unlawful under Federal statute and unpermitted by the rules of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

Incalculable loss and disaster might have resulted from this strike. Still, the calling of it may have salutary results. Men who are virtually or actually Communists or Anarchists have become perniciously active in labor unions. They seek no improvement of the conditions of labor. They strive to disrupt, disorganize and paralyze the communications, the industries, the food supply of the United States. They initiate a policy of "direct action" not to ameliorate any actual grievances, but to produce social and economic confusion and collapse. They are promoting strikes not with any view to real grievances, but for the sake of causing the gravest public losses, the destruction of the American polity, the erection of a Soviet form of government.

It is for the labor unions, for the great body of conservative and loyal Americans among them to decide how far such wicked, causeless and dangerous attempted revolutions shall succeed. So far as they succeed, wages must be reduced or end; the proletariat autocracy must drive the members of the labor unions into a state of virtual slavery. Not merely the railroads but the whole industrial, political and civic life of the community is threatened by these conspirators. Temporarily a great deal of harm might be done by them if they were successful. It is impossible to suppose that the labor unions favor these radical oligarchies, which, if permitted to pursue their reckless way, would destroy the labor unions, introduce financial and economic chaos, and bring among the sober part of the community a reaction that might rob the labor unions of everything they have gained in years of ordered and pondered growth.

This "outlaw" strike, this program of anarchs, must set the labor unions seriously to consider the deadly danger which the radical and destructive element among them is inviting. Either they must control and repress that element or they will be smashed hopelessly and relentlessly. The majority of the American people have been kind to them, sometimes, through sacrifice of the general interest, but the majority of the American people won't stand the strike for destruction's sake, the building up of a proletariat autocracy. This outlaw strike is a good subject for official investigation.

THE BURGLAR'S ART.

Wholly philosophical—admirable, indeed, in patience and fortitude—is the attitude of Guttman Brothers toward the half ton of silk sweaters which, as it now transpires, were stolen from them over Sunday a full week ago. At the time of the burglary, which must have occupied the larger part of an unusually busy week-end, two holes were drilled in the safe—without, however, forcing the lock. Mr. Guttman expresses a regret that the attempt failed. He is of the opinion that if the burglars had got through to the cash they would not have spent the entire week-end over the dubious booty of half a ton of sweaters. Acting on this idea, he inserted an advertisement in The Times offering a reward, evidently in recognition of the labor and pains involved in getting away with half a ton of sweaters. The point of the advertisement is "merchandise needed."

A similar need was recorded in the "Lost and Found" column on the following morning. A dressmaker's shop was levied upon on April 6 and many garments were lifted, though the precise tonnage is not stated. One of them belonged or appertained to Victor J. Dowling; and the Judge, who is also blessed with a philosophic calm, explained to the students of things lost and "found" that the rose point lace on a certain wedding gown of white satin was precious as an heirloom, and that the return of the lace would be rewarded. Taken together, the statements indicate a new and noteworthy attitude toward a profession that has of late risen to the forefront of metropolitan life. Kind [illegible] are more than coroners and simple faith than burglar's blood.

Meantime The New York Law Journal bears witness to a parallel tendency. On a certain night a burglar alarm in West Seventeenth Street rang without cessation for two hours, from 9 to 11. There was testimony that it could be heard for a distance of 720 feet, and the New York Hospital was much nearer than that. Now, the ringing of a bell so as "to annoy, injure or endanger the comfort, repose or health of any considerable number of persons" may constitute a public nuisance; and for this and other like occurrences suit was brought against the company that installed the burglar alarm. It is not recorded that in any of these instances reference was made to the police. Though the mantle of charity may split at the seams, it covers both protectors and breakers of the law. The very facts in such cases are suppressed until they appear in a technical journal or in advertisements. And when the rates of burglar insurance are "doubled and doubled and doubled again, then squared, and raised to the power of ten," there is a call for the flying squadron of profiteer hunters.

BORROWING AND SAVING.

The Banking Superintendent of this State says that the totals of the savings bank deposits and resources are not only unprecedented but "astounding." New accounts increased by 190,971 to 3,658,435. Deposits increased from $2,042,011,104 to $2,267,393,790. These are figures of savings and show that not all wage earners are wasters. Despite the extravagance of some, as a class they never were so well off, so fortified against a rainy day.

There is a contrast to these figures in the prosperity of the pawnbrokers. The class from whose custom these small lenders usually draw most profit is leaving them, but is replaced by others whose borrowings are larger in total but fewer in number than usual. That is the testimony of the Provident Loan Society. Twenty years before the war its average loan was $16. Four years after the war started it was $53, and last year $76. In 1919's early months the number of borrowers leaving pledges between $250 and $500 was under 1,200, but in the closing months above 2,000. The report says: "Fewer loans were made than in any year since 1910, but the amount of loans was nearly $8,000,000 in excess of any previous year."

These borrowers are the "new poor," who have succeeded the old poor. Wage earners mostly patronize the pawnbroker in emergencies, such as sickness or unemployment. Salaried and professional men are less troubled by such family crises, but are more seriously affected by the necessity of sustaining their standards of living when the cost of living skyrockets out of their reach, if not sight. The new poor are on yearly rather than weekly pay, their ways of living are more settled, and their associations make demands upon their purses from which wage earners are more free. It is a tragedy that so many "intellectuals" are driven to striking to maintain not the dignity of their professions, but the decencies of their life. The misfortune is the public's as well as theirs. Prosperity confined to the two extremes of society, at the expense of the middle class, hardly deserves the name and rests on an insecure basis.

OUR NAVY WAS NOT READY.

Admiral after Admiral, Mayo, Rodman, Wilson, now takes the chair in the Senate investigation of the conduct of the war by Secretary Daniels and his staff assistants to affirm, with all sincerity, that the navy was well prepared and ready to assume the offensive, or to cope with a determined enemy, in April, 1917, when war was declared upon Germany. Admiral H. B. Wilson was so enthusiastic about the condition of the fleet and the morale of the rank and file that he told the committee that, if the German High Seas Fleet had broken through the British line, "we would have given it a pretty good drubbing." All of which means that Mayo, Rodman and Wilson do not agree with Admiral Sims when he says that the United States Navy was not thoroughly prepared for the shock of battle, that the plans for all emergencies were not properly worked out, and that the staff organization left a good deal to be desired.

The trouble seems to be that the dissenting Admirals are thinking more of the manhood and training of the personnel and of the excellence of the American type of battleship in 1917 than they are thinking about strategy and tactics to match the ingenuity and daring of a scientific enemy, and of the various types of warships that should make up a modern fleet. Indeed, there is a reluctance on their part to face the truth that a battle cruiser of high calibre guns and of great speed is an essential unit of a modern fleet. The Germans had several fine examples of this type. The United States had none, and the General Board had been slow in admitting the need of battle cruisers in our navy; nor was the General Board formerly partial to speed in battleships, preferring heavy armor to more knots and the floating fort with big guns to the ship that could be turned quickly and manoeuvred easily. Our navy had no squadrons of fast scout cruisers in 1917, not as many destroyers to each battleship as the ratio called for, and we were weak in submarines. Besides all that, we were very backward in the paper science of sea fighting.

Secretary Daniels stood in the way of a "planning division" stubbornly. He would not take the best expert advice. As a matter of fact, a "planning division" was not properly organized until Aug. 1, 1918, sixteen months after the declaration of war. Admirals may contend that the United States Navy was fully prepared, well armed and ready for a test of material and efficiency with a scientifically organized, trained and directed navy, such as the German service surely was, or any modern navy should be, but the demonstrable facts are against them. Admiral Sims and those who support him with their knowledge and experience are in the right.

VLADIVOSTOK.

Bolshevism in Vladivostok, so long as Bolshevism is a predatory creed respecting no international conventions, must be a serious menace to Japan, and the Japanese cannot be criticised for doing something to protect themselves. But, as Aristotle observed, justice sometimes depends as much on the how and when of doing a thing as on the action itself; and in the how and when of this affair there are some features not altogether reassuring. The Bolsheviki were not yet in Vladivostok; the Government there was one of the Social Revolutionary organizations which sprang up all over Eastern Siberia after Kolchak abandoned Omsk. Yet it was a weak affair, and if left to itself would probably have fallen before the Bolsheviki in a little while; it may have been a needful precaution to anticipate this event. Also, it appears that Vladivostok and the surrounding territory have furnished a refuge for disaffected Koreans.

The last American troops left a week ago. During their stay in Siberia they were attacked viciously by much of the Russian press and regarded with some suspicion by many intelligent Russians. This was due in part to the unfortunate character of their instructions, which kept them from doing anything useful, and in part to a deliberate and malicious foreign propaganda. Yet the Japanese waited until they had left to seize Vladivostok; the Russians may find something to think about in that. Our 9,000 men would not have been able to prevent the Japanese forces—their number is put at 46,000 in some dispatches—from taking the town if they had wanted to, and in view of the excellent relations between the two Governments there is no reason to suppose that there would have been any friction. Nevertheless, the Japanese waited till the day after they had sailed away to take the town. The Russians had been conducting an anti-Japanese boycott, and the trouble was ready to start as soon as the balancing force was out of the way.

An official Japanese statement a few days ago ascribed the seizure to "the threatened and aggressive acts of a portion of the Russian army." Perhaps the translation is unfortunate, as it is rather hard to determine whether the acts were complained of as aggressive or merely threatened. Negotiations between the Japanese military authorities and the Russian administration were progressing favorably—so runs the Japanese version—when everything was spoiled by these threatened and aggressive acts, and the Japanese were compelled to disarm the Russian land and naval forces.

Dispatches from the city itself, however, convey the somewhat curious impression that, whatever may have been threatened, the aggressive acts were committed by the Japanese. According to The Associated Press, the Russians were taken unawares while celebrating Easter. There was "severe fighting" for eight hours, but one side seems to have done about all of it. "Throughout last night," says The Associated Press, "the Japanese fought with rifles, machine guns, grenades and small artillery in all portions of the city. Their incessant firing met little opposition, as the Russians were taken by surprise." Japanese machine guns were fired from the roof of a hospital, protected by the Red Cross flag. According to another version, the Japanese presented demands which, from their point of view, were merely the necessary minimum for the guarantee of the security of Japanese interests, but may have looked to the Russians like complete surrender of sovereignty. There was some discussion on them, but no agreement, and then the Japanese started the affair by turning their machine guns on the Russian headquarters. Whatever the excellences of the Japanese character, the Japanese are not popular either as conquering masters or as military occupants; and there may be more trouble before Eastern Siberia quiets down.

In all of which America takes a lively but detached interest. The fate of Eastern Siberia will be settled by Japan and Russia; it is out of our sphere, and certainly we could not have done much to affect the course of events with our 9,000 infantry. If things had been done differently in 1918 this might never have happened, but crying will not recover the spilled milk.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

Sees Mystery Where None Exists.

One of the near neighbors of The Times, while admitting, as of course it must, the truth of what Dr. Welch said the other day about the recent extension of the human longevity average, expresses the opinion that this pleasing fact is "one of the mysteries." And to justify its mystification it refers to the "corruptions of civilization" that all tend to shorten life—to the overeating and late hours, the pleasure-seeking and nervous tension that mark these latter days, the stresses of the city as compared with the country—and makes all the other stock lamentations of those who doom us to "premature decrepitude and an early grave."

All this is familiar theory, of course, and it is well based on common beliefs and accepted notions, yet there is hardly a trace of accuracy in it and no evidence of being the product of observation.

Anybody who reads history with any care at all must know that not alone because we have better doctors and better surgeons than did our ancestors are our lives longer than theirs were. What may be called our social habits are as much better, and life is steadily becoming, not more complex and nerve-wrecking, but simpler, decenter, less anxious, less straining.

As for eating and drinking, especially drinking, we have not waited for the compulsion of professional reformers to moderate our indulgences. Of rich and poor alike the tables have ceased to do the "groaning" that formerly was expected of them when heaped with huge quantities of coarse foods, and surely our "nerves" are far better protected than were those of almost everybody in the times when any little difference of opinion as to religion or politics was a sufficient excuse for cutting throats and a "natural" death was the exception instead of the rule in all countries.

When Pace Really Did Kill.

There has been and is a vast amount of talk about "the pace that kills," with the talkers all assuming that only modern folk have been guilty of going that dangerous gait. And it is nonsense, every bit of it. To find any considerable number of men moving at the pace that really kills it is necessary to go back to days when history was beginning. Ever since the pace has been slowing down, though it was still vastly faster for England in Georgian and even Victorian reigns—see any of the old novels—and for ourselves when we were colonies instead of a nation, or when the States fought with each other instead of against the Germans.

One hesitates to call this the Golden Age, and surely we are neither any better nor any wiser than we ought to be, but it is not "pace" that kills us when we die, and we are living longer, not in spite of the complexities and corruptions of modern civilization, but because modern civilization is not as complex and corrupt as were the older ones.

The farmer of today has a telephone and a motor car, but he doesn't have to do his plowing with a gun at the end of the row or on his shoulder, and while our brokers get somewhat excited, now and then, they carry their years with a lightness that would have been astonishing indeed in the days when most men were old at 40 and broken before reaching their third score.

He Should Have Told Their Names.

When a man has a good case he should be careful not to help the other side by presenting bad or weak evidence in its support. Just that mistake, it is to be feared, was made by Richard H. Waldo, the well-intentioned opponent of service bonuses for all participants in the war, when, at the City Club meeting, he charged certain unnamed "uplifters" with scheming to get a big slice of whatever money the soldiers can persuade or compel the Government to give them.

This accusation may not be wholly without foundation. There are uplifters and uplifters. Not all of them are wise, and some of them might be more scrupulous than they are about the devices they use in raising funds for the worthy causes they have at heart. It may well be, therefore, that here and there a soldier has been told by an unwise or unscrupulous uplifter, "Get the bonus anyway, and if you don't want it give the money to us."

That is easily believable, but it is close to unbelievable that any of the recognized and responsible organizations for relief or reform have officially suggested or advised the following of such a course, and if Mr. Waldo knew of one that has done so he should have told its name right out in meeting to the attentive and interested reporters. As he did not, he has spread wide a vague suspicion that will burden many groups and societies that certainly do not deserve it, and he has made harder the performance of the commendable task undertaken by the committee of which he is a member.

SEQUOIA PARK.

A Protest Against the Proposed Change of Name.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In California there grow the most wonderful and oldest trees in the whole world. They were named Sequoia after the Cherokee Indian, who invented a syllabary by which the Cherokees readily could write their language.

When Congress protected these unique trees by making their habitat a park this national park was named Sequoia—a doubly appropriate and sensible title.

The park is now to be enlarged, which is an excellent thing, but it is proposed to obliterate the appropriate name Sequoia and substitute the name of Roosevelt, which to my mind is quite inappropriate, and which I believe Roosevelt himself, were he still here, would oppose. At least it would be characteristic of him to oppose such a change.

There are other ways of honoring the memory of Roosevelt without destroying this name of Sequoia for the park where the Sequoias grow.

I would like to go on record through The Times as being absolutely opposed to the change.

Success and Failure.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The United States' role in the World War was the most glorious, and our people may be proud of it. That was the work of our patriotic officers and soldiers.

The United States' role in the world peace is, so far, the most inglorious and our people are ashamed of it. This is the work of our narrow-minded and selfish politicians who, unfortunately, are not up to the task of statesmen.

THE SOVIET SYSTEM.

How the "Dictatorship of the Proletariat" Is Maintained.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

No sane American, or right-thinking alien, who comprehends what the Soviet Government of Russia in action means would desire to have this wasting reactional disease transmitted to our shores.

Here is the Soviet Government in action: All persons over 18 years may vote excepting the persons who have a pre-eminent right to vote. The exceptions are merchants, ministers, officials of religious institutions, former employes of the old Government, members of any family whose head was employed by the old régime, all property owners. An employing farmer cannot vote, but the ignorant tramp who works for him can. A manufacturer, furnishing employment to hundreds, is disfranchised, but his employes, dependent upon him for their daily bread, can all vote at the local Soviets. The employer not only cannot vote, but he cannot hold office. A sheep owner who hires an ignorant boy to herd his flock is deprived of his vote, but the boy has franchise privileges. The shopkeeper who engages an old scrub woman to "sweep up and clean out" is disfranchised, while the scrub-lady is allowed to cast a ballot. The holder of war investment bonds cannot vote, but the slacker and hobo can.

If this is not attractive enough for those who are restless under our free Government, here are some more points:

The confiscation of all land, live stock, implements and improvements, all banking institutions, factories, mines, transportation systems, newspapers, estates of decendents; repudiation of all debts except those owed to the despoilers; all inheritance of property, real or personal, is abolished. Confiscation of all church property. Destruction of all religious schools, immediate citizenship rights conferred on all aliens of the tramp, hobo and non-property holding class. All property owners to be disarmed and all non-property owners to carry arms. All employes of labor to be disfranchised. Marriage by simple oral declaration of the contracting parties with the right to dissolve the relationship at the will of either party. The complete annihilation of the inalienable rights of man. The non-recognition of God, and many other trifling things like these show the Russian Soviet Government in action.

How many American toilers would care to have this insane system, this bête noire of now, transmitted to our shores?

JAMES T. DU BOIS.
Fellsmere, Fla., April 5, 1920.

A Deportee of the Future Objects.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Your recent article entitled "Deporting the Wets" rouses me to a sense of my own peril, being of the class falling under William Allen White's taboo, and being also born a mid-Westerner. Like the young lady from Kansas whom you cite, I should view with extreme objection any proposition to return me to the rarefied air of "mid-Western morality" of which I had long and deep draughts in my youth; I might even be moved to a recantation of my "wet" principles to be allowed to remain among the "unmoral Easterners," and to wrap around my intellect the "filthy rags of worldly logic"; also, for the privilege of enjoying an occasional cocktail of the thing we call humor—an indulgence not known to the mid-Western reformer. But for that matter, one might say, it is not known to reformers by and large. In my experience, where reforming steps in, all innocent mirth steps out; the dryness is instantaneous and complete.

But I am wondering why our public purifiers stop with one article of amelioration of their erring fellow-mortals. We are asked—indeed compelled—to abstain from the practice of temperance in the use of alcohol, because there are those who would use it to excess. There surely are other sumptuary matters in which abstinence might be as useful. For instance, dress. Since the temptation to indulge in the wearing of "gold and costly apparel" has caused many young women to "go wrong," why not an edict published (and in due time grafted onto the Constitution) compelling a uniform sad and sober feminine garmenting throughout the country?

But I do not want to be deported—I don't want to go back to Boeotia! Not only is the reforming world a dull one, but in much detail of it I have found it to be a quite crafty and unscrupulous world. The end always justified the means to those "temperance" reformers I knew of old. Well I remember their sending minors to buy liquor of some unsuspecting dealer, and then using the instance to the latter's conviction; and if their youthful agent turned out cynic, what of that? They had secured their object. On a larger scale was not the trickery a most flagrant one which managed the prohibition measure during the absence of two million men, fighting in a world cause, when, had these men been at home, their gainsaying word would most likely have put a spoke in the "reforming" wheel?

Saving Power of Beer.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In your Sunday edition of March 21 you have a story by C. Lintern Sibley, "Did Beer Save the Briton?" The contention is that beer contains vitamines or "accessory food substances." Without going further into the scientific aspects of the question, may I ask for sufficient space in your paper to say that Mr. Sibley's contention has not been sustained? Investigation has shown that, while barley and yeast are "recognized sources of nutrition-promoting vitamines," beer is lacking in this food quality, which the brewers for a time not unreasonably thought was present in this beverage. For full particulars the writer of the article mentioned and readers who may be interested are referred to the Journal of the American Medical Association, Nov. 30, 1918, and also to an extended article in the Literary Digest of Jan. 4, 1919.

DIVERSION COMING.

You who hanker for diversion, having ennuied on the way
Through the monotones and minors of earth's recent peaceful day,
Listen to the voice of prophets—hear ye what the heralds cry—
There is much excitement coming, much diversion, by and by!

When the blind-eyed ones assemble, choosing who shall take the lead—
They who sense not evil omens, understand not what they read—
When their wills have clashed together and their petty power is shown
On the earth will be commotion such as never has been known.

When the Party voice is loudest—when the Party whip is snapped—
When the slates are being censored and the private tills are tapped;
When the yearn for fresh dominion mounts to madness in the brain,
Such phenomena will happen as will cause Old Earth to strain.

You who hanker for diversion, finding warfare all too tame,
Cast yourselves into the vortex of the raging Party game.
Never more will quiet pain you—never more will ennui pall.
There is much commotion coming, much diversion for us all.

INCOME ON FOOD PRODUCTS.

Net of $3,354,947 Is Reported by U. S. F. P. Corporation.

The report of the United States Food Products Corporation for the year ended Dec. 31, 1919, shows net income from all sources, after providing for interest, taxes, rentals and other charges, of $3,354,947, as compared with $10,514,810. The balance sheet as of Dec. 31 last shows land, buildings, distilleries, brands, good will and the like, including net cost of the original issue of bonds of 1902, as $31,192,169, as compared with $32,439,432 in the preceding year. Current assets were $12,379,098, as compared with $18,970,462 in 1918, and current liabilities were $4,392,230, as compared with $3,072,105 in the preceding year. This left working capital at the close of 1919 at $7,986,867, as compared with $15,898,357 in 1918.

The report states in part:

"The net profits for the year were $3,051,904.37. The year just closed has been a transitional one for this corporation. We entered during that period upon five new enterprises, which we planned to have fully developed and in complete running order before the close of 1919. The shutting down of the coal mines, which cut off our fuel supply for two months, the railroad strikes, railroad embargoes, labor troubles and non-delivery of machinery are some of the causes that prevented the completion of our new plants. With the removal of these difficulties, we believe that the results of the present year's business will be satisfactory.

"Notwithstanding the obstacles to which we have referred, we have made substantial headway in the production and distribution of molasses, syrups, preserved fruits, compressed yeast, vinegar and cattle feedstuffs. The management has written off $3,733,029.60 from its "Property Account" to cover obsolescence, &c.

LEAVES UNITED STATES OUT

Salvador Invites Latin-American States to Form Arbitration Court.

WASHINGTON, April 9 (Associated Press).—After studying the State Department's interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine, sent several weeks ago, the Congress of Salvador adopted a resolution proposing the creation of a Latin-American court of arbitration. This would exclude the United States and Canada from participation.

Should the proposed court so decide, the Pan-American Union, with headquarters here, the Central American Court of Justice of Cartago in Costa Rica and the International Bureau of Guatemala, in the formation of which the United States was instrumental, would be abolished.

BUENOS AIRES, April 9.—Bolivia will continue to pursue with "irrevocable resolution" its purpose to obtain the port of Arica as an outlet to the Pacific, according to a new note from Bolivia to Peru, which is published here.

The note answers the latest Peruvian communication declining to recognize Bolivia's aspirations. It adds:

"Bolivia will ever cherish the hope that the atmosphere in Peru will be modified, and that calm reflection upon the rights of a friendly country will cause a change in the attitude which she has assumed in this period of international life."

WANTS BEDS FOR NAVY MEN.

Legion Post Asks That Fleet's Sailors Be "Treated White" Here.

The Navy Club Post of the American Legion in an appeal for places to sleep—even empty lofts—for sailors when the fleet returns to port about May 1 says:

"Peace pay leaves the boys poorer than ever before, prices are higher; there are no service clubs to help them, except one in Brooklyn. Y. M. C. A.'s have nothing for the man in uniform. Remember the '50 per cent. boys of under seventeen.' Many have never been in a city before. Consider what that means in New York, without a place to sleep.

"They must sleep in a respectable place, or elsewhere. Treat the boys white. You will save taxes you are paying for recruiting service which cannot recruit. (Only God and the man in service can imagine conditions at present). You will save hospital expense; you will save police expense. For the sake of health, for the sake of morale, treat them white. Prevention is cheaper and better than vice investigations."

WARNS DESERTIONS CRIPPLE OUR NAVY

Admiral Washington Says 700 Men Quit Monthly and Fears Effect on Fleet.

URGES MORE PAY AS REMEDY

Admiral Fletcher Criticises Sims and Says Department Had Comprehensive War Plans Ready.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Thousands of desertions in the navy in the past year have brought conditions unparalleled in American naval history, Rear Admiral Thomas Washington, chief of the Bureau of Navigation, told the Senate Investigating Committee today. The whole naval service, he warned, is threatened with disaster unless Congress immediately enacts legislation raising the pay of officers and men to a point that will allow the navy to compete with civil occupations.

There were 4,666 desertions in the last six months of 1919, Rear Admiral Washington declared, and thus far this year, he said, they have averaged around 700 a month, many of the deserters being petty officers of several years' experience. At present rates of pay, he said, recruits cannot be obtained.

Failure of Congress to act, he declared, has also resulted in the resignation of hundreds of officers. The result is, he said, that the navy is in a "bad way," and if conditions continue it not only will be undermanned by 1921, but 90 per cent. of those on the roster will be inexperienced boys.

Foreign countries have increased the pay in their navies, he said, adding:

"I understand the increases abroad are being paid largely with money borrowed from the United States."

The Navy Medical Corps is in the worst condition in its history, the Admiral asserted, 200 medical officers having resigned since the war.

Rear Admiral R. F. Fletcher, member of the Navy General Board, testifying as to the navy's preparation for and conduct of the war, disagreed with Rear Admiral Sims's charges that the navy was unprepared for war and had no well-defined plans or policies. He asserted that two years before the United States joined the Allies a complete plant for war against a "Central European power" was prepared and kept corrected up to date throughout hostilities.

Says Plan Covered Every Phase.

Many such plans had been made in the past, Admiral Fletcher said, but the plan referred to "covered every phase of naval operations under the assumed conditions of war." It dealt with the mobilization, organization and composition of the fleet, its disposition and employment, protection of the coast, bases of supplies on the United States coast and in the West Indies, routes across the Atlantic and the enemy's forces and probable courses of action, he said, and comprised nearly 300 typewritten pages.

Admiral Fletcher was a member of the General Board during the war, but was engaged for the most part with his duties as a member of the War Industries Board, the Priorities Board and the Council of National Defense.

Explaining that he wished to comment on certain specific charges made by Admiral Sims before testifying regarding his duties as a member of these various boards, the witness first took up Sims's criticism that the navy was not prepared for war in April, 1917.

No navy ever was or ever will be fully prepared for war in the eyes of every one, the Admiral declared, but the American Navy when it entered the war was "just as well prepared as any other navy in the world when the great war burst forth," he asserted.

Admiral Sims's declaration that the Navy Department should have immediately sent all available destroyers and small craft abroad to fight submarines sounded "plausible and convincing," the witness said, but such a course of action would have left the American coasts and ports full of invaluable vessels and cargoes open to attack by German submarines, which had demonstrated in 1916 their ability to cross the ocean, menace the United States coast and return to Germany unaided. Such an attack, he asserted, would have caused great alarm in this country and have affected sending any small vessels to the war zone.

Lauds War Industries Board.

Admiral Fletcher characterized the work of the War Industries Board as one of the "great achievements of the war," and declared the members of the board complimented highly the efficiency with which the Navy Department conducted the business end of its participation in the war.

No loss of shipping or failure of the navy to transport troops to France prolonged the war for a single day, the Admiral asserted. Admiral Sims's assertion that "the Navy Department is responsible for the loss of 2,500,000 tons of shipping, the prolongation of the war for four months, $15,000,000,000 of debt and the loss of 500,000 lives" was based upon assumption and had no foundation in fact, the officer declared.

"The whole conclusion reached in the accusation is built upon the flimsy foundation of a hypothetical condition and is wholly without value," he said.

Cross-examination of Rear Admiral Fletcher will be concluded tomorrow and Admiral H. B. Wilson, Commander in Chief of the Atlantic Fleet, will resume the stand to testify concerning suggested changes in the organization of the Navy Department.

AMERICA SHIRKING, DECLARES HOOVER

Tells Preachers at Kingston Methodist Conference That We Are Watching Rome Burn.

NEGRO ELECTED DELEGATE

Special to The New York Times.

KINGSTON, N. Y., April 9.—Herbert Hoover told 300 preachers of the New York Methodist Conference and townspeople of this city tonight that we were "stolidly watching Rome burn" today by our failure to join in the creation of an organization where the public opinion and moral pressure of the world could be directed.

Mr. Hoover received an ovation from the preachers and Kingston citizens. He arrived about 6 o'clock, talked about fifteen minutes and then rushed for a train.

Mr. Hoover spoke, in part, as follows:

"I had entered upon an obligation to partake in your discussion before I had been projected into the maelstrom of politics, and I have no intention of entering into political discussions on this occasion. Nor do I intend to enter upon a discussion of economic matters, but to accept a request to discuss before you some phases of American idealism in the application of realism to them.

The American ideal Mr. Hoover spoke of as an insistence that there should be equality of opportunity for all, adding:

"It is from the essence of this democracy that progress of the mass must arise, progress of the individual, not of a class. It does not permit the presence in the community of those who would not give full meed of service.

Must Maintain Equality.

"This dominant idea of establishing and preserving an equality of opportunity has during our 150 years carried us on a far different road of social and political ideals from that in Europe. We have no frozen class distinctions. We have developed a far better distribution of necessities, comforts and wealth than any other place in the world. We have a willingness to abide by the will of the majority, a sense of neighborly obligation and a higher sense of justice, of self-sacrifice and of public conscience, and out of these we have certainty of ultimate solutions. For all I know it may be necessary to have revolutions in some parts of Europe in order to bring about these things, but it does not follow that such philosophies have any place with us.

"Another ideal large in American life is a sense of service and a willingness to self-denial and sacrifice to secure the great things of humanity, not alone to our own people but to the world. With the modern flow of intellectual and economic communication we cannot pretend to be an insular people. Even if we place it upon the lowest ground that we would protect ourselves socially, politically and economically, we must take some measure of interest in the welfare of the rest of the world. We can also place it on the higher ground that we wish to stimulate, so far as it is within our power, the gradual ascent of humanity as a whole.

"Three years ago our people resolved to make the greatest sacrifice that a nation can make, in an intervention abroad from which we hoped the world might secure to itself a permanent peace. We had hopes that a better world could be evolved from all these terrible sacrifices. We had hoped that the moral forces of the world could be organized so as to mitigate the future dangers of war. Yet today, by our failure to join in the creation of an organization where the public opinion and moral pressures of the world could be directly, we are stolidly watching Rome burn.

"There is an ideal in a League of Nations—an ideal fitting to American character and American civilization. Not an ideal that we should prevent war by arms, but an ideal that it could be prevented by negotiations, by arbitration and the ventilation of public opinion of the world. The ideal is not dead in the hearts of the American people. If we have swung that far back in our hopes and aspirations it can only mean that our moral sense has been dulled for the moment under the impact of partisanship."

While debating whether to approve the proposed unification between the Methodist Church South and the Methodist Church North, the conference paused at intervals to cast ballots for six clerical delegates to the general Methodist conference, which will be held in Des Moines, Iowa, next month. One of the six thus chosen was a negro, the Rev. Dr. William H. Brooks, pastor of St. Mark's negro church, West Fifty-third Street, New York City.

It is intimated that Dr. Brooks will be elected a Bishop to succeed the late Bishop A. P. Camphor, who died recently.

The Rev. Dr. Wallace Macmullen will lead the delegation to Des Moines. He is Superintendent of the New York district, and was for ten years pastor of Madison Avenue Church, at Sixtieth Street, New York City. Other delegates elected were the Rev. Dr. Ezra S. Tipple, President of Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, N. J.; Chancellor James Roscoe Day of Syracuse University; the Rev. Richard E. Wilson, Superintendent of the Poughkeepsie district, and the Rev. Richard E. Bell, pastor of Trinity Church, Poughkeepsie. The reserves elected were the Rev. Dr. George W. Grinton, Superintendent of the Kingston district; the Rev. Herbert E. Wright, Superintendent of Newburg district, and the Rev. Dr. Thomas J. Baragwanath, pastor of St. James Church, Kingston.

The lay election conference, which was in session today, chose William H. Anderson Superintendent of the New York State Anti-Saloon League, as one of its six delegates. Others were William H. Vanbenschoten, a New York City lawyer; William J. Stitt, President of the Adler Glove Company; H. Westlake Coons of Ellenville, N. Y.; H. H. Flemming of Kingston and Chester A. Smith of Peekskill. RICH WIDOW WEDS CLERK.

SUNBURY, Pa., April 9.—Mrs. James Cameron Packer, the 63-year-old widow of the Sunbury millionaire who died in March, 1919, in a telegram to friends here announces her marriage to David Ireland, a 36-year-old clerk, in New York.

Mrs. Ireland removed from Sunbury to Chestnut Hill a few weeks after the death of her first husband and her breaking of his will, whereby she came into possession of more than $500,000, twice the amount left her in the will of Mr. Packer.

Mrs. Packer first met Ireland when he visited in Sunbury twelve years ago as the guest of the Rev. and Mrs. George Atchinson, at the rectory of St. Matthew's Protestant Episcopal Church. Mr. and Mrs. Ireland are expected to leave Philadelphia on Saturday for a year's honeymoon in California.

DOGS TAKE HER TO COURT.

Horse Aid Founder Accused of Carrying Off Four Animals.

Magistrate Douras yesterday in the Morrisania Court held Mrs. Stella Ehrlich, President of the Horse Aid Society, in $500 bail for the action of the Grand Jury on the complaint of Morris Buchbinder of 363 Brook Avenue, the Bronx, who charged her with taking four dogs, valued at $295, from his store at the Brook Avenue address on March 14 last.

Buchbinder testified that Mrs. Ehrlich was accompanied by two men and a woman. He said she asked him if he wanted to sell the dogs, and that he told her they were not for sale. Mrs. Ehrlich then entered a rear room of the store, he declared, seized the four dogs, and after giving them to the two men in the party hurried out to her automobile and disappeared. William Smith of 73 Southern Boulevard, the Bronx, corroborated Buchbinder's statement.

Mrs. Ehrlich testified that she was the wife of Jacob Ehrlich, manufacturer of chandeliers at Willoughby Avenue and Navy Street, Brooklyn, and was the founder of the Horse Aid Society, which since had extended its work to the care of animals of all sorts. She said Dr. Matthews of 315 West 106th Street and two friends of Indianapolis, Ind., accompanied her to Buchbinder's store on March 14, where she went to learn why he hadn't inquired after several dogs he had left in her care.

She said she found four ailing dogs in a room adjoining the store and offered to take them to the Horse Aid Hospital for treatment. He consented, she declared, and even led one of the dogs to her automobile. One of the dogs died the next day, she said, but she returned the other three to Buchbinder. Miss Margaret George, an opera singer, of 3,099 Broadway, testified she was with Mrs. Ehrlich on the day she returned the dogs. Francis Lee Bailey, a writer, appeared as a character witness for Mrs. Ehrlich, and Dr. W. W. Fleischman, a veterinarian, of 1,447 Williamsbridge Road, the Bronx, testified he examined the dogs and found them emaciated.

CAT IN MISS EWEN'S COFFIN.

Additional Administrator Appointed for Animal Lover's Estate.

The favorite cat of Miss Maria Louise Ewen, who died recently at 151 West Eighty-sixth Street, was buried in the casket with her. This was made known yesterday before Surrogate Cohalan during an argument for the appointment of an administrator of Miss Ewen's property pending the trial of a contest by John Ewen, a nephew. The nephew and other relatives were cut off from sharing in the $500,000 estate because they contested the will of Miss Caroline Ewen, sister of the decedent, who was a lover of animals, particularly cats, and left a large share of her estate to organizations which care for them.

William R. Wilder, attorney for the contestant, told the Surrogate that the decedent shared the eccentricities of her sister to such an extent that by her wish her favorite cat was buried with her. The Surrogate appointed Henry W. Jessup administrator to act with the New York Trust Company, named in the will, pending the contest.

JAPANESE SURPRISE WON VLADIVOSTOK

Reds Were Celebrating Easter When the Attack Was Prepared.

LAUNCHED BEFORE DAWN

Occupation Was Effected in an Hour, Big Guns Supporting the Advancing Troops.

VLADIVOSTOK, April 5 (Associated Press).—The occupation of Vladivostok by Japanese forces today was the result of well prepared surprise manoeuvres.

At 1 o'clock this morning sand bags were placed before every Japanese station. The Red headquarters were covered by machine guns while the Russians were celebrating Easter.

Hostilities opened at the railroad station. The Zemstvo building was shelled by Japanese one-pounders. The Japanese battleship in Vladivostok harbor assisted the early morning attack by the use of searchlights playing on the buildings.

A severe brush occurred at the interallied barracks compound. Three hundred Russians were penned in by machine guns apparently mounted on the Japanese Red Cross hospital. They were captured and disarmed without resistance.

Two unarmed Czech soldiers going into their quarters were killed by fire from these machine guns, alongside the American Red Cross barracks.

Japanese big guns shelled the hills across the bay. Except for activities with the shipping, all was over within an hour, and by daylight the city was quiet, with Japanese patrols preserving strict order. Flags were ordered replaced by the Japanese.

The Japanese command presented six demands to the Russians the day after Brig. Gen. William S. Graves, Commander in Chief of the American expeditionary forces, left Vladivostok.

A conference was held Sunday, when United States Consul David B. MacGowan, representatives of the American Red Cross and Y. M. C. A., and others visited Captain W. C. Watts of the U. S. S. Albany and went over the situation.

With the departure of the Americans the Russians, by every means possible, officially, by a boycott, and through the press, demanded evacuation by the Japanese. The latter had announced repeatedly that it was impossible for them to withdraw their forces until the safety of Japanese interests in Asia was assured.

Prizes for Decorations Will Mark Festival's Close.

Fifth Avenue Week closes tonight with the awarding of the decoration and other prizes. "Summing up, Fifth Avenue Week has been a success from several standpoints," said F. N. Sard, Chairman of the committee, last night. "It took a celebration to show what Fifth Avenue had to offer. From another standpoint, the celebration has developed a taste for the beautiful. Merchants have vied with each other in displaying the best that the world affords, and people have not been unappreciative of their efforts. The members of the association have stressed the aesthetic side of the celebration and have proved that they are not entirely prosaic."

Last night the Police Band paraded down the avenue playing the march named for the thoroughfare.

FIND MANY 'MOVIES' BAD FOR CHILDREN

REFORMS ARE OUTLINED

Less Sensaional Posters, Better Observance of Law and Ban on Serials Urged.

Charges that many of the smaller motion-picture theatres of the city exert an unfavorable influence on children are contained in a series of reports by public school Principals, made public yesterday by the National Motion Picture League, of which Dr. William L. Ettinger, Superintendent of Schools, is Second Vice President. The reports were made at the request of Dr. Ettinger, but it was said at his office that he merely had acted as a clearing agent to get the information and had no personal comment to make.

Although the school Principals were practically unanimous in condemning present conditions they declared that they were in no way hostile to motion pictures and theatres as such. One of them stated that she considered "the moving picture the greatest evil today for our boys and girls," but added that "it could easily be made one of the greatest moral means for them."

A common complaint was laxity in observance of the law forbidding the admission of children to theatres unless accompanied by their parents or guardians. Some proprietors were declared to "wink" at the law for the sake of financial gain. Others were said to have "professional guardians" in their pay to take children seeking admission into the theatre and leave them there. Another variety was said to be the "voluntary guardian," a well meaning person who, through misguided sympathy for a child or group of children, passed them into the theatre. A third and more sinister variety was stated to be the vicious habitué of the theatre who buys tickets for young girls and sits with them in the darkened recesses of the theatre.

A number of the principals found theatres unclean and poorly ventilated. Complaints also were made of the practice in some theatres of permitting boys and girls to sit together in the darkened galleries of the theatres without adequate supervision. It was recommended that the galleries be open to men and boys only.

Complaint was made of the sensational character of the playbills in front of some theatres. The serial was condemned by some of the Principals, both on the ground of its usual sensationalism and because it was said to form the motion-picture habit, which in some cases had led boys and girls to steal to get money to see the various "episodes."

Suggestions looking to improvement of conditions were made by many of the Principals. The common opinion was that some arrangement should be made between the school authorities whereby special showings of films suitable for children might be scheduled and arrangements made for the attendance of the children of particular schools in a body or by as many as cared to attend.

In making the reports public Mrs. Adele F. Woodward, President of the National Motion Picture League, asked for help to remedy the conditions of which complaint was made.

STOLEN STOCK RECOVERED.

Two Held in Connection with Disappearance of $14,000 Shares.

Stock certificates for 100 shares of the Baldwin Locomotive Company, valued at about $14,000, that were stolen a month ago from W. J. Wollman & Co., brokers at 120 Broadway, were recovered yesterday by Detectives Gilfallin and Meringolo of the First Inspection District, who arraigned two prisoners in the Tombs Court on charges of suspicion of grand larceny. The defendants, who said they were Edward Shapiro, 21, of 1,024 Hopkinson Avenue, and Abram Lewis, 20, of 4 Ridge Street, Brooklyn, were held by Magistrate Ten Eyck for examination on Monday in bail of $5,000 each.

William J. Wollman, head of the brokerage firm, said that the stock had been delivered by two of his trusted messengers to another firm, which, however, later reported to him that the stock had not been received. He said there was no doubt that the messengers delivered the stock, but thought a sneak thief had got the shares after delivery.

"I know nothing of the prisoners, but made complaint against them on information given me by the police," said Mr. Wollman.

E. P. Doyle Tells Estimate Board of Project to Build 35,000 Houses on Vacant Lots.

LAWS HELD RETROACTIVE

Court Rules That Any Tenant Raised More Than 25 Per Cent. in a Year Is Entitled to Rebate.

A proposal to build $30,000,000 worth of homes on vacant lots which could be leased from the city met with the favorable consideration of the members of the Board of Estimate, before whom it was made yesterday by Edward P. Doyle, Chairman of the Budget Committee of the Real Estate Board of New York. Mr. Doyle offered to initiate the undertaking on Staten Island, where he said there were available any number of vacant lots that had come into the possession of the city through tax lien foreclosures, and others that could be utilized through similar legal process.

The offer of Mr. Doyle contemplates the organization of a building loan association with a capital stock of $30,000,000, of which $5,000,000 is to be prepaid stock and the balance installment stock. He said that the installment stock would be sold prospective owners at $100 a share, payable in monthly installments of 50 cents. Each purchaser would be permitted to take twenty-five shares, for which he would pay $12.50 monthly, with an initiation fee of 20 cents a share, payable when the stock was issued.

The city could lease its available land at 4 per cent. on an appraisal to be made by the experts of the Department of Finance, with the term of the lease running to fifty years, during which time the purchaser would have the privilege of purchase of the lot at the appraised value.

It was the idea of Mr. Doyle that modest types of houses should be constructed so that they would be placed within the reach of the small salaried class. He suggested that they could be built of reinforced concrete with hollow tile air spaces, in double units and sold to the lessee of a city lot for prices as low as $2,500 in single units.

Plan Calls fr 35,000 Houses.

The purchaser would be required to pay 6 per cent. on the $2,500 purchase price in monthly installments of $12.50, which with his dues on his stock would increase his total monthly payments to $25. To this would be added 4 per cent. on the appraised value of the lot plus the taxes and assessments. In twelve years the dues paid would amount to $1,800 and this with the earnings accredited to the stock would pay for the house.

Mr. Doyle estimates that 35,000 houses could be built with this fund, and he says there are that many vacant lots which are already in control or could be acquired by the city through tax lien foreclosures. He said that the prepaid stock could be sold readily, and he had been assured by real estate interests that they were willing to invest in the enterprise. Both the capital and interest of building loan associations are tax exempt.

In view of the arguments made by Mr. Doyle he was asked by the Board of Estimate to confer with the Mayor's Committee on Rent Profiteering with reference to the plan for building $30,000,000 worth of homes.

Landlords who appeared during the day in the Municipal Courts and before the Mayor's Committee on Rent Profiteering were much less aggressive than they have been in the past, and were inclined to come to settlements with their tenants as quickly as possible. Several of them who had put up a stubborn fight before the Mayor's committee went back yesterday and asked that their disputes be ended. Three of them decided to withdraw their demands for rent increases altogether. One landlord who had asked his tenants for an $8 increase voluntarily returned and offered to accept an increase of $4. Another who had demanded $7 said he would accept $3, and a third who wanted $4 decided he would take an increase of $1.

Justice Leopold Prince in the Eighth District Municipal Court, 121st Street and Sylvan Avenue, disposed of 200 cases. Many of the cases were compromised by the withdrawal of rent advances asked by the landlords, and in other cases the increases demanded were cut in half. For every increase asked the court wanted to know the reason. In dispossess cases Justice Prince ruled that the tenants should have from one to six months in which to vacate their premises.

Rules Law Is Retroactive.

The new rent laws, according to the opinion of Justice John R. Davies of the Seventh District Municipal Court, are retroactive to April 1, 1919, and any tenant who has been raised more than 25 per cent. within the last year is entitled to a rebate on everything above the 25 per cent. This ruling holds regardless of whether one or more tenants have occupied an apartment on which the rent has been advanced within a year from April 1, 1919.

This decision was the result of a case brought by thirty tenants of a house at 56 West 139th Street. They complained that they were paying 33 1-3 per cent. more in rent than was asked in 1919. The Justice ordered all rents reduced to the figures shown last year, with an increase of 25 per cent. When the agent contended that the rents of some of the tenants had not been advanced because they were not occupants of the building last year, Justice Davies said it made no difference, and added:

"It was intended that the new laws should benefit all tenants, whether they have lived in a certain apartment for a year or for only a short time. The law provides that the rates existing last April are to be regarded as the basis for fixing new rents, without regard to whom the tenants may have been."

Justice Harry Robitzek, in the Second District Municipal Court in the Bronx, rebuked sixty tenants of three houses at 1,333, 1,337 and 1,343 Merriam Avenue, Highbridge, for having endeavored to withhold a month's rent from their landlord. These tenants have leases running until Oct. 1 next. Their building recently was sold, and the new owner had notified them that he desired to discuss with them the new rates he proposed to put into effect when their leases expired.

Court Rebukes Tenants.

The tenants, it was shown, decided to withhold the rent until the landlord had come to terms on the rents after October. Justice Robitzek said he would give them until Monday to pay the rent, otherwise he would issue eviction warrants. He said that the new laws were enacted for their protection, and that they could come into court at the proper time with a just grievance. But he held that the possibility of an increase in the future was no justification for their refusal to pay their present rent.

In twenty-nine cases Justice Robitzek gave the tenants a year's extension, during which their rents were not to be increased more than 25 per cent. in excess of what they paid a year ago. One case was adjourned pending a search for another home by a young couple planning to be married.

The number of complaints brought before the Mayor's Committee on Rent Profiteering in Brooklyn showed a decrease of approximately 50 per cent. yesterday. Commenting on this situation, Arthur J. W. Hilly, Chairman of the Mayor's Committee, said:

"I don't know whether Brooklyn landlords are becoming less avaricious or whether the new rent profiteering laws have thrown fear into their hearts, but the number of complaints coming from that borough against rent profiteering has decreased approximately 50 per cent."

Most of the 200 landlord and tenant cases that were heard by Justice Boyce in the Seventh District Municipal Court, Pennsylvania Avenue and Fulton Street, Brooklyn, were disposed of by giving the tenants stays of from three to four months. James W. Tuomey, Clerk of the Court, said that the new laws had put a stop generally to the practice of profiteers. It has already curtailed the dealing in contracts by subleasing, he said, which was one of the chief causes of rent profiteering.

Jacob Hertzberg and Max Siefer, both living at 1,870 Douglass Street, Brooklyn, who were dispossessed last week with sixteen other families by their landlord, Jacob Feldman, 252 Third Street, were held for the Grand Jury yesterday on a charge of malicious mischief, when arraigned in the New Jersey Avenue Court. They were arrested on a charge of having destroyed a chimney and windows and damaged the roof of the building where they formerly lived.

Daniels Says North Carolina Will Be 36th Suffrage State

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Declaration of the North Carolina Democratic State Convention yesterday in favor of ratification of the woman suffrage amendment means "it is all over but the shouting," Secretary Daniels said in a telegram sent today to Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, President of the National Woman Suffrage Association.

"The North Carolina Legislature, shortly to be called in special session, is certain to ratify," the Secretary said, "thus giving us the thirty-six States necessary."

FAVORS SERVANT CONTROL.

Justice Davies Would Regulate Distribution of Domestics.

The excessive demands made by domestic help have caused just as many families to quit living in apartments and to go to the hotels as have the mounting prices demanded by the rent profiteers, according to the views expressed yesterday by Justice John H. Davies, in the Seventh Municipal Court. He suggested that it would be a good thing, if possible, to regulate the distribution of domestic workers.

"The domestic worker in these cases," said Justice Davies, "is just as guilty as the landlord who jacks up rent simply because there is a shortage of apartments, and is just as severely censured. The domestic worker has little ground to make the claim that her living expenses have increased and, therefore, that her pay must go sky-high. If living expenses have been increased, that handicap is being shouldered by the people she is serving, for they have to pay for her food and lodging, aside from other incidentals which really form the largest item of the expense she has.

"One good thing would be to regulate, if possible, the distribution of domestic help. Why should a young woman, in good health, without any cares or children, have to have a servant to look after a small apartment when there are so many labor-saving devices in the way of electrical appliances that make housework easy and interesting, and deprive a woman who has several children, is not so young, and really needs help, of a domestic aid? If women who really did not require servants released them for the benefit of those who did require them, the market would not be so short and conditions would be materially improved all around."

BRADFORD SOCIALISTS WANT FLOATING SCHOOL

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, April 9.—Bradford Socialists, who largely dominate the local Education Committee, propose the purchase of a ship as part of the necessary equipment for pupils of the new secondary school. It will cost about £100,000, and the Socialists contend that it will be cheaper to buy the ship and have a floating school. A committee has been appointed to consider the proposal. It has not yet been decided whether or not the ship will be used entirely for educational purposes. The supporters of the proposal point out that if the scholars were being taken to Rome the hold of the vessel could be used for taking Bradford goods and bringing Italian goods back. A trip for six or twelve months of a couple of hundred children to a foreign country, where they could be landed, would help them to learn a foreign language.

If international relations were improved by the Prince of Wales going abroad, it would be good for the democracy of the world to have visits from children of other countries. A system of interchange of children might follow.

HEALTH INSURANCE RAISED.

Jump in Rates Said to be Due in Part to Influenza.

Several insurance companies have raised their rates on health insurance, it was learned yesterday. An increase in sickness and the recurrence of epidemics, such as the influenza, were responsible for the jump in rates, according to underwriters. The new scale effects policy holders everywhere. William L. Kick, manager of the health department of the Maryland Assurance Co., at 105 William Street, said the increases were very small. His company had increased the premiums only $2 in some cases, he said.

ILLINOIS ROOSEVELT MEN CHEER FOR WOOD

DENOUNCES I. W. W. SLOGAN

Special to The New York Times.

JOLIET, Ill., April 9.—Large and enthusiastic crowds continue to welcome Major General Leonard Wood as he nears the end of his campaign for the endorsement of his candidacy for the Presidential nomination by the Republican party of Illinois.

Last night General Wood addressed an audience of between 4,000 and 5,000 persons who crowded the gymnasium of Augustan College in Rock Island. Today at noon he spoke to another big audience in Joliet and tonight he addressed the citizens of Rockford.

During the last forty-eight hours General Wood has been touring that part of Illinois that was most solidly behind Colonel Roosevelt in 1912. These counties, which are Fulton, Adams, Warren, Henry, Knox, Rock Island and McDonough, all went for Colonel Roosevelt that year by from two to three to one over Taft. The big crowds that have everywhere greeted the General in this section appear to indicate that much of this Roosevelt following is behind General Wood.

"I am well pleased," said General Wood this morning, "with the reception accorded me by the people in all the cities and towns I have visited on this trip. Of course, I am not foolish enough to claim this State, and anybody who does so at this juncture is a bit extravagant, to say the least, but I do hope to make a good showing, and if I do better than that I will be most agreeably surprised.

"I wanted to meet as many of the people face to face as I possibly could, so that if any of them wanted to vote for me they would not have to do so sight unseen."

Expects Lowden to Carry State.

"Governor Lowden has the party organization and most of the Republican newspapers in the State behind his candidacy and one would naturally expect him to carry his own State. If he does I will be among the first to congratulate him. If I should make an unexpectedly fine showing, why, then I shall be very happy indeed."

After leaving Rock Island at 6 o'clock this morning General Wood spoke to large crowds in Spring Valley, Streator, Coal City and La Salle. This afternoon, on his way to Rockford, he was to talk to voters of Morris, Ottawa, Peru, Mendota, Dixon, Sterling and Freeport.

Speaking this morning to the people of Spring Valley, a large majority of whom were workingmen, General Wood urged them to do all in their power to maintain the Constitution of the United States.

"The Constitution," he said, "is the most wonderful combination of checks and balances yet devised for the government of man, and no man or set of men should ever be allowed to upset it. Our very safety as a people depends upon this. The Constitution is the great bulwark of our liberty and our safety. We must guard it as we guard our own lives.

"If we are going to maintain Americanism we must have an absolutely economic administration of the Government. A Government that is really economical and at the same time fair and just to its citizens is pretty apt to be a good Government. We must measure men and women by what they are, by the way they do their day's work."

At Streator, where he was met by hundreds of people, who escorted him to the City Square, General Wood made reference to the slogan of the I. W. W. that there is nothing in common between those who employ and those who work.

Denounces Agitators.

"One of our worst citizens, a professional agitator," said General Wood, "who I am sorry to say is a native-born American, is preaching, and so are his followers, that there is nothing in common between those who employ labor and those who work. A more vicious untruth was never uttered by an American citizen. There is everything in common between capital and labor. United they stand like a rock, and divided they are certain to fall. Together they constitute that great thing we call industry; division may mean chaos. We must all remember that we cannot take out of life more than we put into life. You cannot get something for nothing, unless it is the smallpox or the measles."

At Joliet, where he made his first long speech of the day, General Wood was welcomed by a large and friendly audience.

"We must," he said, "get rid of overlapping bureaus and commissions in government, national as well as state and municipal. We must reduce government by commissions and turn control of expenditures over to the departments which were created to direct those expenditures. This means economy, and economy means efficiency and decreased expenditures.

"For instance, in the army the clerical work increased from four to five times during the war in bulk as well as in detail. I looked over a department paper the other day that called for an estimate of $2.50. There were at least sixteen endorsements on it and the clerical work on that little document must have cost from $40 to $50. We must get rid of such foolish systems as that. They increase taxation. They add to the already much too heavy burdens of our people.

"Then again, we do not want anything to do with the boundary disputes of Europe. I think our intervening in these boundary squabbles over there has been a frightful mistake. At the same time I think it would have been nothing short of a national crime if we had failed to intervene in the matter of feeding the thousands over there who are starving, or in doing our part to clothe and shelter the naked of a war that was as much our war as it was the war of our gallant overseas Allies. In the name of our own God, in the name of Christianity, in the name of common decency, we must do all we can to alleviate the suffering of Europe.

Cannot Let Europe Die.

"Some fifty thousand of our dead lie wrapped in the allied shroud in France and in Flanders. Those brave boys died for civilization and for humanity. What does that mean? Does it mean that we are going to stop the moment the fighting is over? Does it mean that we shall permit Europe to die? I am certain that it does not mean any such thing as that.

"It certainly does not represent the great heart of the American people. There is no legal obligation resting on you to feed the poor, to take a wounded child to a hospital, or to extend aid to helpless cripples, but there is a moral obligation that comes from God to do those things, and there is a moral obligation on the United States to do all that it can to help the suffering millions overseas."

General Wood urged his audience to do their part in seeing to it that the Bolshevik and other dangerous radical elements gained no foothold in the Republican Party. He defended the amended League of Nations covenant, the system of universal service proposed by the Administration in Washington, and a foreign policy that, while generous and fair to nations, would at the same time guarantee the rights of life and property of every law abiding American citizen, no matter where that citizen happened to be.

Workers Win General Strike at Fiume; Get Full Concessions by d'Annunzio's Aid

TRIESTE, April 9.—The general strike at Fiume has been settled. Work was resumed this morning. The National Council granted all the demands of the strikers.

Gabriele d'Annunzio interceded on behalf of the strikers, and advised that this action be taken.

FIUME, April 8.—The strike leaders have been insistent on having Gabriele d'Annunzio leave Fiume. They demanded normal food rations, which, they said, were impossible, because of the partial blockade. The National Council promised to increase the present ration, but the strikers refused to listen to this.

The city was completely tied up. The streets, in which officers and soldiers formerly paraded every afternoon, were deserted. Troops were quartered at strategic points for use in case of violence in connection with the strike.

Railroad traffic ceased this afternoon, the last train carrying away many persons who did not desire to face the threatened uprising.

The employes of the local papers joined the general strike, even the poet's own organs no longer appearing. D'Annunzio now is faced with a disagreement among the troops over monarchist and republican feuds.

JOHNSON, IN JERSEY, HITS 'PATRIOTEERS'

Hates Evildoers "Wrapped in Flag" as Greatly as Profiteers, He Says.

AGAIN ATTACKS LEAGUE

Declares Nation Must Not Put Itself Into the Hands of Its Debtors.

Still pleased by results of the Michigan primaries and "amused by the alibis of certain distinguished friends," Senator Hiram W. Johnson closed his campaign in Eastern New Jersey for the Republican Presidential nomination by addressing two large audiences last night at St. Patrick's Theatre, Jersey City, and St. Mary's Hall, Hoboken. He repeated, to a great extent, his Paterson and Passaic speeches of Thursday night.

Senator Johnson said he accepted the explanations offered by economists for the high cost of living, adding that "drastic" laws of punishment and "elastic" laws of investigation should be applied to the problem. His cure for speculation would be to "turn the spotlight of publicity on the profiteer, and if we have the laws to punish him."

"Makeshift taxation which bears heaviest on small corporations and partnerships should be repealed," Mr. Johnson said.

"Much as I detest the profiteer," he went on, "I also detest the patrioteer who wraps himself in the American flag and hides a mass of ugly sores behind that banner. You have got to toe the mark in this campaign."

Wants "Justice With Law."

Senator Johnson then dwelt upon the Wood slogan, although not mentioning the General by name. "You are for law and order," he said. "I am for law and order. But the trouble with some people for law and order is that they want a law of their own making and then will order us to obey it. I am for justice with law and order; that is sometimes forgotten by some of my distinguished friends. To me, Americanism means the Constitution of the United States, preservation of the Republic, a government by all the people, and not by a few selected gentlemen living or doing business in a narrow street in New York City."

Discussing the League of Nations, Mr. Johnson said:

"Let me tell you, my friends, you can't bury the American flag and have the American people walk over the grave of that flag without its becoming an issue in an American campaign. I have seldom been in accord with the President, but the one thing in which I do agree with him is that the people have the right and should be given the opportunity to decide this question this year. A group of us at Washington have determined that, regardless of what President, or Senate, or Morgan, or international bankers desire, this question shall come before the American people. You are deciding upon a specific contract which puts burdens upon this and future generations."

Nation Isolated, He Complains.

"We've never been isolated from Europe socially or commercially," Senator Johnson continued, "and the only isolation we have is what the good Lord gave us—geographical isolation, and even the League of Nations and Woodrow Wilson can't dry up the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. Whenever civilization calls America will respond, and will do her duty. All that we ask is that you and I shall decide how to perform our duty and that no European nation shall decide for us. When the call comes again, America will do her job, but, under the providence of God, under the Stars and Stripes.

"I don't blame European statesmen for thinking for their nations; I admire them for it. Every statesman at Paris thought in terms of nationality, and all you and I, just common folks, want is the right to think so, too. Ours is the only nation coming out of this war without booty. It is a proud fact. But Europe, owing $10,000,000,000, offers us a partnership. I have heard of men placing themselves in the hands of their creditors, but I never have heard of a man putting his affairs into the hands of his debtors."

HYLAN'S SPEECH ATTACKED.

Nixon Says Mayor Uses Traction Case to Hide Official Scandals.

Public Service Commissioner Lewis Nixon said yesterday that Mayor Hylan was using the traction situation and the Jenks bills now pending in Albany to distract attention from the growing scandals in the city Administration. He referred to the Mayor's Cooper Union speech on Thursday night in which the Jenks bills were attacked as a red herring drawn across the trail.

"There has never been," said Mr. Nixon, "a bolder attempt to get a little cheap political notoriety than the present pretense that the people need protection through some mass meeting where a few professional agitators thrash over old straw."

He said that the Mayor, in his speech, accused him of seeking legislation which would confer upon the commission jurisdiction over fares, and then quoted from the commission's annual report which said that the commission was not convinced that the city should not control the transportation facilities, and that lack of power on the part of the commission made it evident that the city should have the right to act in all emergencies.

Republican Women to Meet.

A meeting of the Women's Republican Club, Mrs. James Griswold Wentz, President, will be held next Tuesday morning at 10:30 at the National Republican Club, 54 West Fortieth Street. Mrs. Douglas Robinson will speak on "Republicanism and a Republican Candidate." Professor Henry McElroy of Princeton University also will make an address.

WOOD TO ADDRESS CITY DELEGATES

Many State Republicans Will Attend Carnegie Hall Meeting on April 17.

REPUDIATE MICHIGAN CLAIM

Senator Johnson Also Denies Rival's Title to 14 Votes—Leaves for Nebraska Today.

When Major Gen. Leonard Wood comes to New York on April 17 to make several speeches in Manhattan and Brooklyn in behalf of his candidacy for the Republican Presidential nomination he will meet and address the Republican delegates and alternates elected at last Tuesday's primary from New York City and nearby counties.

Although the New York delegation will go to the Republican convention unpledged to any candidate, a number of the delegates are friendly to General Wood and they invited him to adress them upon his next visit to New York. General Wood replied that he wanted to meet all the New York City delegates, and arrangements were immediately made for the candidate to personally meet and talk to them at Carnegie Hall. A number of prominent Republicans in the State will also be present.

The Carnegie Hall meeting will take place at 2:30 o'clock on the afternoon of the 17th, and the same night General Wood will make an address at the Lexington Opera House. At least one speech will be made in Brooklyn, but the details have not yet been completed. Winding up his Illinois tour tonight General Wood will immediately start East and will make a speech in Pittsfield, Mass., on Monday night.

The claim made at the headquarters of the Wood campaign on Thursday that General Wood was entitled to fourteen of the Michigan delegates because he had carried seven Congressional districts in that State was repudiated yesterday by former Representative Thomas W. Miller, one of the Eastern Wood managers.

Senator Hiram W. Johnson denied that General Wood was entitled to any of the Michigan delegates, and declared that the Wood managers had agreed in writing that the decision of the Michigan voters should control the entire delegation. Manager Miller, in a statement, said:

"As the Wood managers understand it, the Michigan law under which the delegates to the Republican National Convention were elected at the primary last Monday will insure Senator Johnson receiving the votes of the thirty delegates form Michigan, regardless of any unauthorized statement or inference heretofore issued as emanating from these headquarters.

"Whatever agreement the Wood organization has made, either in writing or otherwise, concerning the delegates from Michigan will be scrupulously lived up to."

When Senator Johnson learned that a claim for fourteen Michigan delegates had been made he said:

"The Wood claim of fourteen delegates in Michigan is absurd. Not only does the law preclude this, but in writing the Wood organization agreed that the decision of the voters of Michigan should control the whole delegation. Even if the Wood people seek to repudiate their solemn written agreement, the Michigan law, and, beyond that, Michigan sentiment, will not permit."

Senator Johnson has temporarily concluded his Eastern campaign trip and will leave today for Nebraska, opening his campaign in that State in Omaha on Monday. After a week in Nebraska the candidate will go to Indiana and campaign for five days, aided by Senators Borah and Kenyon.

The Wood managers will make no contest in Pennsylvania, but are willing to concede the State to Governor Sproul on the first ballot at the National Convention. After that it is expected by the Wood forces that a majority of the delegates will vote for the General.

Special to The New York Times.

DETROIT, April 9.—General Wood is not entitled to any Michigan delegates, it is declared by leaders of both parties here. Section 8 of the Michigan primary law reads:

"The candidate receiving the highest number of votes in the State at said election shall be declared to be the candidate and the choice of such political party for this State."

While there is nothing in the primary election law which compels the delegates to cast their ballots any specific number of times for the candidates selected at the primaries, it has been a common understanding in the past that the support of the delegates shall continue as long as the preferential primary candidate has a chance of securing the nomination.

Prior to the primary election, managers of the various candidates in a conference agreed that the candidate receiving the indorsement of the voters would have the unanimous support of the State delegation at the Chicago convention.

Burt D. Cady, Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, said:

"Michigan Republicans have gone on record in favor of Johnson for President. It will now be the duty of the delegates from this State to the national convention to go to Chicago and do everything in their power to further the candidacy of Mr. Johnson."

Wood's Dakota Plurality 4,032.

WOOD AND JOHNSON GAINING IN ILLINOIS

WOOD AHEAD IN CHICAGO

But Railroad Strike Is Helping Johnson Supporters Among Radicals Outside the Organization.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, April 9.—The assertion that General Leonard Wood has made great progress in his campaign through the State and that Tuesday's primaries may supply another political upheaval is being made tonight by the Wood managers. They predict also that Wood will carry Cook County. Indications are that General Wood is going to make a strong run, and especially in Chicago.

Senator Johnson may pick up a lot of votes in some of the Cook County districts as a result of the railroad strike. The movement to write in the name of Johnson is being pushed ahead, and in some quarters it is believed that he may make a very fair showing among the radical element who are not in any sense subject to organization control.

The results in Michigan and in Wisconsin have given impetus to this movement. Johnson adherents are declaring now that the wave will carry him on to victory in California, New Jersey and Nebraska, and that if La Follette will swing his Wisconsin delegates to Johnson "Old Guard" leaders will find their hands full if they attempt to head off the Senator.

There is much talk about this phase of the political battle in the Middle West today. The majority of political observers are about ready to concede Nebraska to Johnson, and not a few believe he will repeat Roosevelt's feat of 1912 by sweeping New Jersey, obtaining a heavy vote among the radical industrial and pro-German elements in Paterson, Jersey City and Hoboken.

Lowden and Wood Want Illinois.

As a result of such a situation both Lowden and Wood are extremely anxious to obtain a sweep in Illinois. Some of the Wood adherents, believe that in the event Johnson becomes formidable the country will have to turn to General Wood in searching for a candidate who is conservative in that he is an enemy of the radical element with the qualities which make a popular appeal to the masses of the people. A Wood sweep in Illinois, it is held, would thus put the General in a strong position.

Governor Lowden will be virtually eliminated from the race in the event that Wood beats him in his home State. His backers are confident he will win, however, especially as Mayor Thompson, who controls the situation in Cook County, apparently is going to carry through his program of not attempting to overthrow the Governor.

There is not a little bitterness showing its head in the closing days of the campaign. The old charge that the Wood forces are spending hundreds of thousands of dollars in newspaper advertising and in circularizing the State is being spread about again and the cry that Wood is attempting to buy the public favor is raised.

To these charges the Wood managers assert that not one cent has been spent except in legitimate channels and that newspaper advertising have been carried on only to an extent necessary to place the truth about the candidate before the people in a brief time.

Governor Lowden has not made much of a campaign, taking the position that if the people of the State refuse to support him after his record as Governor that he will have no complaint to make and ought to retire to private life. The Governor made an address before the Association of Commerce today.

LaFollette Vote a Sensation.

The showing made by Senator Robert M. LaFollette of Wisconsin is one of the sensations of the political mixup in the Middle West today. Accused of disloyalty by some of his conferees in the Senate, confessedly a "lonely man" in that body because of the stand he has taken on various questions, Senator LaFollette, nevertheless, has overturned the combined leadership of Governor Philipp, United States Senator Lenroot and George A. West, Chairman of the Republican State Committee, and has procured a slate of delegates to the national convention which he holds bound to do as he sees fit.

LaFollette apparently has won even in the Eleventh District, known as "Lenroot's Own," on the shores of Lake Superior. He has twenty-two of the twenty-six delegates in any event.

In Rockford, the home of State Treasurer Fred Sterling, Governor Lowden's campaign manager, General Wood received a rousing welcome tonight from an audience of more than 3,000 persons. His train was late, and the crowd waited more than two hours to hear him.

TAMMANY CLEANING HOUSE.

Ernest Harvier Says Police Crusade Is Planned to Save Election.

The present crusade of Assistant District Attorney James E. Smith, which has resulted in the indictment of Inspector Dominick Henry and other members of the Police Department, is the result of an effort of Tammany Hall to divorce itself from any police scandal for the purpose of getting ready for the next Mayoralty election, in the belief of Ernest Harvier of 1,193 Broadway, former Commissioner of the Aqueduct Board and long an observer of public affairs. Mr. Harvier said yesterday that Tammany never had been beaten in a city election, except by a police scandal, and that the leaders of the organization realized this and did not intend to carry such a burden next year.

"Does the Tammany political organization, as distinct from the city administration, support the officials of the Police Department under fire?" said Mr. Harvier. "It does not. These police officials bear the same relation to Tammany Hall as a wayward son bears to the more respectable members of the same family. It is to pry loose this connection that the police battle, if it may be so called, was begun.

"James E. Smith is a Tammany Hall man. For four years he was the representative of a Tammany district in the Assembly. He is familiar with the undercurrents which carry a party in New York to victory or engulf it in defeat."

Cornelius N. Bliss, Jr., for Wood.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, April 9.—The Publicity Bureau of the Wood Campaign Committee announced tonight that Cornelius N. Bliss, Jr., Treasurer of the Republican National Committee in 1916 and son of Cornelius N. Bliss, former Secretary of the Interior, has come out for Wood for the Presidential nomination. In a letter to Colonel William Cooper Procter, Mr. Bliss says that General Wood is a soldier whose courage and ability have been often tried and proved, a business administrator whose record of achievement in Cuba and the Philippines is one of the proud pages in our history.

Palmer is Backed at Home.

HARRISBURG, April 9.—There will be no contest on either the Republican or Democratic Presidential preference ballot in Pennsylvania at the primary election May 18. The time for filing petitions expired last night. The records show that A. Mitchell Palmer's name will be the only one on the Democratic ballot, and that of Edward Randolph Wood, a retired business man of Philadelphia, will be the only one on the Republican ticket.

Favor $40,000,000 Increase in Salaries of Teachers

ALBANY, April 9.—Salary increases amounting to $40,000,000 will be given to the teachers of the State if a plan favored by a majority of the members of the special legislative committee is finally adopted, it was reported here today. Half of the money will be paid by the State and the other half by the cities under the proposed plan.

Speaker Thaddeus C. Sweet of the Assembly; Charles D. Donahue, minority leader of the lower house; James J. Walker, minority leader of the Senate, and Senator Charles C. Lockwood are in favor of legislation to carry out the plan.

The schedule of increases has not yet been adopted, the committee still being at work.

James Foye Taken on Suspicion in Millhiser Jewel Case Almost Year Old.

SAID TO HAVE SOLD PEARLS

James Foye, 42 years old, who said he was an accountant, living at 811 St. John's Place, Brooklyn, was locked up in Police Headquarters last night on suspicion of connection with the theft almost a year ago of $275,000 worth of jewels owned by Mrs. Clarence Millhiser, widow of a manufacturer of Richmond, Va., from a strongbox in the safe deposit vaults of the Biltmore Hotel. Foye was arrested last night in front of the Woolworth Building, Broadway and Park Place, by Detectives McCoy, O'Hara, Gegan and Hammond after he had received from a man, whose identity is concealed by the detectives, a check for $20,000 in return for nine large pearls, which, the detectives allege, were among the articles stolen from Mrs. Millhiser between May 30 and June 13 of last year.

The detectives said that late yesterday afternoon they received word from the man whose identity they refused to reveal that a man had called on him a few minutes before and left with him nine pearls which he offered to sell him for $20,000. Their informant, the detectives said, said he recognized the pearls as being part of the Millhiser jewels and he had requested the stranger to leave them with him and call for a check for them yesterday.

The four detectives were waiting yesterday afternoon in the vicinity of their informant's office, which, it was said later, was in the vicinity of Broadway and Forty-second Street, when the man called on him for the check. The detectives said they immediately recognized the man as Foye, who was employed as a room clerk in the Biltmore Hotel at the time the Millhiser jewels vanished. They said they trailed Foye to the Woolworth Building, where, he is said to have admitted, he intended to cash the check he had received.

Foye will be arraigned in the Yorkville Court this morning. When Mrs. Millhiser opened the strong box on June 13, 1919, to take her jewels to her summer home at Deal Beach, N. J., she discovered that the chamois bags which had contained the jewels were empty. The robbery was considered by the police an "inside job," as it was not possible for anybody but an employe of the hotel to get into the vaults at any time during the day or night.

ITALIANS QUOTE LINCOLN.

Produce Letter Alleged to Favor Control of Adriatic by Them.

Extracts from a letter purporting to have been written by Abraham Lincoln at Springfield, Ill., in 1853, when he is alleged to have advocated the complete mastery of Fiume and the whole Adriatic by Italy, have just been cabled to Whitney Warren of this city by Arturo Norvia, Director of the Press Bureau at Zara, who explains that this letter, which has just been found in the private archives of the Melloni family at Modena, will be used by the Italians in pressing their claims at the forthcoming meeting of the Supreme Council at San Remo.

Macedonio Melloni, to whom the letter is supposed to have been addressed, fled to France in 1831 after having taken part in the revolution. Subsequently he went to Naples where he became Director of the Observatories of Vesuvius. For certain discoveries he made in connection with radiant heat he received medals from the French Institute of Arts and the Royal Society of Great Britain. He died of cholera in Naples in 1854.

The only passage which seems to explain the letter is the following:

"Humboldt has given me the message that you addressed to me through Michele Faraday. I thank you for your kind messages and I am sincerely flattered by your desire to have from me my thoughts as to the political reorganization of Europe. I admire in you all that you have suffered for science, but more still that which you have suffered for the independence and liberty of your beloved country.

"The only Italian unity which can be admitted is the one which does not permit the trampling under foot of the simplest principles of the actual political situation, and thus to prepare for the near future the most bloody and the most deadly of wars and the most villianous and senseless speculation. Dalmatia has a history of almost twenty-two centuries. The ethnical quantities which have been violently superimposed there, to the prejudice of the native Italians, are formed by the most barbarous and savage people of the world, the Bulgarians, Croats and Serbians.

"As to the latter, I wrote you the last time, the Serbians in particular take no glory except in assassination and crimes of carnage and anvdalism of every description. This glorious Dalmatia, by the Treaty of Campo Formio, was first given to Austria, then given to Napoleon—your great citizen who has enriched the glory of France in the same manner as Christopher Columbus enriched that of Spain—then by the Holy Alliance it was handed back again to Austria.

"As to the Albanians, they are Italians, and nothing else, the same as Sicilians and the inhabitants of the southern part of your peninsula."

In 1853 Lincoln, according to his biographers, was in Pekin, Ill., practising law. Three letters on local topics have been preserved from that year. Humboldt lived in Berlin from 1843 until 1856. Mr. Warren has cabled for photographs of the letter.

Doubt Report of Fiume Agreement.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Little credence is given in official circles here to the press report from Geneva, based on advices from Trieste, that the Italo-Jugoslav Commission, which has been conferring regarding the Adriatic situation, has reached an agreement on certain points whereby Italy would obtain sovereignty over Fiume, while Jugoslavia would receive the Albanian port of Scutari.

Strikes Compulsory Military Training Out of Army Bill by 46 to 9.

FIGHT NOW ON SUBSTITUTE

Effort Is Started to Eliminate This Plan from the Reorganization Measure.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The Senate rejected compulsory universal military training today in favor of a voluntary training system. By a vote of 46 to 9 it adopted amendments to the Army Reorganization bill proposed by Senator Frelinghuysen of New Jersey changing the compulsory features of the training provisions so that, instead of requiring every young man to receive military training for at least four months, only those who apply for it will receive it.

Some of the Senators who opposed the Frelinghuysen plan did so, they explained, because they wanted a direct vote on the question of compulsory training. Others were opposed to any kind of training or preparedness.

Seven of the nine were Republicans and two—Myers of Montana and Pittman of Nevada—Democrats. The seven Republicans were Brandegee of Connecticut, Keyes of New Hampshire, McCumber of North Dakota, Moses of New Hampshire, New of Indiana, Poindexter of Washington, and Wadsworth of New York.

The Democrats, with two exceptions, accepted the voluntary plan, though they would have voted almost as solidly against compulsory training.

The vote on the Frelinghuysen amendment was as follows:

Of Senators absent and paired, it was announced that Senators Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, and Watson of Indiana, Republicans, favored the voluntary plan, while Senator McCormick, Republican of Illinois, opposed it.

Final Action Goes Over.

Soon after the vote, Senator McKellar of Tennessee, one of those most hostile to a training system, proposed an amendment striking out the Frelinghuysen plan and leaving the bill without any provision for the instruction of civilians in military science in peacetime. Senator Wadsworth, in charge of the bill, warned Mr. McKellar that his amendment would lead to considerable discussion. As a result, further consideration of the bill was deferred until Monday. The Senate will be engaged tomorrow in paying honor to the memory of the late Senator Thomas Martin of Virginia.

Efforts by Senator Harris of Georgia to make the voluntary plan ineffective by limiting it were defeated. One of Mr. Harris's amendments provided that no person should be eligible for training until he had been a citizen of the United States at least ten years. Another left it to the discretion of a Governor of a State to accept or reject application for training.

Before these were voted on Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, a Democrat, who years ago came out for universal training, sharply attacked the opponents of the system, with particular attention to Senators McKellar and Hitchcock. He declared that "some of the distinguished men who are leading this fight against universal training led the fight against conscription during the war and would have led America to defeat," adding that pacifists opposed universal training or any other system of preparation just as they opposed the draft law.

Wilson's Attitude Disputed.

Mr. Chamberlain said he could not see what advantage Democratic Senators hoped to gain by opposing training, in view of President Wilson's position.

"The President is in favor of universal training," said the Senator. "His letter to Democratic leaders of the House shows that clearly."

"I do not think there is anything in the President's letter to justify that," Mr. Hitchcock answered. "He merely asked the House Democrats not to take a party stand on the question until after the national convention."

"The Secretary of War has announced that he favors universal training," said Senator Frelinghuysen, "and most certainly he could not utter such a policy without approval of the President."

Senator McKellar denied he had opposed conscription, saying he offered an amendment to the law providing that the first 500,000 men be enlisted as volunteers. Senator Chamberlain read extracts from speeches by Senator McKellar to show that the latter had opposed a large army.

The colloquy developed into a personal dispute, which Senator Chamberlain finally terminated by refusing to permit further interruptions.

Illness Again Halts Palmer Speeches

MACON, Ga., April 9.—Attorney General Palmer was forced to cancel his engagement at Waycross today in his primary campaign tour because of an attack of acute indigestion similar to that which he suffered Monday at Gainesville. Mr. Palmer's illness, it was said, was not serious.

BALL TEAMS HOME FROM SUNNY SOUTH

YANKEES AT EBBETS FIELD

Players in Good Trim as Clubs Prepare to Put Final Touches on Training Campaign.

LOCAL EXHIBITION GAMES TODAY.

Giants vs. Boston Red Sox
Yankees vs. Brooklyn
Boston Braves vs. Jersey City
at Jersey City.

The Giants got back from the Spring training trip in the South early last night, the game in Reading having been called off, and they will complete their series of exhibition games with the Boston Red Sox at the Polo Grounds this afternoon and tomorrow. The Saturday and Sunday games will begin at 3 o'clock, when fans will have their first chance to look over Manager McGraw's remodeled infield with Frisch at third base and George Kelly at first.

The Yankees and Brooklyn get in early this morning, and will begin a three-day exhibition series at Ebbetts Field this afternoon. The games this afternoon and tomorrow will begin at 3 o'clock. It will be the first chance New York fans will have of seeing Babe Ruth in a Yankee uniform, and to say that there is considerable interest in the local appearance of the game's greatest slugger, who made twenty-nine home runs last season, is putting it mildly.

The Giants have had a very successful sojourn in the South. They were three weeks at San Antonio, where they struck fine weather, and the veteran pitching staff, on which Manager McGraw bases his pennant chances, rounded into form quickly and are in great shape to start the season. For the past three weeks the Giants have been touring the South with the Boston Red Sox, and have already clinched the series, even if Boston wins the remaining two games.

Players in Good Trim.

The barnstorming clubs have encountered bad weather, but in spite of this McGraw's players got in last night in better shape than they have been in several seasons. The only cripple is Frank Snyder, who has an injured hand which will keep him out of the game for a time.

The Yankees struck some bad luck in the South and a serious injury to Fewster, who was hit in the head by a pitched ball, robbed the club of the services of a promising youngster for some time. Frank Baker has announced his intention of retiring from the game, but Manager Huggins still has hopes that he may change his mind. The Yankees have developed slowly at Jacksonville and have not shown anything like their real strength. Bodie will be among the missing, but in the outfield with Ruth and Lewis will be [illegible] or Gleich, a promising lad from Saginaw. The pitching staff will be in better shape to start the season than last year and the return of Shore to form will be a big help to the Huggins clan.

The Brooklyns rounded into form in short order under Manager Robinson and the pitching staff returns home this morning in great shape. In the series of exhibition games which the Yanks and Dodgers have been playing the Brooklyn club proved to be in far better form than the Yanks.

Fordham to Honor Frisch.

The Yanks will be busy at the Polo Grounds right up to the opening of the season next Wednesday. After the two games with the Red Sox today and tomorrow, Manager McGraw's players will meet the Fordham team on Monday. The Fordham students plan to give a warm reception to Frank Frisch, the former Fordham player, who will be seen at third base with the Giants this season. "Frank Frisch Day" will be celebrated by presenting the young player with a gift. The whole Fordham student body will turn out for the occasion.

On Tuesday the Giants will play their annual game with Yale, and the Elis will come here this season unusually strong.

The Yanks and Brooklyn will be busy with their series at Ebbets Field today, Sunday and Monday. On Tuesday the Dodgers will play the New York Agricultural College at Ebbets Field, and on Wednesday they will open the season with Philadelphia.

The Yankees will open the season against the Athletics in Philadelphia and will open their local season against Connie Mack's club at the Polo Grounds on April 22.

GIANTS' OFFICERS ELECTED.

Stoneham Is Again Named President and McGraw Vice President.

At the annual meeting yesterday of the Board of Directors of the National Exhibition Company, which controls the Giants, the following officers were elected: President, Charles A. Stoneham; Vice President, John J. McGraw; Treasurer, Francis X. McQuade; Secretary, Joseph D. O'Brien. Aside from the Secretary, all the officers were re-elected. The board is composed of Messrs. Stoneham, McGraw and McQuade, together with Ross F. Robertson, Horace A. Stoneham, John Whalen and Leo J. Bondy.

Fewster Rapidly Recovering; May Rejoin Yanks Before July

According to word received from Baltimore last night, Wilson Fewster who is recuperating at Johns Hopkins University Hospital from the effects of being hit on the head by a pitched ball at Jacksonville, is recovering rapidly. He was able to sit up yesterday for the first time and is managing to speak more coherently than heretofore. This bit of news has given the Yanks cause to hope that Fewster will be able to play before July, the time predicted after his removal to Baltimore.

GEORGETOWN HOLDS FORDHAM RUNLESS

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Errors figured prominently in the defeat of Fordham at the hands of Georgetown here today, 4 to 0, in a game that was a pitchers' battle between Southpaw Hyman of the home team and Culloton of Fordham. Hyman had a slight edge on his rival. He allowed only four hits, fanned six and hit a batsman, against five hits of Culloton, who passed two and fanned but four.

Three of Georgetown's runs came in the sixth inning. With one out Culloton passed J. Sullivan and H. Sullivan followed with a single. Both advanced on an out. They would have been left, but McLoughlin juggled Lefevre's perfect throw on Maloney and both counted. Maloney then stole and scored on Dudack's single. Gilhooley's hit, on which an error by Keough allowed him to make two sacks, a sacrifice by J. Sullivan and a sacrifice fly by H. Sullivan counted the final run in the eighth.

Fordham had just two chances to score and one great opportunity to break up the game. McLoughlin started the fourth with a hit and Halloran's long single sent him to third. On an attempted squeeze Keough filed to the pitcher. Hyman then hit Buckley, filling the sacks, but the twirler grabbed Lefevre's grounder, got McLoughlin at home and Kenyon rounded out a double play by throwing out the batsman at first. Keough doubled to open the seventh, but his teammates could not help. In each of the other sessions only three men faced Hyman. Buckley, who singled in the second inning, was thrown out stealing.

YANKS BUNCH HITS AND BEAT DODGERS

Special to The New York Times.

LYNCHBURG, Va., April 9.—The finest exhibition of free hitting the Yankees have shown in the South earned them a victory over the Robins here this afternoon, 5 to 2. A pass to Pipp, successive triples by Ruth and Lewis, Meusel's sacrifice fly and a terrific home run drive to deep center by Del Pratt came in the third inning of the game and as a result the Yanks breezed into their second victory in as many days. The outcome of the game, the finale of the series, as far as the Southern section of the country is concerned, leaves the Huggins outfit with a fighting chance to end the series in a tie by winning the next three in Brooklyn, starting tomorrow.

It was snowing when the baseball special pulled in here this morning but when the sun emerged bright and clear in the afternoon, Huggins decided to give Lefty O'Doul his first opportunity to start a ball game since sometime early in the previous year. O'Doul got away to a poor start, the Dodgers having evident instructions to hit the first ball for Olson cracked Lefty's first one to left for a single and Neis looped the next into Duffy Lewis's hands.

Wheat's Double Scores Two.

Kilduff singled to center, Olson scampering around to third while Ruth was struggling against a temptation to kick a field goal from a difficult angle. Wheat's lengthy double to left scored both runners but Meusel, who played fine ball all day, came through with a great one-hand stop on Konetchy and got his man at first, ending the rally.

O'Doul then took it upon himself to settle down to the situation and nothing of any particular moment occurred in the subsequent two innings, but Koney opened the fourth with a single and took second on Lewis's fumble. Hood popped a single into short right, Koney holding third and he continued to do so while Meusel was disposing of Baird, and O'Doul was gathering in Elliott's pop fly. Pfeffer then drew a pass, filling the bases, but Lewis camped under Olson's loft.

The sixth brought on Bob McGraw and an inclination to pass them as fast as they came up. McGraw was not scored on, but the fault was by no means his. [illegible]

Threaten in Seventh.

Neis singled with one out in the seventh and Kilduff was passed. On Pratt's wild throw, [illegible] came home [illegible] decided the game.

Get Football Squad Ready For Class-Day Daisy Chain

AMHERST, Mass., April 9.—The Massachusetts Aggie football candidates who have been practicing for the last three weeks were introduced today to a new and doubtless exclusive feature, when thirty of the prospective linemen were sent through two hours of folk dancing under the direction of Mrs. Curry S. Hicks, the director of the women's gymnasium at the college. Mrs. Hicks spent two hours with the husky linemen, putting them through one of the old English dances known as the Morris dance. The particular steps which were used constituted a "handkerchief dance" called Hollyhock Bunches. The object of the dancing is to improve the co-ordination of the linemen, and the coach expects that it will get his heavyweights in the habit of keeping upon their toes.

For the first few minutes the men were staggered by the idea of waving a handkerchief around, but soon went to work in earnest and learned the entire Morris dance in one afternoon. It is planned to have the dancing several times a week on Alumni Field and if sufficient progress is made by the participants an exhibition will be put on at commencement.

OLYMPIC STADIUM'S INAUGURAL AUG. 14

King Albert to Preside Over Elaborate Ceremonies Opening Antwerp Games.

ANTWERP, April 9.—Elaborate ceremonies will mark the formal opening of the Olympic Games Stadium here next August, according to the plans of the Belgium Olympic Committee. The date for the inaugural has been set for Saturday, Aug. 14, and the event will be followed by more than two weeks of continuous competition in which the leading athletes of close upon thirty nations are expected to participate.

The ceremonies will be much the same as those which marked the beginning of the Olympic Games at Stockholm in 1912. The athletes and teams of every country entered will form outside the stadium proper and at a signal from the royal box, a fanfare of bugles will announce the coming of the men and women, who on the following days will contest for Olympic honors. Each nation will be assigned a place in the parade, which will file past the royal box in a circuit of the running track and later stand at attention on the infield.

The flag of each country will be borne in the forerank of that particular section or group and the athletes will wear a distinctive civilian uniform, which, in the case of the United States team at Stockholm, consisted of white duck trousers and ties, blue sack coats and straw hats with a red, white and blue ribbon band. In passing the royal box, which will be occupied by the King, Queen and Prince Leopold of Belgium, the flag of each nation will be dropped in salute and the team members carry their hats or caps at attention. Titled and notable personages from all parts of the world are expected to be in attendance for the grand march of the nations and other ceremonies in connection with the opening of the stadium.

King Albert and Prince Leopold of Belgium will also attend the contests regularly, both in the main stadium and those adjacent, which will be devoted to special competition such as swimming and bicycle races. A secondary stadium to seat 10,000 spectators is being constructed for the aquatic events with a swimming pool 200 feet long, 60 feet wide and 15 feet deep. It will be located on the outskirts of the city, about twenty minutes walk from the athletic stadium.

The Velodrome, where the bicycle races will be held, is a permanent sport fixture, having been used for cycling events in past seasons. The track is of concrete properly banked for high speed.

ATHLETE NOT BODY BUILDER

Prof. Berry Says He Makes Poor College Physical Director.

Prof. Elmer Berry, of the International Y. M. C. A. The star athlete, he said, generally had outstanding ability in one field but lacked [illegible]

He expressed the opinion that the present competitive spirit should be replaced by a spirit whose purpose should be to so teach the pupils that they would carry on during after life.

Uncle Sam's Vanguard Having Rough Trip to Olympic Games

The vanguard of Uncle Sam's Olympic games athletes, the hockey players and figure skaters, who sailed from this city last Wednesday, yesterday passed Sable Island, according to a cablegram to Frederick W. Rubien, Secretary of the American Olympic Committee, from Cornelius Fellowes, manager of the skating team. Mr. Fellowes in his cable said that the Finland, on which the team had sailed, had encountered cold, windy weather and rough seas, but that none of the Olympic party had as yet shown any ill effects.

STECHER DEFEATS PILAKOFF IN BOUT

Champion Scores Fall—Londos Also Wins—O'Dowd Referees and Joins Regiment.

Another victim was claimed last night by the punishing scissors hold of Joe Stecher, heavy weight champion wrestler, when the Nebraska strong-boy threw Fred Pilakoff, Finnish giant, in their catch-as-catch-can bout held before a crowd of more than 4,000 in the Forty-seventh Regiment Armory, Brooklyn. The title holder showing complete mastery of his opponent from the outset, finally clamped on his favorite hold after twenty-two minutes four seconds of work, and with the added pressure of a double wrist lock, forced the powerful Finn's shoulders to the mat.

Stecher completely outclassed his rival in every department of the game. Agile as a cat, tireless on the attack, and quick to follow his offensive, despite the efforts of Pilakoff at defense, Stecher rapidly bewildered the Finn with the very consistency of his work, and making an opening for his favorite hold, applied the tremendous pressure of his strong legs. Pilakoff, though not reduced in physical strength, nevertheless, could not cope with the terrific scissors, and succumbed.

Despite the disparity in the respective ability of the contestants, the match was interesting while it lasted. Interesting in the sense that it provided an impressive demonstration of the wonderful ability of Stecher as champion. The Nebraska farmer displayed an ability which left no room for doubt as to his superiority, and he treated Pilakoff throughout almost as a pupil.

Pilakoff had only his strength to recommend him. Through this medium he successfully staved off a humiliating defeat earlier in the bout. From the start Stecher gave his undivided attention to his scissors hold, seeking always to grasp Pilakoff's body between his strong legs and crush the Finn in defeat. The champion in working to this end employed a half-nelson frequently, but Pilakoff's early strength defied this hold which threatened damage to the attempts to secure a scissors. At fifteen minutes the champion appeared on the road to victory when, working near the edge of the mat, he had the Finn's shoulders dangerously near a fall. The grapplers fell out of the ring, however, and resumed in the centre of the mat.

The fall did not interrupt Stecher's offensive, however, and he soon returned to work. After roughing for a few seconds, grasping Pilakoff's wrists in his hands, then worked over his rival until he had made the opening for his body scissors. Grasping Pilakoff's wrists in his hands Stecher quickly forced Pilakoff's shoulders to the mat.

Mike O'Dowd, middleweight boxing champion, refereed the match. The boxing champion, previous to the start of the bout, joined the 47th Infantry, taking the oath of allegiance from Captain Timothy Mahoney.

Jim Londos, Greek champion, scored a victory over Jack Sampson of Chicago, in the other star bout. At 54:57 Londos had his rival's arm in a viselike scissors and forced Sampson to concede the fall to escape injury to his arm. Sampson was substituted for John Grandowich, a Bohemian, who was unable to appear. The Chicagoan displayed early strength and for a time made things interesting for his squat, thickly muscled opponent. Gradually, however, the Greek grappler's varied attack and superior strength asserted themselves, and Sampson succumbed.

STAR REALM SURPRISES RACEGOERS BY GALLOPING OFF WITH BENNINGS PURSE AT BOWIE

STAR REALM TAKES FEATURE AT BOWIE

ETTAHE CAPTURES ANOTHER

J. Kennedy's Gelding Wins Third Straight Race When He Scores in Fifth Event on Card.

BOWIE, Md., April 9.—T. Brennan's Star Realm, which raced with indifferent success at Havana during the Winter, made his first appearance at Bowie this afternoon and scored quite handily in the Bennings Purse, which was the feature of a card given over entirely to the plater variety of racers. This proved a rather soft spot for the Star Shoot colt and he won by nearly two lengths after leading all the way in the one-mile test. He took the measure of Frank Monroe and Mountain Rose 2d, among others in a field of seven starters.

Although Bowie has enjoyed greater crowds than ever attended this course before and the enthusiasm for racing has been at high pitch, the class of horses has been quite ordinary and today it was at the lowest ebb. The late Spring, which prevented many horses from getting into condition, is partly responsible for the lack of more high class performers, and many of those which are now ready have been sent to Havre de Grace, which will open next week.

Though the cheaper horses had the card to themselves today there was plenty of good sport and the victories in practically all instances were decisive. Star Realm proved something of a surprise, as Mountain Rose 2d had been made the choice while the winner was offered at as good as 8 to 1.

Star Realm won in spite of losing much ground, and was easily the best in the race. He went to the front with the raising of the barrier, and, after racing neck and neck with Frank Monroe for half a mile, began to draw away to a comfortable lead. He seemed to have the race well in hand when he reached the stretch, but, turning for home, he bore out and lost much ground.

Jockey Miller got him straightened out, and in a few more strides he was again drawing away with plenty in reserve. Frank Monroe went slightly wide making the turn into the stretch, but finished gamely and easily held second against Mountain Rose, which had slipped through on the inside when the leaders bore out. Mountain Rose had a good chance to take second, but weakened right at the end.

Queen Blonde, which had been well played, suffered a mishap at the very start. She was away in a tangle and was last for half the distance. She finally moved up to fourth place, but was never a real contender. The others never became factors in the race.

J. Kennedy's Ettahe, which has been a consistent performer here, scored his third successive victory in the fifth event at six and a half furlongs, when he won handily from Ragnarok and Mumbo Jumbo, among seven starters. Ettahe was held in restraint to the head of the stretch, but was never far from the leaders. Meantime Ragnarok and Mumbo Jumbo were racing each other into submission. Both were tiring when they reached the head of the stretch, and at this point Ettahe slipped through on the rail, and, catching Ragnarok, was soon in the lead, and won handily by a length. Ragnarok saved second from Mumbo Jumbo by three lengths, the latter having tired badly. Poultney raced on the outside all the way and never had a chance to catch the front runners.

One of the closest finishes of the day came in the third race, when Marmite just lasted to win a seven-furlong dash, defeating Hope by a neck, with Tiger Rose third. Marmite got away in front and appeared to have the field towroped at one time.

Sixty Horses to Race Under Colors of J. W. McClelland

James W. McClelland, whose colors have been prominent at all of the important tracks for years, is preparing to race the largest string of horses that will perform for any one owner this year. He has a total of sixty racers preparing for the coming season, and his stable is so large that he intends to divide it into two sections, racing one section in the West and the other in the East. Thirty-six of his horses are now in training at Havre de Grace, Md., while the others are in Kentucky.

Mr. McClelland has announced that Eternal, the star of this extensive stable, will not be brought to the races until August. Eternal is still roaming in pastures green and will not be put into training until July. He will start his campaign at Saratoga, and if he fails he will be sent to the stud.

VETERAN NET PROS GO DOWN IN DEFEAT

Standing and Pettitt Lose Court Tennis Match to Forester and Tompkins, 8—3, 8—1.

Frank Forester, tennis professional for Payne Whitney, and Fred Tompkins of the Philadelphia Racquet and Tennis Club defeated George Standing of the New York Racquet and Tennis Club and Tom Pettitt of the Boston Racquet and Tennis Club in a four-handed court tennis match at the Racquet and Tennis Club yesterday. Forester and Tompkins won easily from the two veterans, 8—3, 8—1.

Forester and Tompkins proved more agile in covering court than their older opponents, both of whom have been prominent figures in the professional game for many years. A large and enthusiastic gallery followed the match. In the first set Forester and Tompkins took the first four games before Standing and Pettitt got their bearings. In the fifth game the veteran pair won at 4—1, and they also took the sixth game at 4—2.

The old-timers did their best playing in the seventh game when they surprised their opponents with swift, accurate stroking and took the game at 4—0. With the game score 4 to 3 in their favor, Forester and Tompkins took the next four games straight, their opponents scoring only three points in the four games.

The Forester-Tompkins combination had an easy time of it in the second set, taking seven straight games before Standing and Pettitt won the eighth game at 4-1. Forester and Tompkins took the next game, 4—2, and the match. In the second set Standing found the dedans three times with pretty lobs. Tompkins found the winning openings five times during the match, twice in the dedans, once in the grille and twice in the winning gallery. Forester hit into the dedans twice, the grille once and once in the winning gallery. Standing found winning openings twice in the winning gallery besides his three drives into the dedans. Pettitt found the dedans once and hit one into the winning gallery.

The point score follows:

Preakness Attracts Greatest 1919 Juveniles of the Country.

BALTIMORE, April 9.—The names of the 118 three-year-olds nominated for the $25,000 Preakness, which will be run on May 18 at Pimlico, were announced here today by the Maryland Jockey Club. The list contains the names of all the high-class performers in the division which stood out in the juvenile class last year, and is headed by Man o' War, the Glen Riddle Farm's great racer and champion of the two-year-olds of 1919.

Even though only a dozen or so of the best of those named go to the post, the Preakness this year should be one of the greatest contests ever seen in Maryland. It is quite probable that a dozen starters will be sent away on the mile-and-a-furlong journey, for the Preakness offers a rich purse and comes at a time in the year when even a champion of the previous season may not be ready to do his best. Thus, horsemen are not moved to withdraw their horses for fear of meeting defeat at the hands of some particularly fine performer.

The Preakness will mark the début for 1920 of Man o' War, which is being trained in Maryland and which is rapidly getting into fine condition. It will also mark the initial start for the season for S. C. Hildreth's Dominique, and at the same time Man o' War will have to meet such great rivals as John P. Grier, Donnacona and On Watch.

Although some very fine colts and fillies will race in the Kentucky Derby this year, the fact that some of the best of the present three-year-olds are not to be sent West for that race will make the Preakness a more important event than usual, since this race will point rather conclusively to the logical leader of the division. It may also bring out some sensational performer not now being counted on.

It is certain that if Man o' War is in good form he will be made the favorite for the Preakness, but if the winner of the Kentucky Derby is also a starter in the Pimlico event there will probably be a wide division of support.

Many of the most prominent sportsmen in the country have subscribed generously for entry blanks. H. P. Whitney, George W. Loft, S. C. Hildreth, Ral Parr, Commander J. K. L. Ross, W. R. Coe, J. W. McClelland, Walter J. Salmon, E. F. Carman and Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords are among the owners who named horses.

Some of the best-known of the horses named are Man o' War, John P. Grier, Dominique, Donnacona, Damask, On Watch, Upset, Blazes, Hoby Baker, Constancy, Cleopatra, Golden Broom, Carmandale, Neddam, Irish Dream, King Thrush, Leviathan, Star Shoot, David Harum, Cobwebs and Lady Brummel.

NEW TENNIS DRAW HAS U. S. APPROVAL

Arrangements Agreed To That May Admit France and Canada to Davis Cup Contest.

The likelihood of a new draw for the Davis Cup contest, to include France and possibly Canada, is indicated by a cablegram received from the French association and the reply thereto of the United States Lawn Tennis Association. When the entries closed on March 1 the countries included in the draw were England, Holland, South Africa and the United States, which were paired in the order named.

On March 10 a cablegram was sent from Sydney saying that the Australian association had refused the entry of Canada, which was delayed in transit, but had suggested that if Canada desired to enter it should obtain the consent to a new draw of the four nations whose entries were received on March 1. No action on this was taken by Canada. Apparently France also intended to enter, for a cablegram to the United States Lawn Tennis Association shows that the French authorities have been in communication with Australia regarding a challenge.

The French cable to the National Association said that Australia desired the consent of the nations already entered for a new draw that would admit France. This was referred to the Davis Cup Committee of the National Association, which decided that the only sportsmanlike attitude for this country to take was to consent to a second draw. Accordingly, a cablegram has been sent to Thomas H. Hicks, Honorary Secretary of the Australian association, stating that the United States consents to a second draw admitting late entries and requesting that this country be informed immediately of any action taken.

The information contained in the foregoing cablegrams also has been forwarded to the Secretary of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association in the belief that the Canadians might not have been notified of the proposed action, and, in case a new draw were made, might desire to be included. Nothing has been heard as to the intentions of the Canadian association.

In the meantime the Davis Cup Committee is proceeding on the assumption that the United States will send a team abroad to play some Davis Cup matches early in the Summer.

NEW RULE FOR BREEDERS.

The National Association Adopts Changes at Louisville Meeting.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 9.—Changes in the rules of the American Saddle Horse Breeders' Association, at its annual meeting here today, made eligible for registration "the female progeny of a registered saddle stallion and a mare by a registered saddle stallion." Previously only stallions in this class were eligible.

All officers of the association, including President Claude M. Thomas, Paris, Ky., were re-elected.

The principal address, delivered by Wayne Dinsmore of Chicago, Secretary of the Horse Association of America, was to the effect that the number of horses in the country had grown to 21,100,000, an increase of more than a million in ten years, even though the use of automobiles has been widely extended.

Breeding of saddle horses, however, he said, had fallen off considerably in Kentucky, where hundreds of farms, he declared, had abandoned livestock breeding for the more remunerative tobacco crop.

BULL WINS THIRD TITLE.

Defeat of Riggs Gives Him Final Possession of Squash Club Cup.

Charles M. Bull is again squash champion of the Squash Club. For the third successive year he has overcome all opposition and scaled the heights. Playing in the final match on the club's courts yesterday afternoon, Bull defeated R. E. T. Riggs by 17—14, 15—11 and 18—17. Having won a third leg on the club trophy, it is now the personal property of Bull. D. Raymond Noyes held two legs on the cup, but was unable to play in this year's tournament. He was an aviator in France and injured his leg in a fall. This kept him out of the event.

Riggs gave Bull a great fight for the title. The scores tell a story of one of the keenest struggles that have been waged in the tournament. Both players were in excellent stroke, and in only the second game did Bull win by what might be referred to as a comfortable margin. In the other two games Riggs forced Bull into extra points, and, particularly in the last game, Riggs came within the narrowest of margins of grabbing the victory.

Bull won because of his more accurate placements, harder hitting and better gets. The veteran Riggs played his usual game of around the court and frequently succeeded in forcing Bull to the limit to pull out.

Rain Halts Tennis Tourney.

PINEHURST, N. C., April 9.—Play in the North and South tennis tournament, which opened here yesterday, was called off today because of rain. The tournament will be resumed tomorow if the weather permits.

GRIDIRON CALL IS SOUNDED AT PENN

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, April 9.—The first football call of the 1920 season was issued today by Charles M. ("Buck") Wharton, recently appointed line coach of the Varsity eleven.

Wharton asked for 300 men from the student body to report on Franklin Field for Spring practice on April 19. Though the first week of practice will be primarily for linemen, the backfield candidates will be sent through preliminary drills until regular practice starts for them the week following.

John W. Heisman, head coach of the eleven, is in Kansas City, recuperating from a recent illness. He writes that he will take active charge of the Spring training on April 27, on which date he will return to this city. Heisman left Philadelphia immediately after his appointment as Penn coach, suffering from a severe cold and stomach trouble. He went through a course of treatment in the West, and now writes that he weighs fifteen pounds more than when he was here. He has wound up his business connections at Georgia Tech and will live in this city permanently.

Wharton issued the call today at the written request of Heisman, who congratulated Buck on his appointment as line mentor. It was also learned that the head coach was largely instrumental in securing Wharton's services.

In his letter Heisman says that with Wharton to take care of the defense and with a carefully planned offense, the Red and Blue should have a great eleven.

Heisman lays especial stress on clean-cut tackling and has asked that six tackling dummies be installed on Franklin Field for the Spring drill. He will instruct the candidates in a new method of stopping a runner.

OUIMET TO PLAY HERE.

Loses Chance to Inspect Engineers' Links, but Will Return Soon.

Francis Ouimet just barely missed an excellent opportunity yesterday for his first round over the course where the next national amateur championship will be played. The Woodland headliner was all primed for a day of golf at the Engineers' Country Club at Roslyn, Long Island, but the inability of Arthur Holton, his playing partner, to join him prevented the practice match.

Ouimet arrived Thursday night from Pinehurst, where he won the North and South amateur title and launched what many golfers are inclined to believe is his great comeback. He spent yesterday in New York and had made all arrangements for a visit to Engineers and for an early inspection of the course where Davie Herron must defend his championship. Ouimet returned home to Boston last night, but said he would take the first opportunity which presented itself to scurry back and play over the new course.

It is practically definite that Ouimet will not go abroad. Although he still is open-minded, he expresses it this way: "Unless unexpected things happen it is practically certain that I will not make another trip to England."

SUNFLOWER RATED BEST DOG IN SHOW

Mrs. Lewis's Fine Greyhound Gleans Chief Honors in the Pinehurst Ring.

Special to The New York Times.

PINEHURST, N. C., April 9.—Mrs. B. F. Lewis, Jr.'s, celebrated greyhound champion, Lansdowne Sunflower, was adjudged best in show at the conclusion of the second annual dog show at Pinehurst today. Experts who had attended other bench shows in this country and abroad, where the beautiful greyhound had won the highest honors, stated that Lansdowne Sunflower has never shown to beter advantage than during the Pinehurst event.

Best of opposite sex was awarded to the Rexden Kennel's almost equally well-known shepherd dog, Alf Altwurtenberg.

The show just closed has set a new mark for dog shows held outside of the great cities of the country, and it is doubtful whether any show as small as this one, with its 180 entries, has ever brought together so many dogs of national and international reputation. Almost a third of the field had records of more or less important firsts behind them.

The English setters classes, won by Francis G. Taylor's Nobleston Warrior and R. F. Maloney's champion Reinstone Blue Belle, and the pointers classes, won by Charles S. Grace's Cairo and B. F. Lewis's Lansdowne Ryot Tatum, were exceptionally strong.

The special prize for the best brace was awarded today to Aberfoyle Warrior and Aberfoyle Siren, wirehaireds, entered by C. H. Guiland, of Chester, Pa. Aberfoyle Warrior and Mrs. Stuyvesant Peabody's Brookhill Rosanna won the firsts in their respective classes, while the firsts in the smooth-coated fox terrier classes went to Sabine Ricolo and Sabine Fragrance, entered by George Sinclaire of Toledo.

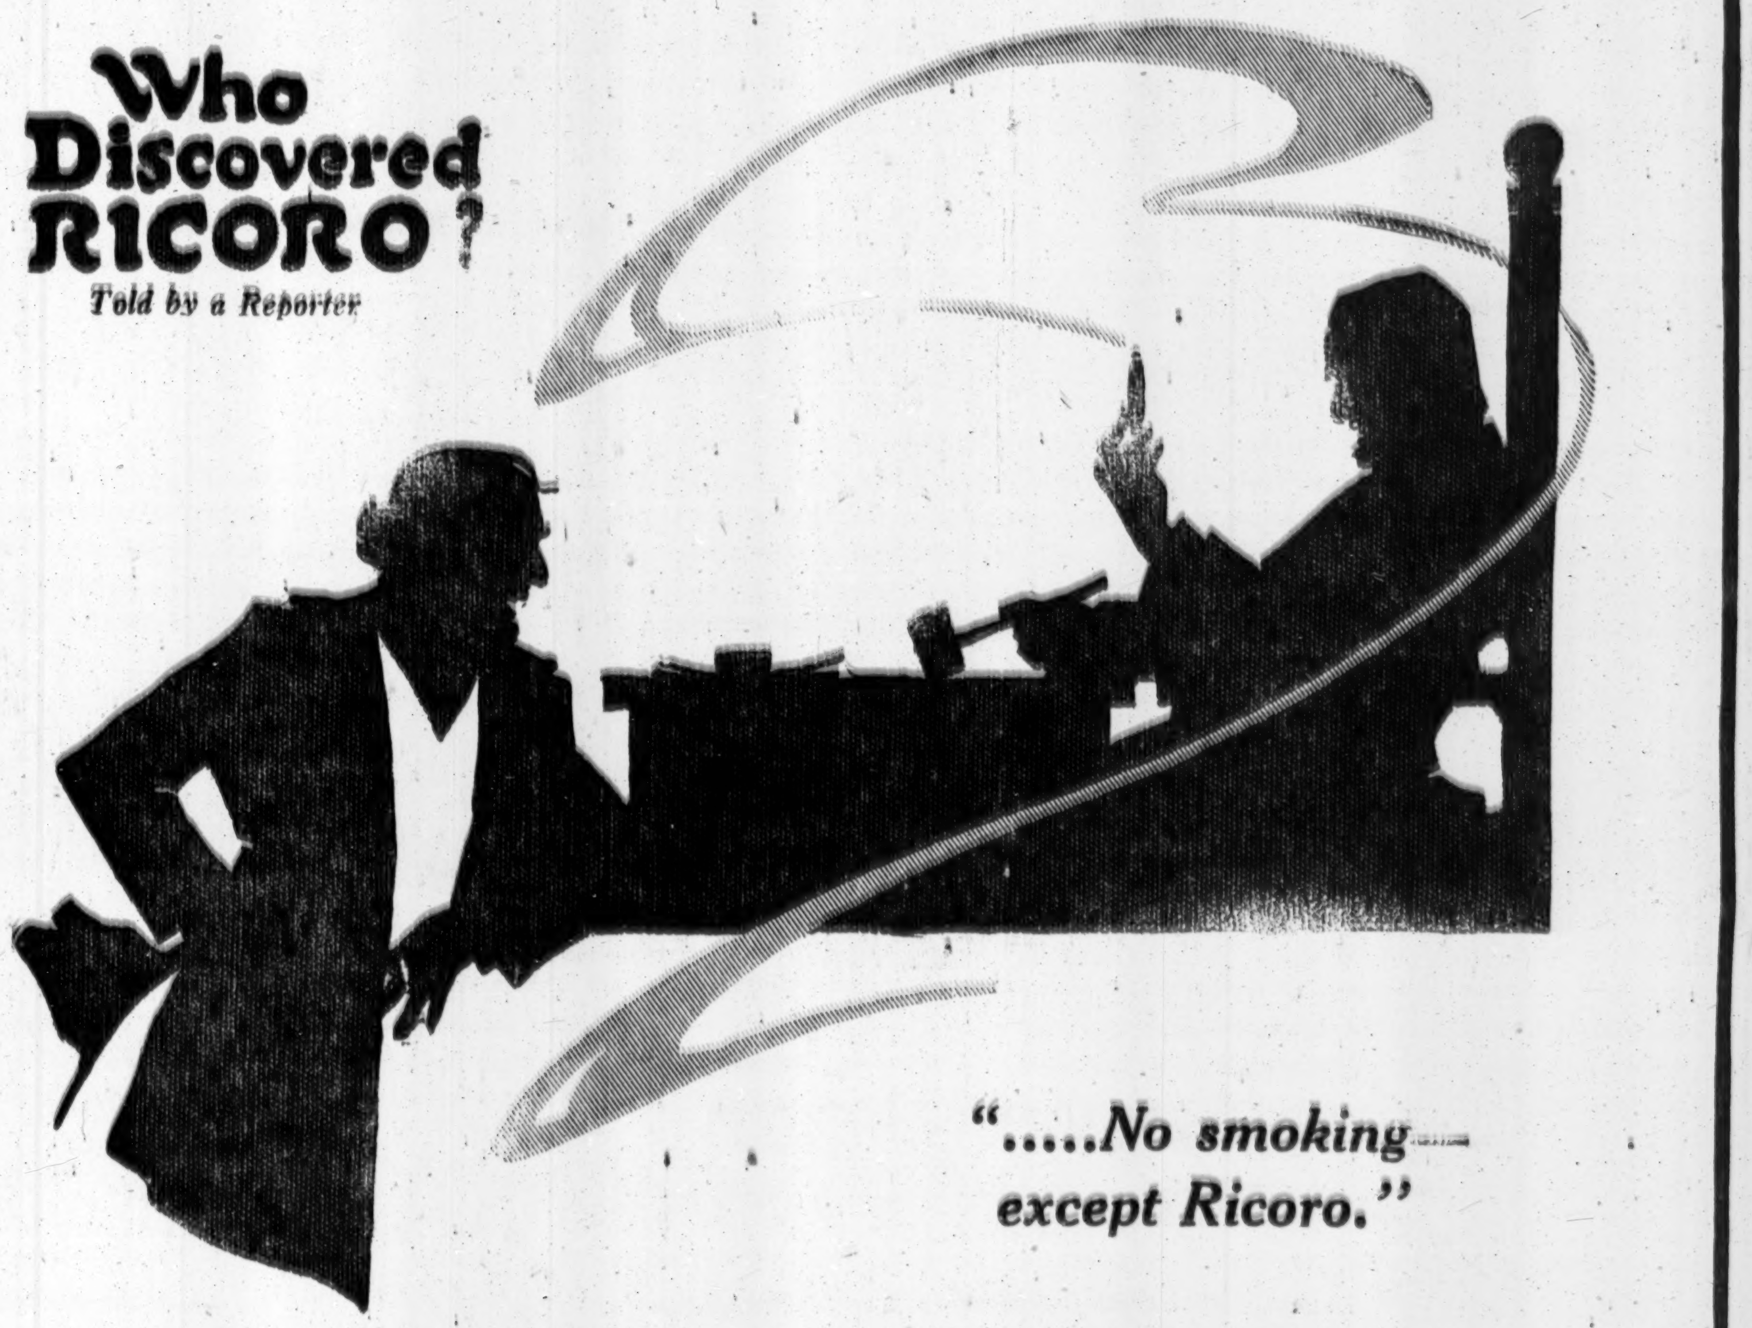
Entries from the North and Middle West far outnumbered those from the Southern States. Pennsylvania was represented by twenty-nine high-class dogs and Michigan and Illinois by an entry of twenty.

TO FORM OFFICIALS' CLUB.

Organization Will Seek Better Interpretations of A. A. U. Rules.

H. Obertubbesing, acting Chairman of the proposed Officials' Club of New York, has called a meeting for April 15 for the purpose of completing the organization plans, adopting a constitution and by-laws, and electing officers. The meeting will be held at the 71st Regiment Armory.

The object of the Officials' Club is to develop more competent officials for the various local athletic meets and tournaments conducted under Amateur Athletic Union rules. Its Executive Committee will pass on the qualifications of every applicant for membership and will certify to their fitness for any official position only after they have passed an examination as to their character, ability and knowledge of the rules.



Who Discovered RICORO?
Told by a Reporter

".....No smoking—except Ricoro."

"A Circuit Judge from Texas," volunteered the New York Police Court Reporter, "He was here on a visit, and was arrested for smoking in the Subway.

" 'Ah-ha! So you're a fellow-jurist of mine!', laughed Magistrate Smith, when the case was called, 'What have you to say for yourself?'

" 'Why, only that I'd discovered a cigar so rich—so mild—so good—that I clean forgot to stop smoking. If that's any excuse——'

" 'H'm, that depends on whether or not the cigar was really as good as you say!'

" 'Well, here's Exhibit A', laughed the Texan, holding up a regal looking corona; 'try it!'

" 'In the interest of justice, I will', said the magistrate, lighting up—'H'm—this cigar is a wonder. From its expensive aroma, I should hold you for attempted bribery!'

" 'If you can be bribed for a dime, you'd better!', chuckled the Texan, 'That Ricoro is sold in every United store from the Rio Grande to Canada for 10 cents!'

" 'Ten Cents!', repeated Magistrate Smith, 'say, if you're as good a judge on the bench as you are at the cigar counter, you'll be the next Chief Justice of the Supreme Court! Case dismissed!' "

Sooner or later, you'll discover Ricoro—and you'll discover that a cigar can be good without being expensive. Ricoro is imported from Porto Rico duty free—so you can enjoy its rare tropic balminess at the price you have been paying for ordinary domestic cigars. A dozen shapes and sizes—8c to 3-for-50c. Sold only in United Cigar Stores. "Thank You!"

Mona Bates, Pianist, Makes Debut.

Mona Bates, a young Canadian pianist, gave her first New York recital last evening at Aeolian Hall, supplementing a classic program with such modern pieces as Dohnanyi's F sharp minor rhapsody, MacDowell's "Hungarian," Grovlez's "Impressions of London," and Debussy's "Minstrels." The newcomer was most interesting in these novelties or semi-novelties; she, however, braved more searching comparisons with much success in Beethoven's "Waldstein" sonata and slighter work of Scarlatti, Gluck, Chopin, Weber, and Liszt. A friendly audience greeted Miss Bates with frequent and hearty applause.

Yvette Guilbert's Pupils Act Satire.

Yvette Guilbert directed a special matinee at the Thirty-ninth Street Theatre yesterday, when students of her school appeared in a quaint satire of the Middle Ages, entitled "King Stomach, or Strife Between the Tongue, the Members of the Human Body and the Belly," with text in English translation by William Van Wyck. Geoffrey Stein acted the title rôle of King Stomach, with Ludmilla Toretzka as the Tongue, Constance Morgenstern as the Player and Edith Williams as Death, among some twenty parts. There followed "The Grocery," from Amy Lowell's "Men, Women and Ghosts," and some of Mme. Guilbert's more familiar repertory of French poems, dances and songs.

Marshall Hall and Margit Leeras.

Marshall Hall, who danced Prince Dodon in the Metropolitan "Coq d'Or," with Margit Leeras, who was the Spanish Gypsy in the Chicago company's "Birthday of the Infanta," appeared in a mixed program of music and dancing at the Harris Theatre yesterday afternoon. They were assisted in various ensembles by Martha Hawley, Peggie Price, and Dulcie Hall, and in vocal and instrumental solos by Helen Stovér, Marie Mikova, Bertha Baret, and several more. Among Mr. Hall's numbers were Loomis's "Arapaho Crazy Dancer," Skilton's "Inca Medicine Man," Leo Ornstein's "The Martian," and a finale of Struss's airs in "The Lost Atlantis."

Caruso Sings Samson for Last Time.

Caruso sang to another great audience at the Metropolitan last evening, when "Samson and Delila" reached its final hearing in the season that will close two weeks from today. Mme. Matzenauer, Messrs. Amato, Rothier, Ananian and others were in the cast. Miss Ogden led the spectacular dances and Mr. Wolff conducted Saint Saens's musical score. The performance was received with enthusiasm and it was remarked as a coincidence that the Biblical opera should be sung on the same night as "The Pilgrim's Progress," the last scheduled novelty of the concert season in New York.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

"The Passion Flower" will continue at the Belmont Theatre until late in May.

A new comedy, entitled "Wait Till We're Married" will be produced in Los Angeles soon by Oliver Morosco.

A. H. Woods has acquired "Moonshine," a play by Mr. and Mrs. Preston Gibson.

Miss Sydney Thompson will give a program of plays and ballads at the Princess Theatre next Monday afternoon.

Thurston Hall will head a stock company which will open at the Prospect Theatre in Cleveland on April 26, and which will try out several new plays during the Summer. Among these will be "The Broken Wing," by Paul Dickey and Charles Goddard, and plays by Charles T. Dazey, Robert McKay and Mr. Hall.

Cap and Bells, the Williams College dramatic club, will present "Stop Thief!" at the Hotel Astor next Monday night.

MUSIC NOTES.

Emma R. Steiner, a composer of light operas, will conduct her own music at the Morosco Theatre on Sunday evening, April 18, at a benefit for Barbara Frietchie Post, No. 43, American Legion.

Eva Didur, daughter of the Metropolitan basso, has just made a successful debut as Mimi in "La Boheme" at the Dal Verme Opera in Milan.

The Zimro Chamber Music Ensemble will give a concert on Saturday evening, April 17, in the auditorium of the Wadleigh High School.

MUSIC

By Richard Aldrich

"The Pilgram's Progress" at Festival.

The most extensive new work on the program of the music festival of the Oratorio Society was performed at the third concert given last evening in the Seventy-first Regiment Armory. It was Edgar Stillman Kelley's "Pilgrim's Progress," which he calls a "musical miracle play." It is a recent production of the composer and was given last evening for the first time in New York. But it has been performed before at the Cincinnati Musical Festival. Large choral forces were again utilized for this performance, including a chorus of children. Eight solo singers are also required.

The text was prepared by Mrs. William Hodgkinson, on the basis, of course, of John Bunyan's book, but perhaps necessarily without much of the great writer's text. It need hardly be said that Mrs. Hodgkinson's lines do not equal the tinker's English in strength, beauty or distinction. She has selected seven episodes of the narrative for treatment: "The City of Destruction," with Christian's departure; "The Wicket Gate," "The Valley of Humiliation," with Apollyon's attack; "Vanity Fair," "The Delectable Mountains," which section was omitted in last night's performance; "The Crossing of the River," and "The Celestial City."

Mr. Kelley has composed the work as Saint-Saëns composed his "Samson et Dalila," with one eye on the oratorio platform and the other on the operatic stage. It would be difficult to imagine it, however, successfully appearing in dramatic form. There are, nevertheless, several dramatic and picturesque episodes that suggest action and dancing and scenic surroundings; as in the "Vanity Fair" section, where there is the lively chatter of the vendors—and nothing can establish a work as truly operatic more certainly than a chorus with things to sell—dances of various nationalities; the Atheist's speeches and his hollow theatrical laughter.

As for Mr. Kelley's music, it gives strongly the impression that he has done better things than this, and that he was seldom visited by an inspiration at all on a level with that which descended upon Bedford jail. There are impressive passages in the prologue, in the Dreamer's announcement, in Christian's lament, in the Chorus of Doom.

It seems, however, as if Mr. Kelley were more intent upon utilizing the opportunities of picturesque or animated treatment that his librettist offered him than of developing in music the higher spiritual significance of a book that is essentially spiritual.

Even on the plane which he has chosen he has hardly reached the success that has been deservedly gained by the best of his previous productions. In "The Pilgrim's Progress" his musical invention is not great. Some of the choruses are distinctly commonplace, even those of a higher intention; as those of the Voices of Doom and of the Celestial Voices in the first section. The choruses of the Fiends strive for effect in forms conventionally dedicated to fiends. There are pleasing choruses in the scenes of "Vanity Fair," including the waltz of the German dancers, and some rich effects in choral writing. The Voices of the Spirit have a fine passage in the chorus "Love Not the World." The contrasts here and elsewhere are of course intentional; but it seems hardly necessary to make one term of the contrast approach so near to comic opera.

Nor have the solo singers often much that is highly conceived or gratefully vocal to sing or declaim. One of the most spontaneous is the song of Mme. Bubble. The musical invention here, too, is often at fault. In his orchestration Mr. Kelley has used elaborate means and frequently gained rich and expressive effects; nor has he hesitated at the bizarre when he required the effect. Here is indeed to be found one of the most effective features of the composition.

The performance of the big chorus was by no means equal to its achievements in the first night's "Elijah," in regard to their security in the music, their firmness of attack, variety of shading or the volume of tone. There was a quality of pleasing tone in the big choir of children.

The eight soloists were almost all well fitted for their tasks. Miss Mabel Garrison, though announced to take the part of the Angel, did not do so, and in her place Miss Vera Curtis of the Metropolitan company sang the music well at short notice. The part of the First Shepherd was, at Mr. Kelley's desire, taken by Master Edvel, a boy soprano, instead of by Mme. Sundelius, as originally announced. He seemed to be considerably shaken by a sense of his responsibilities and a naturally fine boy's voice was evidently not heard at its best. Mr. Reinald Werrenrath sang the music of Christian with admirable clearness and finish of phrase, but with a certain coldness.

Mr. Charles T. Tittman displayed admirable fervor as The Dreamer, and suitable qualities as Mr. Moneylove, and Mr. Lambert Murphy sang with great beauty as the Evangelist and laughed with bitter mockery as the Atheist. Mr. Royal Dadmun, Frederick Patton and Miss Julia Claussen—effective as Mme. Bubble—were all excellent.

There was abundant applause, and after the end of the "Vanity Fair" section Mr. Kelley appeared upon the platform, was warmly greeted and was presented with a wreath.

Miss Nevada Van der Veer's Recital.

Miss Nevada Van der Veer, well known and highly esteemed as an oratorio singer, gave a song recital yesterday afternoon in Aeolian Hall that was largely attended. It was the first she has given by herself. Miss Van der Veer's voice is a "mezzo contralto" of volume, power and a quality at once of beauty, richness and penetration. Her remarkable breath control was to be noted yesterday in her delivery of long and well rounded phrases, and her diction, especially in English, was of praiseworthy clearness. Her singing was intelligent and artistic and was especially good in music in the field she has made more particularly her own, that of the oratorio and cantata.

The first three numbers of her program were of such music: The aries "Et exsultant spiritus meus," from Bach's setting of the "Magnificat"; "He shall feed his flock," from Handel's "Messiah," and "People Victorious," from Horatio Parker's "Hora Novissima." She sang these with real distinction and authority. In the Bach air she managed the somewhat awkward phrases that occur in it with skill.

She was undoubtedly somewhat more at home in these than in the songs which follow, though the beauty of voice and the musical intelligence she possesses gave her performance a high value. There was a group of Russian songs, including a characteristically gloomy air from Tschaikovsky's "Pique Dame," and the "Eli, Eli" lamentation in Mr. Schindler's setting, that bids fair to become popular. A group of French songs, a series of four from Cadman's cycle, "Birds of Flame," a setting by Cyril Scott of two Chinese poems, and others by Strickland and Fay Foster made up her list.

Will Present a Jerome Comedy and Kalman Operetta.

Marc Klaw and his sons, Joseph and Alonzo Klaw, have organized the Marc Klaw Corporation for the production of plays, and will open offices in New York in June. They are planning the presentation of a comedy by Jerome K. Jerome and of the Emmerich Kalman operetta, "The Girl from Holland." "Mrs. Jimmie Thompson," the production of Joseph Klaw individually, is now being presented at the Princess.

The dissolution of the firm of Klaw & Erlanger, Mr. Klaw declared, is continuing slowly, and Mr. Klaw still holds many poperties in common with Mr. Erlanger. Among these are the New York, New Amsterdam, Liberty, Knickerbocker, Henry Miller and Gaiety theatres in New York, and the Illinois, Olympic, Blackstone and Colonial in Chicago. In addition, he has an interest in a number of attractions now touring the Klaw & Erlanger houses.

Vroom Acts Shylock and Petruchio.

Edward Vroom gave the second of his special matinées at the Selwyn Theatre yesterday, when he appeared as Shylock and as Petruchio in abbreviated versions of "The Merchant of Venice" and "The Taming of the Shrew." Prominent in his support were Charles A. Stevenson, Gwladys Morris, and Charles Webster.

Milk is the food of children and old people. Combined with cereals it makes the ideal ration—but if your stomach does not take kindly to milk pour a little hot water over two Shredded Wheat Biscuits, put a small chunk of butter on each Biscuit, allowing it to melt into the shreds. If you like the Biscuit "dry" split it into two halves and crisp them in the oven and eat them with butter—a real whole wheat toast, wholesome and nourishing.

EAVESDROPPING

This letter came to our office the other day:

". . . . in the smoker of a Pullman between Omaha and Kansas City. One was just back from New York, and he had plenty to say about prices. Then they got to talking about shows. I heard this fellow say: 'Well, she wanted to see so-and-so, and I expected to get properly stuck. Honestly, I didn't think it was possible to get two seats in the fifth row, and pay only fifty cents premium.' The other one said: 'Where'd you go?' 'Place called McBride's, on Times Square' the first man said.' . . ."

That letter was only a straw in the wind. But it pleased us, not only because we satisfied him with a service and service fee which has been standard for 46 years, but because it is typical of a situation which brings people from all over the world across our threshold.

Mayor Says Measure Is "Simply Another Method of Grabbing Port of New York."

GETS COPY OF COMPACT

Estimate Board Will Consider This and Teachers' Pay Rise at Public Hearing Monday.

The Board of Estimate will hold a special meeting on Monday to take up a number of subjects that could not be settled yesterday. It will hold a public hearing on the Port Treaty bill now before the Legislature for final passage, and it will take up the matter of an agreement between the city and Receiver Jacob Brenner of the Staten Island Midland Railroad, which the city hopes to take over and operate. It will also consider the application of President Anning S. Prall of the Board of Education for $6,300,000 to increase the salaries of teachers in the lower grade classes of the public schools.

The proposed compact described in the report of the New York-New Jersey Port and Harbor Development Commission was received yesterday from the commission, as was the bill now before the Legislature putting the compact into effect. Two weeks ago the commissioners of the Sinking Fund condemned the proposed bill and requested the Legislature not to pass it. In the discussion of the bill yesterday the Mayor denounced it as "the greatest deal ever attempted to be put over on the city It's simply another method of grabbing the Port of New York."

"In 1917," continued the Mayor, "the Legislature gave the city the wonderful Public Service Commission, which gave the interests power to grab the streets of the city. This Port of New York bill is another grab, and soon there will be nothing left for the city but debts."

It was decided to hold a public hearing on the matter on Monday at 11 o'clock, and invite the city members of the Legislature to be present.

Referring to the bill now before the Legislature to raise the pay of the teachers, Mayor Hylan said: "I don't think that the people of this city should have to pay 70 per cent. of the pay of up-State teachers. That is really what it amounts to. The people are willing to take care of their own teachers, but don't want to pay, and should not be made to pay, the greater amount of the salaries of the up-State teachers."

President Prall said that the $6,300,000 requested would provide 13,000 teachers of lower grades with proper salaries and he thought there would be no trouble then in getting new teachers and holding the teachers now in service.

Borough President Henry H. Curran of Manhattan offered a resolution to amend the rules of the board so that all matters reported to the board and referred to a committee must be reported out of committee within seventy days, or that the Secretary be instructed to place it on the calendar. The matter was referred to the Committee of the Whole after the Controller tried hard to defeat it.

"What is the purpose of the amendment?" the Manhattan President was asked.

"To prevent the Controller from burying things in his office," Mr. Curran replied. The Controller replied that nothing was buried.

"Oh, yes, there are things buried," said Curran. "I tried for more than a week to get the resolution appointing you a committee of one on the new courthouse from your office."

"I wish now I had locked the office when I knew you were coming," said the Controller.

"They are both good men," broke in the Mayor, seeing a fight coming.

"Don't put me in his class," objected Curran. "I wouldn't call him a man at all."

"They're off," shouted President Connolly of Queens, but the scrap ended when Borough President Riegelmann of Brooklyn suggested that the resolution be put over for two weeks.

TO DIG FOR BURIED BOOTY.

Stolen Securities Worth $150,000 Sought at Ridgefield Park.

Failing in two attempts to find $150,000 worth of stolen securities in the Hudson River off Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Streets, Manhattan, where one of the thieves said he threw them after robbing four mail pouches four years ago, the Federal authorities of New Jersey are preparing an expedition to seek the lost treasure in the little borough of Ridgefield Park, N. J., where it is now believed it is buried.

The attempt to recover the stolen securities, which were part of the $700,000 loot obtained by three man who robbed a mail wagon on a ferryboat, February 26, 1916, became known yesterday when three prisoners, Thomas Benson and Louis Windler of New York and Edward J. Quigley of Ridgefield Park, were held in $10,000 bail by United States Commissioner Matthews on a charge of conspiring to conceal the stolen securities in Ridgefield Park, N. J.

Benson and Windler were brought back from the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, where they had completed four years of a five-year sentence for stealing the mail pouches. Quigley testified for the Government at the Benson and Windler trials and was sentenced to two years in the Federal penitentiary. When he was released in 1918, he was rearrested on the conspiracy charge, but paroled to report periodically to the United States Marshal at New York. All three were rearrested in an effort to get from them the $150,000 worth of securities that have not been recovered.

After the men had been sent to Atlanta, Benson told postal inspectors that he had thrown one pouch with the securities into the Hudson River off Forty-sixth Street, but divers were unable to locate it; and then Benson said he was mistaken, that it was off Forty-seventh Street, and he offered to dive for the pouch himself. His offer was refused and professional divers were employed again. Their efforts were unsuccessful.

Craig Contempt Order Affirmed.

The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, in Brooklyn, yesterday affirmed the order of Justice David Manning adjudging Controller Charles L. Craig guilty of contempt of court in issuing corporate stock certificates to pay the expenses of the Public Service Commission after an injunction restraining him from doing so had been obtained by William Jay Schieffelin of the Citizens Union. In Justice Manning's decision Mr. Craig was directed to pay a fine of $250 and costs of $824.38. The prevailing opinion was written by Justice Putnam and concurred in by Justices Rich, Blackmar and Kelly. Justice Mills wrote a dissenting opinion.

Benson to Get Catholic Order.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Rear Admiral William S. Benson, former Chief of Operations of the Navy, now Chairman of the Shipping Board, will be decorated with the Ooder of St. Gregory the Great, military class, at Baltimore on Sunday by Cardinal Gibbons, in the name of Pope Benedict XV. This is the highest degree bestowed by the Vatican, and Admiral Benson will be the first American citizen to receive it.

FIRE KILLS TWO WOMEN.

One Leaps to Death, Another Dies of Burns.

One woman was killed by a leap from a fourth-story window ledge, burns killed another and two others were burned severely in an early morning fire yesterday in the home of Dr. Isaiah N. Wheeler, a dentist, at 60 West Fifty-first Street. Firemen who formed a "human chain" and another who made his way through sheets of flame while his companions played a stream of water on him prevented greater loss of life.

Mary McGirk, a cook, jumped while the firemen from the roof of an adjoining house were rescuing Hannah Lyons, an office girl, from a ledge beside her. The girl was burned badly about the hands.

Mrs. Agnes Wheeler, wife of the dentist, who fled from her bedroom on the third floor to the fourth when she found escape down the stairway cut off, fell unconscious in one of the upper rooms. She was burned so badly about the body that she died last night in Bellevue Hospital. She would have been incinerated as she lay unconscious had it not been for Lieutenant McCune of Hook and Ladder 2. Satisfied that not all the occupants had escaped, McCune was fighting his way through the building when he was halted by a wall of flame. Firemen Fizpatrick and O'Reilly found him, baffled, on the third floor when they got there with a hose.

McCune directed the two men to turn their stream directly upon him. Thus shielded, he plunged straight through the fire, scrambled up the stairway, and carried Mrs. Wheeler down.

Alice Ward, a domestic, who occupied a room on the fourth floor with Hannah Lyons, discovered the fire just before 4 o'clock. It had started on the ground floor and had swept up the stairways. She got to the roof of 62, but the Lyons girl was cut off by flames. She ran screaming to a window and her cries awoke Dr. Wheeler and his wife. Dr. Wheeler made for a front window, but his wife dashed for the roof and he was unable to follow her.

Before the first apparatus came Dr. Wheeler was forced to climb to a window ledge. There he clung until a ladder could be pushed up to him.

Fireman Philip Fitzpatrick, driver for Acting Battalion Chief Kelly, went to the roof of 62 with Fireman James O'Reilly of Engine Company 65. While O'Reilly held his feet Fitzpatrick stretched himself across the four-foot gap between the two buildings, reached down and pulled Miss Lyons to the roof.

Fireman James J. Walsh, driver of the car of Battalion Chief Edward Cook, rescued Charles Kelly from a fourth floor window ledge with the assistance of John Meehan, Carl Haller and George F. Trobert, who had rooms in the building.

The fire did damage estimated at $10,000. Its cause was not determined.

WOMEN PICKETS GO TO JAIL.

Two Refuse to Accept Release Under Bond—Third Gets Freedom.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Refusing to accept their release under bond offered by counsel, two of the pro-Irish pickets arrested yesterday for picketing the British Embassy, Misses Mary Galvin of Philadelphia and Maura Quinn of Jamaica Plains, Mass., today were committed to jail after a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Richardson.

The third of the trio arrested, Miss Katherine McKeon of Philadelphia, gave bond in the sum of $1,000 and was released until Monday, when the cases of the seven women thus far arrested will be called.

Picketing of the embassy was not resumed today, headquarters of the picketers announcing that they planned to transfer the scene of their protests to the Treasury Department.

HEDGES STARTS SUIT TO STOP CITY BUSES

Receiver of New York Surface Roads Gets Temporary Order Restraining Operation.

SIX LINES ARE AFFECTED

Chief of Plant and Structures Confident Bill Giving Power to City Will Be Passed.

The expected suit of Job E. Hedges, receiver of the New York Railways Company, to restrain buses from operating in competition with the company's trolley lines, was instituted yesterday in the Supreme Court. An order directing the city to show cause on April 14 why the buses should not be ousted from the streets pending the trial of the action was issued by Justice Gavegan.

While the complaint specifically mentions the bus lines traversing the routes of the Eighth and Fourteenth Streets crosstown lines, all of the six bus lines, on which 100 buses are running, will be restrained if the suit is won. Grover A. Whalen, Superintendent of Plant and Structures, who established the bus lines by order of the Board of Estimate, said he was not alarmed at the action, because he was certain the bill pending in Albany to authorize the city to own and operate buses would be enacted into law. He also said there are nineteen bus lines running in the city and that 340 buses are used in the work.

Mr. Hedges's complaint is directed against Mayor Hylan, members of the Board of Estimate, Mr. Whalen and eighty-seven owners of buses. It states that because of the alleged illegal operation of the buses the plaintiff loses not less than $1,000 every weekday in passenger receipts, that the buses prevent the safe and proper operation of the car lines and the rendering of comfortable and convenient public service. The complaint describes the "special damages" suffered by the plaintiff.

Mr. Hedges states that three of the car lines leased by the New York Railways Company have been returned to their owners because of the non-payment of rent, and that the system left in his hands does not earn sufficient to pay operating charges and taxes.

An affidavit by Frank D. Edmunds, claim agent of the New York Railways Company, contains a record of forty-two accidents from March 7 to 31, inclusive, on the routes of the Seventh Avenue-Delancey Street, the Eighth Street and the Fourteenth Street lines, in which the cars of the plaintiff were injured through collisions with the buses.

A similar suit, it was said, will be begun by the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company. Jackson A. Dykman, of counsel for the Brooklyn City Railway Company, asked the Appellate Division in Brooklyn yesterday for an order directing Mr. Whalen to furnish a bond in $50,000 to indemnify the company personally for loss in case it won the suit to oust the buses which run in competition with the company's trolley lines. Decision was reserved.

BUSINESS NOTES.

The next regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Associated Retail Credit Men of New York City, Inc., will be held at 8 P. M. on Wednesday next at the office of the association, 636 Fifth Avenue.

A policy has been adopted by Kirby, Block & Fischer, resident buyers, 352 Fourth Avenue, through which they will send their head buyers from time to time to visit the various stores represented by them in this market. The purpose is to bring the members of the organization into the closest possible touch with the customers, and thereby learn at first hand all about the stores represented. In this way they will have the chance of acquainting themselves with the class of merchandise carried in the various departments of these stores. Mr. Kirby is now away on a long trip for this purpose, having recently visited the M. Rich & Bros. Dry Goods Company of Atlanta, Ga.

Printcloths Have Good Day.

Buyers of gray goods in this market continued to devote most of their attention to printcloths yesterday. Not a large volume of business was done, but among the sales were May-June lots of 27-inch 64-60s at 16½ cents. The wide 64-60s brought 25¼ cents for April and 25 cents for June and July. May deliveries of 39-inch 72-76s were sold at 30 cents, and buyers paid 27 cents for similar shipments of 39-inch 68-72s. Trading in other parts of the market lacked snap and feature.

Preparing Spring Lines.

The sample lines being prepared by the woolen mills for next Spring give promise of playing up novelty and fancy effects more prominently than since the war. Owing to the difficulties of production as well as the shortage of desired materials, the Fall lines provided very little outside of staples. For next Spring, however, stripes and neat plaids in all their pre-war variety are expected to be favorites. Nothing spectacular is promised in either designs or colors. The trend seems to be along the line of preparing neat, rich effects in hairline stripes, arranged in both regular and group patterns.

The Forcing Down Process.

The full effect of the "forcing down" process, as one retail representative described it, has yet to be felt in the wholesale trades that have witnessed some price cutting competition. Once the merchandise bought under the market appears on the retail counters in full array, he said, the manufacturers who have so far been able to maintain their prices will find the real test has come. The way he explained it was that a store, offered competition from a rival who had bought reduced merchandise, would call upon its wholesale sources of supply for special values to meet the challenge. The wholesaler would then be faced with the problem of obliging his customer or possibly losing a good account.

Defining What Is Necessary.

The application of the Lever act to profiteering would be cleared up considerably for merchants, it is said, if a clear definition was established of what is meant by "necessities." According to one student of the question, even the most unscrupulous dealer would not take unwarranted profits on necessities if he knew just what was included in that group. With the whole field of unnecessary things open to exploitation, it is not logical to presume, he said, that a profiteer of the first water would want to take chances with a clearly defined law. So far, the official attitude has intimated that larger profit margins can be taken on the luxurious merchandise if only prices on staples are kept within reasonable limits, but "necessities" still seem to require definition.

Ready for Film Circuit.

In order to present the history of the merchandise they sell to store employes in the most graphic manner and also as entertainingly as possible, the National Retail Dry Goods Association has inaugurated a film service for members. A number of manufacturers have had films made showing the various processes through which their products pass, from the raw material to the finished article, and many of these have been made available for the use of the store organization. A list of the films has been drawn up and will be sent to members so that bookings may be made of the films desired. The members have been furnished with data gathered by the association on the types of projecting machines best adapted for display purposes.

Openings of Fall Clothing.

The Rochester clothing market has announced a combined opening of Fall goods for April 19, and openings in other markets will be held generally about that time. Despite the uncertainty regarding wage contracts which terminate on June 1, the manufacturers will operate on established and not "open" prices. In the local trade there are heard rumors of wage increases to be sought by cutters and perhaps by other branches of the industry, but in the main these are regarded as "feelers" to test out how employers might regard such requests. As the clothing workers have been described as the third highest paid labor in the country, the manufacturers feel themselves well fortified to resist further demands. From the merchandise standpoint the outcome of business on overcoats is considered the most puzzling to figure, owing to the stocks which flooded the market last Winter and also the progress being made by importers of English lines.

Tie-Back Surplices Wanted.

One of the features of the call for women's novelty sweaters at the present time is the demand that has sprung up in the last week or so for tie-back surplice effects. The models wanted are for Summer wear, and prompt deliveries are being asked for. The largest demand is for sweaters made from fine, sheer zephyr wool, the kind that would retail at $5 and up, but some of the buyers are also asking for surplice effects in fibre silks. The latter goods would sell at retail around $7.50 and up, and the call for them is expected to grow as the weather gets warmer. The sweaters in question are rather plain in general effect, and are sought in solid colors. One of the unusual things about the color demand is the proportion of blacks asked for. Navy blue also is strong, with turquoise and peacock blues and buff following. A large business in knitted smocks also is told of.

Several Things Will Do It.

Apropos the assertion of a trade authority that the coming of warmer weather would bring with it a general resumption of the consumer demand for silk shirts, another manufacturer said yesterday that there are other factors that would work to the same end. "Many of the men who wear silk shirts," he said, "are unmarried. Now, it is just as true that the average single young man dresses for the girls as that the average young woman dresses for the sterner sex. The consequence is that when a young chap wearing a madras shirt finds himself in mixed company, and sees that the other fellows have on silk shirts, he feels that he is being regarded by the girls as an 'also ran,' and decides to get into the running as soon afterward as he can. Another thing that would make the silk shirt business even better than it is would be the granting of the proposed war service bonuses. Present three or four million young men with amounts varying from about $100 to $1,000 and the silk shirt business is bound to feel good effects from it."

To Correct Dress Models.

Because it is estimated that at least 5 per cent. of the volume of business done by women's garment manufacturers must be charged off to alterations under the present mehtods of making this merchandise, a considerable saving for them, as well as for the retailers and the public, is expected to result from the recommendations of a committee appointed for the purpose by the Associated Dress Industries of America for a scientific system of measurement which will produce garments to fit the majority of American women with a minimum of change. The committee will report in the near future. Discussing the matter yesterday, Executive Director David N. Mosessohn said that alterations are the bane of the garment industry. "They cause dissatisfaction and higher prices to the consumer," he asserted, "as well as needless delays. The retailer is required to maintain a large staff of workers, at a considerable expense, to make necessary changes, and it is the desire of the association to do everything possible to eliminate or curtail this expense."

Glad to work at Hopewell even for less wages

American male and female labor is plentiful at Hopewell because of low cost of living and healthful environment

Jim Todd worked at Hopewell, Virginia, during the war. Later he wanted to come back. He wrote an imploring letter asking us to place him. His registration card called for 75 cents an hour. We found that other men of his trade were receiving 60 cents an hour and advised him of the fact. We received his reply by wire cutting down his rate to the level of the others. He wanted to come back to Hopewell because he had been there and had tasted of its advantages.

Men and women like to live as well as work at Hopewell. That's why industries at Hopewell never lack efficient, loyal, unspoiled labor.

Hopewell labor sticks to Hopewell industries because:

- Housing conditions are ideal.
- Homes with gardens and modern improvements rent for $11 to $15 a month, or they can be bought at low prices and on easy terms.
- The pay envelope goes further at Hopewell.
- Food is sold in a community store on the cost-plus basis.
- Fuel and clothes cost less than in most cities.
- Recreation facilities are superb.
- The climate is mild and healthful.

These are also the reasons why thousands of workers employed at Hopewell during the war want to return and settle there permanently—why they prefer to work at Hopewell for lower wages than in other industrial communities.

Now, Mr. Manufacturer, don't you think this is a good atmosphere in which to locate your plant? You can see the double advantage of satisfied labor—bigger and cheaper production.

Besides the advantage of loyal, unspoiled labor, Hopewell offers to manufacturers:

- Low-priced power.
- Abundance of purest water.
- Rail and water transportation, direct and economical.
- No harmful municipal restrictions.
- Factory buildings ready for occupancy.
- Factory sites with railroad sidings.

Progressive manufacturers, in varied lines of industry, from different parts of the country, have established plants at Hopewell. Others come to Hopewell daily to investigate.

Our advice is, investigate Hopewell now. You may be too late if you delay. The choice opportunities go to the earliest inquirers.

Write, phone or wire today. We will be glad to have one of our experts, familiar with your industry, explain how Hopewell can benefit you.

One of the largest and best equipped technical staffs in the world is at the disposal of Hopewell industries.

COMMODITIES PRICES.

More Numerous Advances Were Shown in Certain Classes.

Although the advances shown in Dun's list of wholesale commodities prices this week outnumbered the declines by more than two to one, the rise was not so general as might be supposed. Fifty-three of the seventy-eight changes were upward this week, against thirty-eight advances in seventy-two revisions last week, but thirty-eight of them were confined to the foodstuffs and to the combined list for drugs, chemicals, dyestuffs and oils. In no one of the other various sub-divisions of the list were there more than six revisions shown.

The following list gives the minimum wholesale prices quoted on selected standard commodities this week. They are corrected to yesterday, and with them are given comparative prices for last week and the corresponding week a year ago:

Of the twenty-five changes in the foodstuffs, seventeen were advances. In the local market for provisions the price of Spring patent flour went up 25 cents a barrel, to $13, as compared with $11.60 at this time last year. Winter straights went up 20 cents a barrel, to $11, against $11.25 in 1919. Bacon was higher here. At Chicago the advances in provisions took place in mess pork and Middle Western lard. The live meats and short ribs did not change.

The feature of the local dairy products market was a break of 9 cents a dozen in fancy nearby eggs, which brought the price down to the level which prevailed at this time last year. The best Western eggs, on the other hand, went up a cent, but they, too, are priced at the corresponding 1919 level. There was a very slight break in the price of the best cheese, but the under grades were a cent a pound higher. Creamery butter, extra, went up 2½ cents, but the other varieties did not change.

The fresh fruits contributed a rise of $1.50 a barrel in fancy apples, while the dried ones showed advances in orange and lemon peel and declines in apricots, cleaned currants, peaches and prunes. A drop of $2 a barrel in cabbage and a rise of $1 a barrel in potatoes featured the week's transactions in vegetables. Potatoes now stand at $11.50 a barrel, compared with $4.65 at this time in 1919. Choice marrow beans advanced.

The teas continued without change, and in coffees the only revision was a rise in No. 7 Rio. The best raw sugar continued to advance, and fine granulated went up $1 a hundred pounds. The price of the former, however, is $1.04 a hundred higher than that of the refined sugar. A rise in Cochin ginger and a drop in black Singapore pepper completed the changes in the spice list. The grains showed advances in oats, corn, rye, malting barley and prime timothy hay, but long rye straw was cheaper.

In the combined list for drugs, chemicals, dyestuffs and oils there were twenty-four revisions, of which only three were downward. One of these was in foreign refined camphor. The leather list was quotably unchanged, while in the hides an advance in Colorado stock contrasted with declines in No. 1 heavy cows, No. 1 buffs, No. 1 kips and No. 1 calfskins. Metals changes were fewer than for several weeks. Electrolytic copper was higher, but declines were seen in spelter and tin. The best Brazilian crude rubber went up, while the choicest Eastern rubber declined.

Lower prices for raw silk were the rule at Yokohama. Burley tobacco contributed three declines to the changes in the general list. Miscellaneous advances were shown by turpentine, English vermilion paint and news roll, but tallow went down. The price tendency in the cotton goods was stronger, although the rise was confined chiefly to gray goods. Burlaps prices were steadier, more particularly on lightweights.

Coal Deliveries Curtailed.

Deliveries of anthracite coal to retailers in Greater New York have been seriously curtailed this week by idleness at the mines and the labor strikes, Saward's Journal will say today. With few exceptions, the collieries were closed during the first four days of the month while the miners celebrated eight-hour day, Good Friday and Easter Monday, besides taking Saturday off. This meant two-thirds of a week's production lost at a time when there was an urgent demand for all the domestic sizes and some of the steam sizes. The soft coal market remains in a feverish condition, with spot prices ranging from $4.25 to $5. Early in the week, before embargoes were placed against local ports on account of the tugboat strike, there was practically nothing to be had in the region under $4.50, but the embargoes have forced some operators to seek line orders at slight concessions.

FINANCIAL MARKETS

Stocks Recede as Call Money Goes to 10 Per Cent.—New Financing.

The stock market was disturbed yesterday by the spread of the strike activities of insurgent railway workers, and an abrupt advance of call money from 6 to 10 per cent. tended to further realizing sales and the putting out of sales for the short account. While the broad trend of industrial and railway shares was downward, there were, nevertheless, decidedly strong spots representative of particular influences. These were demonstrated especially among railroad equipment shares, influenced by evidence of substantial purchases of new cars and locomotives by the carriers, and in the sugar stock group. The steady rise of raw sugar in recent days has not gone unnoticed by speculators. In the last quarter-hour of dealings the scarcity of call funds for late borrowers resulted in extensive sales of stocks. Strike news is usually of slight effect upon speculative operations, and for this reason it would be reasonable to suppose that the walkout of switchmen at many railway centres acted primarily to hasten, and not cause, much profit taking by buyers of stocks earlier in the week.

The stiffness of demand loan rates doubtless had connection with the week's heavy new financing, full details of which have not yet come to light. Time funds, which were in somewhat freer supply Thursday than before, were steady around 8½ per cent., with offerings meagre. Whatever the direct influence upon collateral loans of new security offerings, it was clear enough that issues of high-grade railroad paper at 7 per cent. bore down upon quotations for existing railroad bonds. Listed 6 per cent. bonds were heavy, though not as weak as the day before, and the readjustment of the cost of investment money to a higher level found expression in declines of 4 and 4½ per cent. railroad issues. Standard railway stocks, of long dividend record, also receded, a movement natural enough in the light of such pieces of financing as the recent Pennsylvania Railroad bond sale and yesterday's offering of $336,225,000 New York Central equipment trust notes. The Street realizes that before the carriers reach a point of full efficiency they must add largely to their facilities, and that presupposes continued sales of notes and bonds for some time to come, at costs to the borrowers greater, in all probability, than the present generation has seen. At the current week's pace it would not be surprising if fresh investment issues had a pronounced effect upon bank credit available for stock market purposes, as new securities, however attractive, cannot be absorbed immediately upon announcement to the public.

Another shipment of gold from London brought the aggregate of current imports up to about $48,000,000. The fairly steady rise of sterling—the check rate approached the $4 level again yesterday—has had effect upon the price of gold bullion at the British centre, the quotation of 102s. 7d. yesterday being the lowest of the year. Sterling eased off slightly from the top near the close of business, but trifling interest was attached to this recession as compared to that entailed in further marked weakness of francs and lire. At 15.85 for the former and 24.62 for the latter, the greatest depreciation of record was noted.

The Week in the Dry Goods Trade.

CHICAGO, April 9.—Marshall Field & Co. in their weekly review of the dry goods trade say:

"Owing to the diference in the Easter date, the current wholesale distribution of dry goods was somewhat less in volume than during the same week last year. There were corespondingly fewer customers in market. Orders from salesmen for immediate and Fall delivery were greater in volume than the same week a year ago. Collections continue most satisfactory."

EXCHANGE INQUIRES INTO NEW RYAN ISSUE

LIST OF DEALINGS IS ASKED

All Hope for Amicable Settlement of Stutz Controversy Is Abandoned.

The New York Stock Exchange yesterday indicated that it feared a corner in another so-called Ryan stock when a notice was sent to all Stock Exchange houses asking them to report immediately a full list of their dealings in Stromberg Carburetor of America, Inc., from April 5 to April 8. This was to include prices, the names of firms with which transactions were carried on and also the names of clients for whom sales or purchases were made. The investigation at this stage, however, it is understood, does not include odd lot transactions, but the exact position of each firm as of April 8 is to be submitted.

For several days it has been gossip in Wall Street that a corner might be brought about in another of the several "Ryan" issues and when Stromberg began to climb forward in a way that was reminiscent of the early days of the Stutz corner those who had been making the predictions pointed to the advance as proof of their forecasts. By some it was asserted that in bringing about another corner Allan A. Ryan would be pressing his case against the Stock Exchange by bringing further embarrassment to it. The small capitalization of Stromberg, it was held, could easily provide the groundwork for a corner. The outstanding capital is only 75,000 shares. It could not be learned yesterday whether the Stock Exchange was considering other investigations, but it is believed that such a course is not improbable.

A number of conferences regarding the Stutz corner were held yesterday, the special committee, headed by Charles A. Morse, being in consultation with the attorneys for the committee during a great part of the day. Mr. Morse announced the appointment of A. J. Miller of Boissevain & Co. and John W. Prentiss of Hornblower & Weeks to serve with him. In discussing the case Mr. Morse said:

"For me at this time to state the committee's plans would be premature. However, I will say this much: there is a corner in Stutz stock. We contend that the outstanding contracts to deliver stock, resulting from sales, are invalid. We propose to take this position in the courts. We are going to fight it out on these lines if it takes all summer." The statement "we are going to take this position in the courts" was construed to mean that all hope of amicable settlement between Allan A. Ryan & Co. and the shorts had been abandoned.

Henry Wollman, the corporation lawyer, who is representing several houses that are short of Stutz, went further into the legal aspect of the case than did Mr. Morse. He had this to say of the situation:

"When you go into court to sue for failure to deliver on contract, the measure of damage is what was the article worth on the day of delivery more than the party agreed to pay for it. Can you imagine that any court is going to hold that Stutz was worth more than the parties who bought it from the short sellers agreed to pay for it?

"Market price is only evidence of value. If the market represents the fair operation of the law of supply and demand, it proves value. But if the market is one that is made for the purpose of establishing value, it will not be accepted by the court as proving value.

"If I agree to sell you something that you already have, how are you damaged by my failure to deliver it to you? The courts are put there to legitimately compensate people for the legitimate losses actually sustained, but not for pretended losses. You cannot drive up value by cornering a market."

An advertisement appearing in some of the morning papers announcing that 100 shares of Stutz stock were for sale at $700 a share attracted much attention. Inquiry over the telephone at the number given in the advertisement brought forth the answer that the stock had been sold at $700 early yesterday morning.

Will Discuss Foreign Trade.

It has been officially announced that special group sessions devoted to the various aspects of the development of foreign trade will form a good part of the program planned for the Seventh National Foreign Trade Convention at San Francisco under the auspices of the National Foreign Trade Council. The convention will be in session from May 12 to 15, inclusive, and many features are planned to make the group discussions of particular interest.

DISAVOWS DISCRIMINATION.

Judge Gary Declares Steel Corporation Will Not Favor Foreign Ships.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Assurances that hereafter there will be no ground for complaint against United States Steel Corporation subsidiaries that American vessels were being discriminated against in shipment from the Pacific Coast were given to the Shipping Board today by Judge Gary of the Steel Corporation.

Chairman Benson of the board recently asked the officers of the Steel Products Company and the Illinois Steel Company if those concerns were discriminating against American vessels on the Pacific Coast because of the requirement that through bills of lading show freight charges on the water. Judge Gary's telegram said:

"My attention has been called to our subsidiaries, the Steel Products Company, and the Illinois Steel Company, asking if they are discriminating against American vessels in shipment from the Pacific Coast. I think our local officials have been laboring under a misapprehension. Please be assured we will not intentionally antagonize the statutory regulation and there will hereafter be no just ground for complaint."

WHITE PROFITS $479,936.

Management Believes Peak of Public Utility Crisis Has Passed.

The amalgamated balance sheet of the J. G. White Companies, as of Dec. 31, 1919, shows reductions in bills payable of $660,536 in loans secured by Liberty bonds of $360,005, and in accounts payable of $393,063, making the total reduction of the companies' current liabilities $1,413,605. Cash in hand and in banks was set down as reduced by $293,392, but there was an increase of Government and other marketable securities of $455,317 as compared with the preceding year.

Combined net profits of the companies were $479,936 before Federal taxes, which were approximately $50,000. After making tax adjustments to cover the preceding year there was transferred to the combined surplus account $303,936. The report states that the management of the company believes that the peak of the public utility crisis has been passed.

Urge Quarantine of Boll Worm Area

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Drastic quarantine of the cotton acreage in Texas and Louisiana infected by the pink boll worm was recommended today to Secretary Meredith by the Federal Horticultural board as the only means of preventing rapid spread of the crop pest. All or portions of nine counties in Texas and three parishes in Louisiana would be included in the area in which growing of cotton would be prohibited, with an additional "neutral zone" of from five to ten miles around these districts.

TOPICS IN WALL STREET.

Money Goes Up.

A sharp advance in call money rates on Friday afternoon usually occasions some apprehension as to the probable showing of the bank statements on Saturday, but yesterday, when the call rate moved up to 10 per cent., after having stood at 6 per cent. for almost the entire week, there was little of this. With approximately $30,000,000 gold in this week, and with the flow of funds still favoring this centre, there is little reason to be worried over the reserve position, unless, of course, loans have been permitted to expand greatly, and if that latter has happened, it has been done without supplying the usual manifestations. The $50,000,000 Pennsylvania and the $36,225,000 New York Central financing, together with the several smaller issues which have been put out, may make some difference in bank loans, and probably will, but there has been nothing to indicate that the loan position is at all strained.

The "Philadelphia Plan."

The New York Central equipment trust securities, according to announcement, have been issued under the "Philadelphia plan," but the Trustee of the equipment is the Guaranty Trust Company, a New York corporation, and, at least in the popular mind, one of the prime requisites of the Philadelphia plan is a Pennsylvania trustee. The benefit of having a Pennsylvania trustee is the saving of the "4-mill tax," but some lawyers have argued that this saving could be effected even with a foreign trustee. It will be interesting to see how the present case works out.

The Bank of France.

The advance in the Bank of France's discount rate—the first since 1914—was, apparently, designed to curb speculation on the Bourse and, at the same time, probably as part of the general French financial rehabilitation program, another feature of which has been the reduction of the Bank of France's outstanding currency. This latter item, however, increased some 170,000,000 francs, but is still about 1,000,000,000 francs under where it stood on March 11, the peak reached just before the French Government started reducing its indebtedness to the bank out of the proceeds of the recent loan. The latest increase, it may be, is accounted for by the increased activity of the army.

Lire and Marks.

While lire have been falling, marks have been rising, but there still is quite a spread not only in proportionate worth but in actual worth. At yesterday's quotation, Italian lire were valued at almost exactly 4 cents each in this market. German marks, on the other hand, were firm at 1¾ cents. In some circles it is predicted that marks will cross lire within a reasonably short time, and this does not necessarily imply that the Italian rate will fall much lower than it is at present.

The Rails and the Strike.

There was little indication in the market action of the railroad shares that the strike of railroad workers in the New Jersey terminals was interpreted as particularly unfavorable. The executives of most of the roads and the heads of the railroad brotherhoods are co-operating in fighting against the so-called outlaw organization, and while it is admitted that the disaffection has spread in the last few days, it is not expected to last indefinitely, as the strikers are strongly opposed. A great deal of weight is being given to the attitude of the public regarding further labor troubles. What that attitude will be in the present situation and what expression it will have is expected to have its effect on the situation.

Interior Money Not So High.

A correspondent writing from Pennsylvania takes issue with those who hold the belief that because money rates in New York are high they are necessarily high all over the country. He says: "In Cumberland County, which is a very fertile agricultural county, with a population of possibly 50,000, on April 5, a fairly typical day, there were $30,000 in mortgages recorded. Of these about $24,000 were at the rate of 5 per cent. and the balance at 6 per cent. They were on both farms and dwellings."

Market Softens at Close.

During most of yesterday the stock market failed to give serious heed to the spread of the railroad strike so that it interfered seriously with traffic conditions. Here and there specialties were bid up as much as 3 to 5 points, and the entire list displayed a degree of firmness that was rather unexpected, to say the least. That there was not entire disregard of outside conditions was shown in the final hour, when there were some heavy realizing sales to be absorbed. Furthermore, the money rate moved up to 10 per cent., which was something of a disturbnig factor to holders of long stock.

A Texas Company Well.

The Texas Company yesterday was reported to have brought in a 30,000-barrel well in the Chinampa field of Mexico. This was the first well that the company has completed since the Carranza decree against drilling was removed, several months ago. The Mexican subsidiary of the Texas Company is working on five other wells, four of them in the Panuco field and one in the Chinampa district, this latter being an offset of the Island Oil and Transport's 50,000-barrel well. The Mexican Petroleum Company is hurrying work on its wells, but it is understood that none of them will reach oil depth for about two months. By the middle of the Summer, however, new drilling shoud have accomplished a great deal, and unless all signs fail the output of Mexican crude will have increased greatly.

United States Steel.

The latter part of this month the quarterly earnings statement of the United States Steel Corporation will make its appearance, and there is a high degree of interest in the figures that will be shown. This will be the first statement by the corporation in which the increased wage scale that went into effect about the first of the year will find reflection. This increase in wages was just about sufficient to take up all earnings available for dividends last year had it been in force then. It is plain, then, that the earnings this year will have to measure up to a full 100 per cent. higher standard if the same percentage available for dividends is to be maintained. With higher prices being received for the corporation's products this year, since much of last year's business was at pre-war rates, the financial district seems to have little doubt that the corporation will reach the necessary level. In fact, not a few are predicting that an extra dividend wil be paid for the first quarter of this year.

The New Freight Rates.

The increase in railroad freight rates which is needed so badly by the carriers should be put into effect as soon as possible by the Interstate Commerce Commission, according to the majority opinion among railroad executives. February returns indicate that the roads failed to earn their taxes by $6,000,000 in that month, and in the first time in their history showed a net operating deficit of approximately $10,000,000. From the fragmentary repors received so far on the March returns the situation was not improved a great deal, although full returns later will probably compare favorably with February figures. But even though a big improvement is shown, it is evident that the relations between income and expenditure will continue to be unhealthy on the present rate basis. Generally railroad executives feel that the Interstate Commerce Commission will initiate new rates which will allow the roads to continue in business on a firm basis after the six months' guaranty period ends with Aug. 31, 1920.

STANDARD OF N. J. SEEKS $100,000,000

Second Preferred Stock Issue Expected in Financing Move by Oil Company.

CENTRAL ASKS $36,225,000

Certificates to Mature Serially, $2,415,000 Each Year, Until 1935.

Some additional details regarding proposed Standard Oil Company of New Jersey financing came to light yesterday. While the definite form this proposed financing is to take is understood still to be a matter of discussion between representatives of the company and the bankers, it is believed it will come as an issue of preferred stock, totaling $100,000,000, similar to the preferred stock the company issued last Fall.

A question has been raised as to whether the company had the right to issue new stock of the same status as the existing preferred. One authority on the subject said he knew of no reason why it should not. In other places, however, it was contended that if new stock were issued it would have to be in the nature of second preferred. One report in circulation said the new stock would be second preferred, convertible into common stock at some future date, but this was generally discredited.

As to the disposition of the proceeds of the financing, it is understood the Standard Oil Company is anxious to increase its working capital so as to be in stronger position either to acquire new oil producing lands or to purchase the production of wells owned by others. A report that the purchase by Standard Oil of the Texas and Pacific Coal and Oil Company was contemplated was denied by interests identified with the latter company. This company, incidentally, is to vote on a proposal to increase its capital from $6,000,000 to $10,000,000 at the forthcoming annual meeting to be held April 21.

The New York Central equipment financing was officially announced yesterday. The amount of the issue is $36,225,000, to bear 7 per cent. and to mature serially, $2,415,000 each year from April 15, 1921, to April 15, 1935. The certificates are being offered at par by a syndicate composed of J. P. Morgan & Co., the First National Bank, the National City Company, the Guaranty Trust Company and Harris, Forbes & Co.

In describing the arrangement under which the New York Central will lease the equipment from the Trustee, the official circular says:

"The title to the equipment is to be vested in the Trustee, and is to be leased by the Trustee to the New York Central Railroad Company at a rental sufficient to pay the certificates and dividend warrants as they mature. That company in turn, and without impairment of its obligation for the entire rental, may make sub-leases of such of the equipment as it may determine, severally, to one or more of the following New York Central lines, viz.:

"The Michigan Central Railroad Company.

"The Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railway Company.

"The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Company.

"The Toledo & Ohio Central Railway Company.

"The several obligations of such sublessees to make payments on account of such equipment if leased to them or any of them are to be assigned respectively to the Trustee as further provision for the payment of the certificates."

PASS SUSPENDED RATE BILL

Gibbs Measure Affects Telephone, Telegraph and Power Concerns.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, April 9.—Representatives of the telephone interests in the lobbies of the Legislature scored at least a partial and temporary victory in the Senate today when that body passed the Gibbs bill empowering the Public Service Commission to suspend increased rates pending final determination, but so amended as to nullify the suspension provision, which is the central feature of the measure.

The amendment was made several days ago over the head of the introducer, Senator L. W. H. Gibbs of Erie, after he had made a speech denouncing "the most insidious lobby ever encountered in the Senate." It would permit the telephone companies to go on charging increased rates promulgated by them, despite protests from the Commission, by merely filing a bond to insure refund to subscribers in the event that the final decision of the Public Service Commission should be an adverse one.

Today the Gibbs bill went through without dissent or debate and goes into the Assembly Committee on Rules. In its present form the bill extends the suspension to gas and electric light and heat and steam heating companies, as well as to telegraph and telephone companies.

WILL FIGHT SPECIAL RATES FOR SOUTH

HOPE FOR A NEW HEARING

Members Believe Suspension of Present Tariffs Can Be Brought About Soon.

Commercial organizations along the North Atlantic Seaboard are going to continue their opposition to the preferential freight rates granted to Southern Atlantic and Gulf ports. A general and special committee was appointed yesterday to co-operate in pushing the matter. It was the opinion of the representatives who met in the library of the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York, at the call of two committees of the Chamber, that the Trunk Line Association should complain to the Interstate Commerce Committee on the unfairness of the situation. This, it is believed, will result in a suspension of the present rates, which were initiated only to relieve transportation congestion during the war, and in a subsequent hearing at which the big economic loss due to the present system will be presented.

The first body elected was a joint committee, consisting of those representatives of commercial organizations who attended, with Francis H. Sisson, Vice President of the Guaranty Trust Company, as Chairman. It will be the work of this body to bring about the co-operation of similar commercial interests in the fight against the present discriminatory freight rates. The second committee is composed of Delos W. Cooke, J. C. Lincoln, C. E. Campbell, G. S. Henderson and R. N. Collyer, Chairman of the Trunk Line Association. This body will present a memorial to the Trunk Line Association in the latter's objections to the rates in question.

J. C. Lincoln of the Merchants' Association told the gathering just how unfair the present rates were. He asserted that the rates which went into effect a long time after the war and were designed as a war measure, made the rate from certain territory to Gulf ports 3 mills per ton mile, as compared with a rate of 7 mills per ton mile to New York and other North Atlantic ports. The territory which is now being tapped by the South Atlantic and Gulf ports is that part of the country embracing the Pittsburgh and Chicago districts, where most of the iron and steel tonnage of the country originates.

Mr. Sisson drew attention to the fact that not only should the extra haulage to Southern ports be realized as a great economic loss, but in addition the fact should not be lost sight of that many of the vessels returning from Atlantic voyages come back in ballast, as there are no important cargoes for distribution from those ports.

According to Mr. Cooke, politics played an important part in putting through the preferential rates after the emergency for their application had ceased.

Moscow Expects Truce with Finns.

LONDON, April 9.—Moscow wireless reports say the Finnish Government is prepared to send delegates to Terijoki (on the Finnish-Russian frontier) on April 10 to negotiate a truce. The Soviet Government announces its decision to accept Finland's proposal.

THE CONDITION OF TRADE.

A renewal of freight embargoes as a result of strikes in the West and elsewhere has been interfering with the normal trade conditions, according to the weekly review of R. G. Dunn & Co. Maximum outputs in many lines of business are impossible because of this uncertainty. In discussing the situation the review says in part:

Changed weather conditions, with unseasonal temperatures in various sections and snowfall in some places, fortunately came too late to prevent a record Easter business, but have since retarded retail distribution of Spring merchandise, and have somewhat hampered outdoor activities. Railroad strikes in the West and elsewhere have been an added drawback, causing renewed freight embargoes and further delaying shipments at a time when transportation obstacles were beginning to be surmounted, and when manufactures were making headway in reducing accumulated contracts. While production results, notably in the great iron and steel industry, are more favorable, maximum outputs are not possible in many instances, owing to shortage of help or inability to secure adequate supplies of materials, and tardy deliveries of goods acts as a supporting element in the price situation.

Bradstreet's says:

Insistent call for housing and business accommodation is finding a response in a quickened activity in building which, as shown by Bradstreet's figures for March, though hampered somewhat by increasing labor demands and high cost and scarcity of materials, displays a remarkable expansion over this time last year as well as a decided gain over a month ago.

The persistence of general demand continues to be reflected in the firmness of prices and in the strength of the stock market. An element of unsettlement has been injected into the situation by the outlaw switchmen's strike, which, beginning in a small way in Chicago last week, has now spread from coast to coast, and has forced embargoes on freight that have seriously checked distribution, but the fact that the great railroad brotherhoods are joining with the managements of the roads in an effort to break the tie-up affords hope that it will not be of long duration.

NEW HAVEN INCOME INCREASES $353,934

But Federal Settlements Cause a Debit Balance Amounting to $877,060.

NET REVENUES $2,397,520

Need for Increasing Capacity Is Emphasized in Summary of Road's Requirements.

The corporate income account of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company for 1919, which has just been issued, shows an increase in net income of $353,934, to $2,397,460 from 1918. From this item there was deducted $3,274,520, the net amount of settlements made by the United States Railroad Administration of revenues and expenses applying to the period before Jan. 1, 1918, in accordance with the ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission. This left a balance of $877,060 to be transferred to the debit of profit and loss.

The Federal income account for the year, which is contained in the report for purposes of comparison, shows railway operating revenues were $100,545,120, an increase over 1918 of $4,250,908, which was more than offset by an increase of $4,726,858 in total railway operating revenues to $92,473,381. Thus net revenue from railway operation showed a decrease of $475,950 to $14,071,738. After other charges were deducted railway operating income was $10,273,265, a decrease of $1,042,057 from the 1918 figures.

Gross Federal income was $11,798,863 and Federal net income after the addition of the adjustments made before January, 1918, was shown to have increased $1,295,913, to $10,222,751. The ratio of operating expenses to total operating revenues according to the Federal accounts was 86.79 per cent., while the ratio of operating expenses and taxes increased to 90.33 per cent. Discussing rate increases, the report to stockholders says:

Summarizing the necessity for increasing capacity, your company must provide such transportation that the requirements of the many communities depending entirely upon it will be met, otherwise the prosperity of its territory which is necessary for its own prosperity, will diminish. Satisfaction, support and good-will of the public will result from proper service. The improvement in working conditions will increase the effective results, as well as the interest and loyalty of employes. All of these factors will operate toward the maximum net income. From whatever angle of view, the maintenance of the property in condition to normally meet the commercial demands is not only necessary, but promises in the end to be the most satisfactory and profitable.

Time will be required for rehabilitation, readjusting rates, securing funds, enlarging capacity and developing the service desired. Continued assistance of the public is essential, and is asked. Its forbearance must be sought in the matters of demands for unremunerative service and non-compensatory improvements. Its considerate attitude, support and aid in many directions has proved most helpful to officers and employes. Its criticisms of matters that can be remedied and its constructive suggestions are requested.

BAY STATE TO SAVE LIGHT.

Rhode Island Assembly Also Passes Bill—Senate May Reject It.

BOSTON, April 9.—The Daylight Saving bill was signed by Governor Coolidge today. It becomes effective April 25.

The act provides that standard time in this State shall be advanced one hour at 2 A. M. on the last Sunday in April in the current year, and shall be retarded one hour at 2 A. M. on the last Sunday in October.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 9.—The Daylight Saving bill was today referred to the Senate Committee on Special Legislation. It was passed yesterday by the House. As the Senate committee is regarded as hostile to the proposed act, there is a prospect of an unfavorable report.

The Mayor of Providence has announced that he will call a special meeting of the City Council within a few days to pass an ordinance providing for daylight saving for this city.

SPANISH BUDGET PASSES.

Editor, Struck in the Debate, Challenges a Deputy.

MADRID, April 9.—The Budget bill, which has been before the Cortes for several months and which has threatened at times to bring about a Ministerial crisis, was passed this morning shortly after 2 o'clock.

Debate on the increase in the price of paper occupied some time last evening, and resulted in an argument between Senor Prieto, Socialist, and Ossorio Luca de Tena y Alvarez, Director of newspaper A B C, which culminated in the Deputy's striking the editor in the face. Augusto Barcia, another Deputy, made a speech regarding the amount of money the A B C owes the public treasury, and, in consequence, Senor Luca de Tena has sent a challenge to the Deputy.

TORONTO

For Canadian Commerce

TWO hundred years ago where the trails of the hardy Indians came together on the shores of Ontario there was a place known as "to-ron-to," meaning "the meeting place." The white man established a fort there in 1749. Nearly a century later (1834) the City of Toronto was incorporated.

TODAY Toronto is a meeting place for the commerce of the Dominion. It has one of the most beautiful natural harbors in America, formed by a picturesque island sand bar of about 2,000 acres and now being vastly improved through the expenditure of $24,000,000. Improvements comprise reclaiming 1000 acres for the creation of areas for industrial concerns to be known as the Harbor Terminal Industrial District; deepening the entire harbor, constructing permanent breakwaters and concrete piers and building boulevards and parks.

HEAD OFFICE TORONTO

TORONTO is the focal point of the great banking system of The Canadian Bank of Commerce. 504 branches of this institution located throughout the Dominion are directed through the executive offices in Toronto. American business men find these exceptional facilities for the transaction of all forms of banking business, either in Canada or abroad, readily available through offices in New York, San Francisco, Seattle and Portland, (Oregon.)

BREAK IN COTTON ENDS EARLY RALLY

MARKET DULL AFTER TURN

Railroad Strike and Higher Money Rates Influence Reaction—Week's Exports Low.

Further bad weather reports, containing word of heavy rains and cold over almost the whole belt, sent cotton prices up again at the start of yesterday's market, and before the rally had run its course the gains had established new high records for the distant months and had lifted May up to the 41½ cent high record level of the day before. The weather completely dominated the market all through the forenoon and much more than offset other developments which ordinarily would have had a depressing effect.

But in the afternoon the market turned easy. The railroad strike and the realization of higher money rates, together with the none too satisfactory European situation, began to exercise some influence on the market at that time, and when week-end evening-up sales began to come in prices sold off sharply. By the middle of the afternoon all options further distant than July were selling under the previous night's closing, and, while May and July never got down to net losses on the day, they reacted with the rest of the list and got very close to their previous closing levels.

These late low figures seemed to take all the zest out of the market, for after they were reached trading became very dull, and, without any leadership on the up side, the market simply loafed along to the close, ending about at the day's lows.

This late reaction was not of the kind to discourage the bull element. It was a quiet and orderly affair, and the kind of reaction which frequently develops in just such markets as we have been having. With the weather fine, and with good promise for today, many local traders closed out accounts last night in anticipation of an informal holiday over the week-end.

Exports yesterday amounted to 24,894 bales, most of which went to the Orient out of Pacific ports. For the full week the exports totaled 102,188 bales, against 142,100 bales the previous week.

by water lying immediately south of the aforementioned tract of land, the same being bounded on the north by the southerly limit of Lake Street, on the East by the lands patented to J. H. That certain tract of land covered by water lying immediately south of water Lot No. 15 before mentioned, being bounded on the north by the southerly limit of Lake Street, on the east of that parcel of land patented to the City of Toronto on December 18th, 1893, on the south by the new windmill line, and on the west by the easterly limit of lands patented to the City of Toronto on December 18th, 1893, and further known as Lot 4, Parcel 2 of the water lots between the old and new windmill lines.

In the year 1909 negotiations were had between the Company and the City of Toronto with respect to purchase by the Company of the property mentioned above as Lot (G); subsequently and in or about the year 1911 negotiations were commenced with the City of Toronto looking to the closing of Frederick Street—being Lot (F) above mentioned—and to the leasing by the City to the Company of said lots (F) and (G) above mentioned; subsequently it is said the City of Toronto conveyed the said lots to the Toronto Harbor Commissioners subject to a lease to the Company, which lease, however, had not been executed by the City of Toronto—in pending litigation between the Toronto Harbor Commissioners as Plaintiffs and the Company as Defendants. The Company contends that it is entitled to a lease of lots (F) and (G) from the Toronto Harbor Commissioners upon the following terms:—the lease to run for the term of forty years from 1912 at an annual rental of $2,[illegible] for the first twenty-one years and $[illegible] for the last nineteen years of the said term, and taxes and said rent to be payable quarterly, and the Company alleges that the lease among other provisions provides for the closing of a portion of Frederick Street by the City of Toronto and the erection of a dry dock by the Company.

ALLOWS CITY TO RUN STATEN ISLAND CARS

Judge Chatfield Decides That Receiver and Administration May Close Negotiations.

LAGUARDIA IN CONFERENCE

Agrees to Put Midland Lines in Good Condition, Obtain Cars and Arrange for Power.

Federal Judge Chatfield granted permission to the city yesterday to operate the trolley lines of the Staten Island Midland Railway Company, providing satisfactory arrangements could be made with Jacob A. Brenner, receiver of the company. The permission came in a memorandum prepared by the court at the close of negotiations between Mr. Brenner, the court and F. H. LaGuardia, President of the Board of Aldermen. The company ceased operating its four lines on Jan. 16 because of its failure to obtain from the Board of Estimate permission to increase the fare from 5 cents to 7.

Mr. LaGuardia, on behalf of the city, agreed to put the property into good condition, obtain the cars and to arrange for power. Details awaited proper authorization from the Board of Estimate, but when the matter came before the board yesterday nearly all of the members were in complete ignorance of the matter, so it was agreed to postpone action until Monday. If the city takes over the property it will put a stop to the pending action of the city to deprive the company of its franchises.

City Must Stand Losses.

Judge Chatfield's memorandum states that the duty of the receiver is to meet the demands of the public as far as possible with a due regard to the preservation of the property in his custody and that the receiver must keep up the value of the property for the benefit of its creditors, stockholders, &c. Concerning the responsibility of the city in the event of its getting possession of the property, the memorandum reads:

"The city must hold the receiver harmless for any claims arising from the operation of the road, which he may incur beyond the moneys earned, except in so far as his court may determine such obligations a proper charge against the assets in the receiver's hands. This must include all liabilities by the receiver for charges accruing in favor of the city itself, and such damages as might arise from accidents not due to the personal responsibility of the receiver.

"If the claims of the city that the franchise has been forfeited shall be substantiated by any court of competent jurisdiction, the claims of the city from any benefit arising from the operation of the road will be recognized by the court, and, on the other hand, if the operation of the receiver shall not result in profit over actual expenses, the city must obligate itself to reimburse the receiver for the difference whether or not the present rate of fare fixed by the franchise can be increased."

No Rise in Fare.

The company claimed to have lost $100,000 a year on the five-cent fare basis and unless the city can earn operating expenses it will have to stand a loss. Judge Chatfield says that as long as the company was restricted to a five-cent fare, no more can be charged unless the franchise agreement is modified. Any change in the fare, he says, without consent from the proper authorities, would impair the contracts. He directed that a report be made to him on any agreement reached by the city and the receiver.

It was said the company asked the city to pay a rent of $9 a day for the use of thirty cars, that this price was considered exorbitant and that unless the price was reduced the city would rent cars from the Third Avenue Railway Company, which are standard, and would run on the tracks of the Midland Company without alteration.

Harris, Vought & Co. leased for Mrs. C. N. Robinson, represented by the Brown-Wheelock Company, the five-story store and loft building at 422 Madison Avenue, size 28 by 69.8, for a long term of years to Braus, Inc., art dealer, who will occupy after extensive alterations.

William A. White & Sons leased for Judge Edward R. Finch and others, as trustees, to the Chamberlin Supply Company, for a term of years on a net rental basis, the building at 112 Worth Street. After extensive alterations the upper part of the building will be occupied by the Chamberlin Supply Company, dealers in filing cabinet supplies, and the store and basement by Terzago, Vuolo & Barbieri as a restaurant, the same brokers having sublet to the latter for the same term the store and basement.

The Bank of Chosen, Korea, leased space at 165 Broadway, and not at 21 to 23 Maiden Lane, as was recently reported. William A. White & Sons also negotiated this lease.

LOFT BUILDING SALES.

Boulton of Findon, Sussex, England, 128 West Twenty-third Street, 25 by 100, a five-story business building, which had not changed hands in thirty-five years. With this purchase the company now owns 122 to 128 West Twenty-third Street, 100 by 100, and 119 to 123 West Twenty-second Street, abutting. Ogden & Clarkson were the brokers.

The Lloyd Winthrop Company sold to the Cooper Square Company, 27 East Tenth Street, a seven-story loft building, renting for $12,000 and held at $90,000.

The Charles F. Noyes Company sold for W. Emlen Roosevelt and others for all cash to Collins & Co., 212 Water Street, a five-story loft, 30 by 91, between Fulton and Beekman Streets. The buyers have been tenants for nearly fifty years.

Drops Premium on Silver Mark.

BERLIN, April 8.—The Reichsbank has announced that it will soon withdraw its offer to pay a premium for the silver mark in view of the drop in the price of silver all over the world. Last January, as the result of the premium offer, one silver mark was bringing eight marks in currency. Officials of the Reichsbank say that the difference between the German price and that paid in the world's markets justify the bank in continuing its heavy purchases of silver, which Germany is in a position to export to advantage, thus fortifying her credit abroad. The Deutsche Bank is observing its golden jubilee today.

STRONG DEMAND FOR PRIVATE DWELLINGS

JUSTICE McCOOK A BUYER

Acquires Home on East 57th Street—Other Sales Involve Widely Scattered Holdings.

A strong market developed yesterday for private houses and brought considerable new capital into the realty field. Leases were closed for dwellings in many sections of the city, no particular neighborhood being favored.

The Everett M. Seixas Company sold for Charles Richter 413 East Fifty-seventh Street, a three-story dwelling, to Justice Philip G. McCook of the Supreme Court, who will occupy it after extensive alterations are made to the house.

The five-story residence opposite St. Patrick's Cathedral, which John Pierce built for himself at 11 East Fifty-first Street, on a lot 27 by 100, and later lost through foreclosure to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, has been purchased by a well-known New Yorker for occupancy. It is assessed at $200,000.

The Ladies' Christian Union has sold the three-story structure, 30 by 100.10, at 153 East Sixty-second Street, between Lexington and Third Avenues.

A client of William B. May & Co. has bought the Phelps residence, a 33-foot house, at 30 East Seventy-fifth Street.

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Harrison has sold the residence, 12.6 by 102.2, at 159 East Seventy-eighth Street.

The estate of Maria A. del Rio has sold the four-story residence, on plot 28.4 by 92.6, at 47 West Ninth Street, near Sixth Avenue.

Johnston de Forest has purchased the Ogden estate dwelling at 11 East Ninth Street, a four-story house on lot 25 by 92.

The tenant syndicate movement, which has come to be a prominent feature in the real estate market, continues to grow in popularity. Another of the big upper west side multi-family houses passed into the control of tenants yesterday, and will be operated under a co-operative plan.

Harris and Maurice Mandelbaum and Irving H. Lewine resold Rhinecliff Court an eleven-story elevator apartment house, at the south corner of Riverside Drive and 156th Street; on a plot of five lots. The sellers recently acquired it from the Wille Construction Company.

FEW CHURCHES BUILT.

High Costs Hamper Work of Presbyterian Board.

High costs of building are greatly hampering the churches of America, according to a statement issued yesterday by J. J. Porter, Secretary of the Board of Church Extension of the United Presbyterian Church.

Reviewing the budget of the board Mr. Porter said: "Probably not more than one-third of the churches needed by our own denomination can be built this year, because of the high costs. Requests have been made to the board for grants which will aggregate more than $3,000,000. It is not likely that more than one-third of this amount will be granted. Something more than $50,000 has been allowed within the last two months."

An aggregate of $1,106,000 will become available for new buildings as a result of the New World Movement Campaign for $16,715,268 from April 25 to May 2. But even this grant will care only for the extension work outlined for the current year.

Requests for aid, filed so far, cover a wide range of territory from coast to coast. Many of them are from the smaller towns, where the weaker congregations are unabel to meet the mounting costs of construction.

On Long Island.

William P. Jones has sold for William E. Mansfield to Louis Verbeck the four lots, each 20 by 100, on the west side of Moody Street, 220 feet south of the Merrick Road, Freeport, L. I.

Fish & Marvin sold for the Rickert-Finlay Realty Company to Harry J. Wolf a dwelling on the east side of Glenwood Avenue, between Broadway and Cutter Avenue, Westmoreland, L. I.

CAKE AND COFFEE COST $1.10 IN HOTEL

Patron Complains to Flying Squadron That He Paid 15 Cents to "Get Hat Back."

MUSLIN UP 600 PER CENT.

Soldier Writes That Y. M. C. A. Hut Charges 15 Cents for Three Slices of Tomatoes.

It was reported at the office of the Flying Squadron in the Federal Building yesterday that there had been a renewal of interest on the part of the public in the efforts of the squadron to curb profiteers and the mails again are bringing in a large number of complaints.

One complaint described a chain of restaurants here as "crooks, ghouls and vultures." There also was a complaint that the price of muslin has been increased 600 per cent. in the last few weeks.

Two men complained that a call from the coin box at a leading hotel is 5 cents, but 25 cents from a room. It was also alleged that in this hotel dining room a piece of cake and a cup of coffee cost $1.10, and it costs 15 cents more "to get your hat back" after it is checked.

A soldier wrote from Hoboken:

"On Tuesday I read about some profiteer charging 10 cents for three prunes, and thought it was outrageous. However, on Wednesday I didn't feel quite so hard against him, for upon going into the Hudson Hut, Y. M. C. A., in Hoboken, I found them charging 15 cents for three small slices of tomatoes. Another item that attracted my attention was celery. There were two small stalks for 15 cents."

Another complainant reported a large department store charged what he considered an excessive price for a special make of shoes, recommended especially for people who suffer from fallen arches. "When I called last week," the letter reads, "they told me that a pair of lace shoes now cost $18.25 for second quality and $25 for first quality. I think I used to pay $8.50 for them, but am not certain."

From Brooklyn came a complaint against a butcher. A woman asked the helper the price of a rib roast. She was told it was 41 cents a pound. The "boss" overheard him, stepped over to the helper and, in German, told him to charge 43 cents. "I happened to understand his language," said the complainant, "and told him the helper said 41 cents a pound, but he would not let him sell it to me for less than 43 cents." She also reported other butcher shops.

The first complaint against the high prices charged by laundries was registered. In a well-known Brooklyn laundry, it was said, "collars are now 6 cents; 19 cents for a shirt; 7 cents for washing socks; pajamas, 15 cents for coat and 15 cents for pants. Some prices, and all members of firm buying automobiles and rolling in wealth."

In three blocks from East Fifteenth Street to Coney Island Avenue, on Avenue J, butchers are charging 15 to 20 cents more a pound for meat than downtown Brooklyn, one complaint said.

A chain store was accused in a complaint of selling second-grade eggs for first-grade eggs.

CONSIDERING OFFERS FOR 29 GERMAN LINERS

Shipping Board Trying to Frame Contracts for Operation Pending Court Decision.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Offers of large shipping interests to purchase, subject to the lifting of the legal ban, the twenty-nine former German passenger liners taken over by the Government in the course of the war are under consideration by the Shipping Board.

Chairman Benson, in making this announcement tonight, said that while action was pending in the District of Columbia court to make permanent a temporary injunction forbidding the sale of the vessels, shipping concerns had also submitted proposals that the liners be allocated to them for service under an optional agreement to purchase should the courts later permit this.

The form of operating contract being worked out to meet these conditions provides that the operators shall recondition the liners for passenger service at their expense and put them in commission under the board's supervision pending an absolute sale.

Chairmen of the Senate Committees on Commerce, Appropriations and Merchant Marine, and the Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee were asked today by the Shipping Board to attend the conference with business men called for April 15 to consider the problem of turning over to private ownership the Government-owned merchant marine.

IN-B-TWEEN
Four Inches of a 25¢ Cigar

"Spare those 25¢ Cigars!"

"NEW YORKERS are cruel to good cigars. And cruel to their pocketbooks. They touch off a big cigar, smoke an inch or two, are interrupted, get busy, forget—and leave a long, stale, ice-cold butt to tell the story of their extravagance.

"That's a savage way to treat good tobacco and good money.

"In-B-Tweens are 'small portions' of high quality—the best 'four inches of a 25c cigar.' If you want to dash off a smoke, don't dash it off the end of a long, expensive cigar. I say smoke In-B-Tweens."

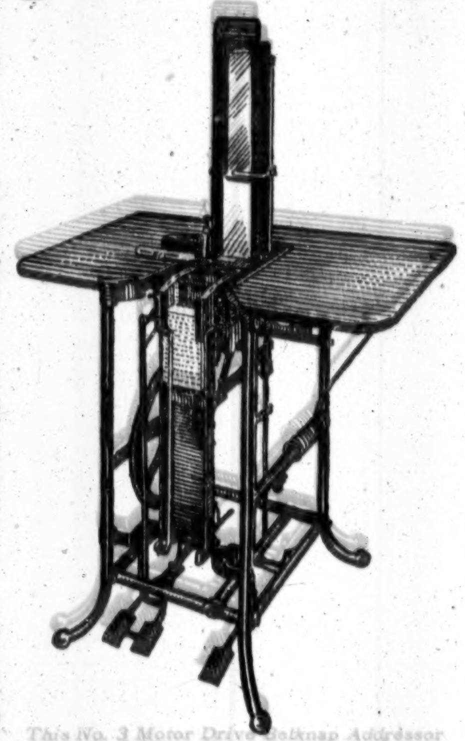
You Pay MOST for the LEAST Addressing Efficiency!

So, why not have 100 per cent Belknap Efficiency? It Costs the Least!

IT'S the business that is "getting along well enough" with some half-way addressing system where the cost of addressing work comes high.

You are paying the cost of addressing efficiency today!—over-paying for it, without enjoying it. And you will keep on paying for it, in leaks and wastage, to several times the cost of an efficient Belknap System—until you install one.

Then the cost virtually ceases; addressing efficiency is effective; there is no more waste; nothing except a nominal upkeep expense—and EFFICIENCY! Why not have it?



This No. 3 Motor Drive Belknap Addressor addresses 15,000 to 25,000 names a day

You are half-equipped for it right now!

Any business with a typewriter, and a stenographer to operate it, is more than half equipped for Belknap Addressing Efficiency.

Your regular office typewriter is the only machine needed to cut a Belknap Addressing Stencil. Your stenographer can cut it, just as she would address an envelope.

After that it is just a question of using the stencils as often as you need them. And when you need them a Belknap Addressor will hustle through the job for you with mechanical infallibility and more than human intelligence, at the rate of 1,500 to 14,000 per hour, depending on the type of machine your business seems to need.

We will be very glad to send you a book we published some time ago, telling more about Belknap Systems of Addressing. Have your stenographer write for it—or if you prefer, we will ask one of our expert Service Men to call any time you suggest. Anyone of these men is thoroughly experienced and equipped to get to the heart of your addressing problem in short order.

A personal talk is generally more satisfactory, so write or phone when you would like our Representative to call.

You cannot tell a Kaufman from a high-priced Hat!

—you cannot get more wear out of a high-priced hat than out of a Kaufman.

—you cannot choose from as wide a variety of styles in buying a high-priced hat as in selecting a Kaufman Hat.

—in short, you cannot find any real reason why you should pay $7 or $8 for a hat when you can buy a Kaufman for half as much—and only your pocketbook will know the difference.

Fur and Fun

I GET a lot of fun out of my business by giving better value for less money.

This Spring, I'm having more fun than a small boy at the circus, because the Australian rabbit fur I bought two years ago at less than half what it costs today, makes it possible for me to do stunts that other hatters call "merchandising miracles."

I can't pull a rabbit out of a silk hat with my sleeves rolled up, but I'm making soft hats out of imported rabbit's fur this Spring for $3.85, that have all the quality you want in a good hat, and all the style you can get anywhere at any price.

For the young fellow who has been looking for something different since the first Armistice Day, I've got a nifty, new turban brim, with a bow in the back.
